TAFT GETS OVATION.

Great Triumph in Baltimore.

Editor of The Times Tells of Record-breaking Meeting of Republicans.

Enthusiasm of Vast Crowd Has No Bounds—Cheers Stop Speaker.

Demonstration Is Certain Harbinger of Maryland's Action Next Month.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BALTIMORE (Md.) Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch. Not once in the course of this campaign has Judge Taft met with a grander ovation than was accorded him tonight in the Maryland metropolis.

Both in its monster attendance and in the enthusiasm of the spectators, the meeting was a record-breaker. Old inhabitants are quoted as saying that the greeting given the Republican candidate here tonight eclipses any that has been tendered a political celebrity within recent years. It was indeed a most extraordinary affair, drawing crowds from every corner of the State and from adjoining States as well.

The enthusiasm of the vast concourse had no bounds and there were times when Judge Taft was forced to suspend his remarks, so great were the approving demonstrations.

CERTAIN HARBINGER.

This night's remarkable indorsement is a certain harbinger of the action of Maryland's voters two weeks hence. Nobody who saw the thousands of Taft supporters that waited for hours, merely to catch a glimpse of their favorite, and who were utterly unable to get within hearing distance of him, even when he addressed the overflow meeting in the open air, could for a moment doubt his having already won the electoral vote of his conservative old commonwealth.

The speaker seemed imbued with the same enthusiasm that pervaded his mighty audience and he made one of the happiest and most telling speeches of his campaign. Among his hearers were many solid men who in the past have cast their lot with the Democratic party, but who regard Taft as superbly fitted for the high office of President and who could not be induced to vote for his opponent on any terms. It is this independent and conscientious element in the electorate of Maryland that will give the State to the Republicans.

NO HOPE FOR BRYAN.

Many even of the regulars, who never scratch a ticket, are giving Bryan but half-hearted support.

His unpopularity here has been twice attested and there is nothing to show that he has any better status with the people than in 1896 and 1900 in both of which elections Maryland recorded herself against him.

Judges figure that Maryland will go for Taft this year by not less than 10,000. Some of the prominent members of the Democracy privately admit that Bryan's slim prospect of winning has altogether faded in view of what occurred here this evening. Every Taft man in Baltimore is jubilant and the town looks as though a festival were in progress.

TAFT PILLORIES BRYAN POLICIES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BALTIMORE, (Md.) Oct. 19.—Hitting straight at his opponent, with even more force than in the North, West or South, Judge Taft today carried his campaign to the very doors of New York City and gave a clear indication of the character of the speeches he will make in the Empire State next week.

Mr. Taft spent three hours in Newark, an hour in Wilmington, and the entire evening in Baltimore. He encountered tremendous crowds and enthusiasm, spontaneous and ample.

His extended efforts of the day were at Newark, Elizabeth and Baltimore. At Newark he gave attention to all the issues save labor. In his Elizabeth speech he dwelt solely on the labor question, and tonight he combined the Newark and Elizabeth speeches.

The zest with which Delaware received the candidate resulted in curtailing the Wilmington speech to a few lines.

"I can only say to you," he remarked, "that from what I have seen in New Jersey today and what I have seen in Delaware today, and what I saw in the South and West the last three weeks I am going to be elected, and it would give me the greatest pride if in that electoral vote I could have the three from Delaware."

THE REAL ISSUE.

"The real issue of the campaign is," said Mr. Taft toight, "whether you think the Republican party, by what it has done in the last twelve years, is entitled to your confidence. Even if it has done something to displease you, is it not much to be preferred to the Democratic party under any circumstances, considering the history of that party, and considering the peculiarities—to use no more offensive expression—of the leadership of that party?"

The acts of the Republican party were then recounted. Establishing the gold standard, repealing the Wil-

RICH CHICAGO MAN NOW WANTS A DIVORCE.

Mrs. Owen Burns Denies Her Husband's Charges and Asserts That He "Tried to Flirt With a 15-Year-old Dancer in The Hague"—Court Reserves Decision.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Owen Burns, of Chicago and New York, has sued his pretty wife, Dorothy, for divorce, charging that his bride of May 13, 1905, has received too much attention. He names fellow-members of the exclusive Calumet Club of Chicago.

Mrs. Burns denies the charges, and today May & Jacobson applied to Justice Truax in the Supreme Court for alimony and counsel fees for her. To fix the rate of alimony, it was alleged that Mr. Burns had kept a magnificent establishment with servants and a chauffeur, and has, since their separation, paid $125 a month for her apartments in Chicago.

Mrs. Burns says that her husband often told her his income was over $30,000 a year. She avers he is worth at least three-quarters of a million.

After denying that she was too friendly with any of the co-respondents named by her husband, Mrs. Burns says that their honeymoon was spent in a trip to Salt Lake City and the coast. Afterwards they went to Europe.

"While we dined at The Hague last New Year's night," declares the affidavit, "with Mr. and Mrs. Hinzee of Chicago, and Marquis Belgrano and his daughter and Mme. Beauchesne, Isadora Duncan, the dancer, and her young class, were at another table, and my husband flirted or tried to flirt with one of them, a 15-year-old girl."

Her Son's Connection With Defunct A. O. Brown & Co. Cost Mrs. M. E. Young Over a Million Dollars—Money Loaned Used in Many Wildcat Schemes.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Mrs. Minnie E. Young, mother of Lewis Ginter Young, a member of the failed brokerage firm of A. O. Brown & Co., told at today's session of the investigation into the affairs of the firm, of having made large loans to that firm in 1906 and shortly before the firm failed.

While she was testifying her son wrote a statement declaring that his connection with the firm had cost his mother $1,100,000, a large part of which was lost in the collapse of San Domingo Gold and Copper Company.

Mrs. Young testified that she loaned 2000 shares of preferred stock of the American Tobacco Company and $50,000 worth of that company's bonds to A. O. Brown & Co., in 1906, and thereafter was paid $1000 a month for the loan. She was also paid $1000 a month for her part of the financing of the Whitney syndicate, which was one of the ventures in which A. O. Brown & Co. were interested.

Shortly before the failure, Mrs. Young said she loaned the firm $100,000 worth of securities to enable them to get their checks certified. This was returned to her on the day on which she loaned it.

Snow and Sleet Fall in New Mexico, and Cold Rain in Kansas.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA FE (N. M.) Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Snow fell last night in Central and Northern New Mexico and some sleet fell here. The temperature dropped here from 85 at noon to 40 during the night. A gale blew all night and considerable damage is reported all over the New Mexican plains section.

RAIN IN KANSAS.

Marriage Would Make West Virginia Girl Edward's Relative.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Now King Edward, whose reputation for tact has been much impaired during the past few weeks, has added to the entanglements of the Abruzzi-Elkins match.

Following the more or less official announcement of the Giornale d'Italie that King Victor Emmanuel has not only granted permission for the marriage, but has agreed that Miss Elkins shall be received as a royal princess, comes now the report that the influence of the English court is also being used against this democratic marriage.

The reason for this is that it will stand in the way of the projected betrothal of the Count of Turin and the Princess Patricia of Connaught. The Count was once jilted by "Princess Pat," who was recently reported betrothed to the young King of Portugal, but that match did not suit the King, who had about arranged a betrothal with Turin again.

Prince Victor Emmanuel, Count of Turin, is the elder brother of the Duke of the Abruzzi, and both are cousins of the King of Italy. The Princess Patricia is the daughter of the Duke of Connaught, and therefore niece of King Edward.

The marriage of the Duke of the Abruzzi to Miss Elkins and the union of the Count of Turin and the Princess Patricia would therefore make Miss Elkins a sister-in-law of King Edward's niece, a relationship which does not seem to appeal to the British monarch.

The English court does not care to acquire West Virginia relatives in this roundabout way, and it is believed in Paris that the Turin-Connaught match is determined to take an American bride into the royal Italian family.

LUGANO (Switzerland) Oct. 19.—During last night a bronze statue of George Washington was removed from the top of a monument on the quay here, and it is believed, thrown into the lake by rowdies.

The inhabitants of the town are indignant at the outrage. The statue was made in 1851 for the country home of an American resident. Subsequently it was purchased by the municipality.

Automobile Procession Escorts Democratic Candidate to Speaking Place With Red Fire.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—W. J. Bryan arrived in this city tonight at 8 o'clock in a blaze of glory, after an all-day trip through the State.

A dense throng assembled at the Union Station to greet him as his special pulled in, an hour and fifteen minutes late, and a procession of fifty automobiles escorted him to Pilsen Park, where he addressed a great throng.

As he emerged from the station, a great quantity of red fire and Roman candles were set off, the crowd all the while wildly cheering.

As the long procession of motor cars passed down the streets their occupants continued the pyrotechnic display.

From Pilsen Park the Democratic candidate was escorted to Arcade Hall, where another big crowd was on hand and accorded him an ovation.

HALF THE MONEY RAISED.

SEATTLE, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The State of Washington has already forwarded to the Republican National Campaign Committee the sum of $10,000 for use outside this State.

This is one-half the sum asked from Washington by the committee. Seattle leads in the list of contributions, with Spokane second, Bellingham third and Tacoma fourth. Aberdeen reports that there will be $1000 available there next week. Judge R. A. Ballinger, under whose direction the fund has been collected, stated today that indications now point to the entire $20,000 being subscribed in the State within the next seven days.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Papers have been served on Max Schwartz, of No. 802 Park avenue, in a suit brought against him by John Schwartz, a chef in a prominent hotel, for alienation of his wife's affections. The chef asks $50,000 damages.

Mrs. Schwartz lives at No. 827 Park avenue and is an expert corsetier. Her husband alleges that "the defendant wrongfully contrived to deprive the plaintiff of his wife's comfort, society and aid, and maliciously enticed her away from him to divers public resorts and hotels, and alienated the affections of his wife by means of presents, promises and seductive and deceitful acts and wiles."

He is represented by Samuel Goldstein.

If Powers Can Agree to This Plan It Will Leave Nothing for the Proposed International Congress to Do but Ratify the Arrangements When It Meets.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The latest phase of the Balkan difficulty points to the possibility of the most serious issues being settled by direct negotiations before the proposed international congress meets, leaving to the congress merely the work of ratifying and legalizing arrangements already made.

Confirmation is had from Vienna of the statement that negotiations have been opened between Turkey and Austria concerning the Bosnia and Herzegovina question, with fair prospects of success; while Constantinople dispatches are more hopeful that Bulgaria and Turkey will reach an understanding on the oriental railroad and Roumelian tribute questions. The Bulgarian charge d'affaires today informed Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Secretary, that his government authorized him to give most positive assurance that Bulgaria would take every possible step to avoid war with Turkey.

HOME IS MENACED BY OFFICE WOMAN.

"Business Woman Is a Love Pirate and Cannot Help It," Says Heart-sick Wife Who Is Seeking a Divorce from Her Wealthy Husband.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "The girl in the down-town office is a constant menace to the wife in the home.

"She is a love pirate, whether she intends to be or not. She is the bird of brilliant plumage that fascinates and lures men from the gray respectability of the home."

In this remarkable statement, Mrs. Benedetto Allegretti, who has just secured a decree of separate maintenance from her husband, the River-street candy manufacturer, charging that he had been fascinated by Mary McLain, a pretty Scottish maiden, known as "The Candy Heart Girl," today summed up her judgment on "the woman in business."

Mrs. Allegretti said that, consciously or unconsciously, the business woman's husband exerts an influence for evil on the man, who cannot help contrasting her neat gowns, her well-kept hands, her trimly-shod feet, her picture hats, and her care-free, smiling face, with the busy homekeeping wife in her gingham gown.

"It is impossible that a man and a girl can associate constantly in an office without eliminating that reserve which would exist had the man met the girl only in her home or in some social way. The fact is that in a short time, the man gets to know the girl better than her own mother knows her, for there always is sex element to be reckoned with.

Assert Hearst Paid Crooks Well.

White Man and Negro Start Saloon With Profits of Deal.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Under the headline, "Mr. Hearst's Thieves," Collier's Weekly will publish tomorrow what purports to be the true story of the manner in which the founder of the Independence League obtained the John D. Archbold Standard Oil letters which have figured so prominently in the Presidential campaign.

The editor of Collier's describes the article as "the story of a white man who crossed the color line and his negro friend, the stepson of John D. Archbold's aged butler; how they sold the Standard Oil office files to the Hearst newspapers for a trifle over $11,000." The article in part is as follows:

"It was Willis Winfield and Charley Stump, you see, who sold the John D. Archbold Standard Oil letters (about Sibley and Senator Parker and other intimates of No. 26 Broadway) to Mr. Hearst for a trifle over $11,000.

"It looked like a lot of money then," says Charley Stump. "What is $11,000 or $15,000? A few thousands don't last long at the gambling and the rest."

CAN'T TAP WILLIE AGAIN.

William W. Winfield, the negro, was the file clerk, messenger and confidential tender of John D. Archbold until 1903. He is the stepson of John D. Archbold's trusted and now aged negro butler, James N. Wilkins.

"I will tell you an odd thing," says Winfield. "Archbold is a big man, isn't he? And he knows a lot of big men; but he's more afraid of me. I was with him ten years. Stump was there six years—he came in 1899. I taught him all he knew."

"I've never been able to do much business with Archbold," says Stump, "since I sold the letters—a little money once in a while, $75 one time, $10 another time, but nothing much. I don't understand how Willie keeps next. And yet we've stirred up the campaign for fair.

"I wrote a letter to Mr. Hearst when he began reading the Archbold letters, saying that, considering the sensation they were making, he ought to send me a little money. There's no use trying to see him. You can't get through the office force. But no money has come from that letter.

PHOTOGRAPHIC COPIES.

"And yet, do you know, Mr. Hearst hasn't begun to read the best of the letters. He's beginning easy. Wait till you hear him read the Senator Penrose and the Senator Aldrich letters. Then there'll be a sensation. What's happening now is nothing.

"He hasn't the originals, you know. They were returned to the Standard Oil files. Photographic copies were made, and they are the ones Hearst is using. He hasn't the originals, except a few Hanna letters, which may not come out at all.

"After the photographed copies of the letters were sold to the Hearst people some of the letters were returned to Mr. Archbold by a friend of mine (Stump gave me his name, which is here suppressed because he is living honestly.) Mr. Archbold had offered us $1000, but he didn't pay it after he got his hands on the letters.

"We knew that it was too much risk to steal the originals, and then keep them. J. D. A. would be sure to ask some day for some one of them, and where would we be? So we had to photograph them and then return them.

STUMP AT HEARST'S OFFICE.

"Willis fetched the stuff to me, but he never showed up at the Hearst office at all. They've never laid eyes on him. It's me that stands to lose on any publicity. Willie has nothing to lose. He's got his Tarrytown home. He's fixed, living there with his stepfather, who has the job with Archbold.

"You know, Willie has always denied his guilt. He actually brought suit against Mr. Archbold at the time of his dismissal, paid a lawyer to prepare the papers, and everything. He's a reckless fellow."

It was at the close of 1904 that Willie Winfield brought the Archbold correspondence in bargain lots to his good friend, Charley Stump, and made him, the white man, the actual negotiator at the Hearst office in Park Row.

Soon after the Presidential election of 1904 Stump became a familiar figure of nights in the editorial rooms of William Randolph Hearst's New York newspapers. He had many whispered conferences, calling two or three times a week for many weeks. Along toward the end of his visits he became generally known to managing editors and other authorities of the office, including, of course, the office boys, as "the man with the Standard Oil letters."

It was known that with two high officials in the Hearst office he and a photographer met in the photograph rooms of the newspaper. A safe in the office became known as "the safe with

NOBLESSE OBLIGE.

APPEALS FOR LARGER LIFE.

Would Have Idle Women Work for Mankind.

Factory Inspector Demands Right to Vote.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BUFFALO (N. Y.) Oct. 19.—At the convention here today of the National American Suffragist Association, it was announced that Ray Costello and Elena Randall, English suffragists, will at the close of the convention, accompany the Rev. Anna Howard Shaw to Denver, where they will remain until after the election, for the purpose of watching the women vote.

Delegates from California and other States related their experiences in trying to get favorable action on woman suffrage measures before the Legislatures. Abigail Scott Dunniway of Oregon made a report for that State.

Miss Gordon's appeal was to the privileged young women of America for a democratic spirit of "noblesse oblige" to replace the self-indulgence of new almost useless lives, and the attitude of "Lady Bountiful" charity with which so many, as she put it, are now apparently satisfied.

"Picture to yourself what it would mean to this country," she said, "if thousands of young women who now spend day after day with no definite object to work toward, would awaken to the debt they owe to 'helpers of mankind' who have gone before, leaving the world so much better for their having been here, and decide that from out of the fullness which has descended upon them, they would give back to the world an equal value in public service.

"Think what it would mean to bring their trained minds and great wealth and leisure to the study of the economic conditions which are represented in the underpaid services and long hours of their less fortunate sisters in the mills and factories throughout this broad land!

"Think what it would mean if, from the protection with which their wealth and position surrounds them, they took their stand on the great question of the dual code of morality!

"Think what it would mean to the little children being stunted, mentally and physically, in our mills and factories, if these thousands of young women, many of them enjoying the wealth made out of these little human souls, if they refused to wear or buy anything made under any but decent living conditions!

"Think what it would mean if they decided every child should have a seat in school, that every neighborhood should have a playground and a public bath!

"Too long the men and women of leisure and education in America have left the administration of our public affairs to fall into the hands of a class whose conception of the duties involved in public service is of the lowest order. I once heard an address given by Mr. Wind of the Prison Reform Association, in which he said we left the most important positions to be filled by the lowest kinds of political appointees.

"We regarded all such positions as superintendents of penitentiaries and wardens of jails, as unworthy for men of education and social standing, whereas they should be regarded as positions which should demand abilities of the highest order, that is if our penitentiaries and jails are to be regarded as reformatories.

RAISE THE STANDARD.

"I have grown to feel the same way about the positions our women are filling. Instead of being regarded as only fitted for women of ordinary position and intellect all positions, such as superintendents of all reformatories, your matrons, and your woman factory inspectors should be women of position, education, refinement and independent means.

"Then they are above the temptation of graft or the fear of losing the position. Again they are on a social footing with the manufacturers and no mill or factory owner likes to meet the factory inspector at a reception or dining in the home of a mutual friend if he is trying to evade the law. She might tell on him you know before all his friends.

"American women of leisure must awaken to an appreciation of the democratic idea of noblesse oblige. They must learn that the day of alms-giving is passing. The great American public is becoming an educated one and is beginning to resent the hand of charity always being extended when it asks for justice.

"I think the picture of Mary Duffy, of the cap makers' union, at your Legislature last year, deserves to be preserved by your best artist as a type of the awakening American womanhood. As she rose to present the petition from her trades union, asking that women be given the ballot, she turned upon an anti-suffragist who had just finished pleading with the honorable committee 'not to burden her with the duties of citizenship, please to leave her free to carry on her philanthropies and charities.'

"Mary Duffy, tall and trembling with indignation, asked her in a voice ringing with emotion, 'Your charities for whom please? For such as me and mine? We do not want charity, we want justice.'"

New Yorker Tumbles From Tenth Floor to Basement and Is Unhurt.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John Stokes rode on a hoisting machine to the ninth floor of a twelve-story building today. And then John Stokes had a great fall.

He fell through the shaft of the hoisting machine down into the basement of the building, which is really ten stories. When he hit bottom, workmen rushed out to notify the Coroner.

Stokes got up, rubbed his right shoulder, upon which he had landed, and said:

"My gracious! What a fall! Goodness me, what happened?"

WOMAN WHO CAUSED THE MURDER OF ANNIS.

Mrs. Peter C. Hains, whose answer to Capt. Hains's suit for divorce was made public yesterday.

ANOTHER HITCH.

NO ALIMONY FOR MRS. PETER HAINS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The application of Mrs. Claudia Hains for alimony and counsel fees to defend a suit for divorce brought by Capt. Peter C. Hains, Jr., awaiting trial for killing William E. Annis, was denied by Justice Carr in Brooklyn today.

Mrs. Hains request that she be granted the custody of her children was also denied.

Annis was named as co-respondent in Capt. Hains's suit for divorce.

Mrs. Hains's affidavit in reply to her husband's divorce suit was made public today. In it she declared that when Capt. Hains returned from San Francisco to Fort Hancock on Sandy Hook on May 29, last, he accused her of intimacy with William E. Annis, basing his allegations on a letter which Capt. Hains said he had received from his brother, Thomas Jenkins Hains.

TWO MEN FRIENDLY.

Mrs. Hains denied the accusation and at her suggestion Capt. Hains invited Annis to their home after which all three went riding in the Annis automobile. After they returned Mrs. Hains avers the captain and Annis sat up until 3 a.m., drinking and smoking and seemed very friendly.

She declared Capt. Hains did not show his brother's letter to Annis nor ask him to explain the charges. On the following day, Mrs. Haines said, her husband went to call on his father, Gen. P. C. Hains. He returned at 2 a.m., on June 1, and pulling her out of bed again accused her of having had relations with Annis and threatened to shoot her.

Gen. Hains called that day, Mrs. Hains asserted, and upon hearing the captain's accusations, said he would shoot Annis on sight.

Later that day, Capt. Hains's brother, T. J. Hains, called with a lawyer and asked her a lot of questions while she was dazed. At the solicitation of T. J. Hains, Mrs. Hains said she took a drink of whisky, and then, at her husband's order signed a paper which was not read to her. This, she believes, was the confession which they say she made.

That night the post surgeon and some of her friends came and treated her for the rye which Mrs. Hains said she received from the captain. Early the following morning Capt. Hains and his brother entered and with a pistol drove them out.

"My husband told me," Mrs. Hains declared, "that I would have to get out of the house the next day and if my mother would not take me, I should go and live with Annis. As my husband dropped his pistol on the floor his brother said:

"Save that for the other party."

Continuing, Mrs. Hains denied that she had been guilty of any impropriety with Mr. Annis and concluded:

"I believe that my husband's act and the charges which he has made against me have been prompted by his brother, T. Jenkins Hains, who threatened to injure me for refusing his advances. He endeavored several times while my husband was away to make advances, going so far as to enter my room. I repulsed him and he declared that he would be revenged."

Justice Carr in his decision said that Capt. Hains had no means from which to pay either alimony or counsel fees, as his salary has been suspended since his imprisonment, and his own small means are needed for his own defense.

The court also gave as a reason that Mrs. Hains is in a comfortable home with her parents in Massachusetts.

"As to the custody of the children," said Justice Carr, "a similar embarrassment exists. The children are with the father's parents outside this State and the defendant has no home in this State and declares that if she gets possession of the children she will take them to Massachusetts. I feel it inadvisable at this moment to disturb the situation."

Mrs. Hains was given permission to renew her application if the conditions change enough to warrant it.

PITH OF NEWS FROM THE MIDDLE WEST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An extensive storm, with quite general precipitation, has developed in the Rocky Mountain region and on the eastern slope. The temperature has fallen in the Middle States and is near freezing in the Far Northwest. The indications are that the storm will advance eastward, accompanied by general precipitation over this entire district by tomorrow. The temperature will probably rise in the storm's front and fall behind it as it advances eastward. Chicago's maximum temperature today was 60, and the minimum 54 deg. Middle West temperatures:

ENGINEER KILLED IN CRASH.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) Oct. 19.—A special to the State Journal from Newton, Kan., says train No. 17, west-bound, on the Santa Fé Railroad, which left Kansas City last night at 9:30 o'clock, collided head-on with a stock train, east, at Braddock, fifteen miles east of here at 3:45 o'clock this morning, resulting in the death of Engineer David H. Roberts, of the stock extra, and the injuring of twenty-two passengers on train No. 17,' none seriously. Both trains were running at full speed. It is thought that the accident was caused by the crew on No. 17 running by a block signal. Conductor French of Kansas City and Engineer Speckin of Topeka were in charge of train No. 17, and Conductor Plank and Engineer Roberts, both of Emporia, were on the stock extra. About forty head of cattle were killed and the engines were damaged to a considerable extent. Among the passengers injured was T. D. Stamps, Oaks, N.D., lip cut. The cause of the wreck will not be given out officially until determined by investigation, but it is believed to be disobedience of signals. The accident occurred on a piece of single track six miles long, between Braddock and Walton. With the exception of this space the Santa Fé is double tracked between Emporia and Newton, a distance of seventy-three miles.

MILLION FOR PRE-COOLING.

Espee Will Build Two Plants for Chilling Fruit.

Also Insures Suspension of Process of Decay.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—The Southern Pacific Railroad Company has announced its determination to expend $1,000,000 in the near future in the construction of plants for precooling fruit and vegetables, according to the Roy Sprague system, the object being to permit of long hauls of perishable freight with little risk of decay.

The company has been experimenting with the Sprague device for a year, and has found it satisfactory. Two large plants, one at Roseville and one at Colton, will be erected, the first capable of chilling twenty carloads in four hours, and the latter having a capacity of forty carloads in the same time.

To accomplish the same result in an ordinary ice plant would require four days.

The company's scientists have demonstrated that the sudden chilling of vegetables causes an absolute suspension of the process of decay and the company announces the new method practically does away with the loss of time and consequent loss by decay in shipments of California fruits and vegetables to eastern markets.

The Sprague device consists of a plant equipped to force through the loaded cars, under vacuum pressure, blasts of air that have been previously passed over ice. The vacuum removes the warm air, thereby removing the immediate cause of decay.

The plants will be operated in conjunction with the new refrigerator cars adopted by the company recently.

Green deciduous fruit shipments this year are 3000 carloads in excess of those of any previous year, according to railroad figures, and it is thought the use of the Sprague process will raise the total to 20,000 per year.

The plants are within twenty-four hours of any part of the State and it is believed that by means of the better preservative methods it will be possible to pick the fruit when much later than has been the custom, thereby securing a better flavor and consequently higher value.

WESTERN PACIFIC GETS LOAN.

Railway Files Mortgage for Twenty-five Million Dolars—Money for Sinking Fund.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

OAKLAND, Oct. 19.—The Western Pacific filed a $25,000,000 mortgage with the County Recorder today. The loan is secured from the Central Trust Company of New York. The main-line road from Salt Lake City to Oakland, is given as security for the loan, which is to be used as a sinking fund. The mortgage runs for forty-four years, bearing 5 per cent. interest.

The first mortgage on the road was filed Sept. 1, 1903, and was for a loan of $50,000,000. This amount was secured from the Bowling Green Trust Company of New York.

SNOWSTORM DEALS DEATH.

BLIZZARD BRINGS GRIM REAPER IN ITS WAKE.

One Train Wreck and Six Deaths Are Traceable to the Gale Sweeping Colorado—Snow Burden Breaks Electric Wires, Causing Many Serious Injuries in Consequence.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

DENVER, Oct. 19.—Six accidental deaths are traceable to the blinding snowstorm which prevailed in Colorado Saturday night and Sunday. Besides, seven persons sustained serious injuries in railroad collisions, or by coming in contact with live wires.

The dead are:

JOSEPH HENRY, killed by electric wire in Denver.

J. J. M'CLOSKEY, killed by a wire at Louisville, Colo.

MRS. LIZZIE WINSLOW, killed by a wire in her home in Fort Collins.

HENRY JOHN, killed by collision between handcar and motorcar on Union Pacific Railroad in Denver yards.

The storm, accompanied by rain which changed frequently to snow, prevailed throughout Northeastern Colorado for nearly forty-eight hours. In sections of the mountains heavy snow has fallen. Great damage was done to electric wires and telephone and telegraph lines are seriously affected.

Interurban roads have been completely blocked in several places. Narrow escapes from death have been reported at many places, by persons coming in contact with broken wires.

ICY FINANCE.

RUSHING TRIAL OF MORSE AND CURTIS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—With a view to bringing the case to an end at the earliest possible moment, it has been practically decided, according to a report current today to hold night sessions while the court is trying Charles W. Morse and A. H. Curtis on charges of violation of the national banking laws and conspiracy.

The reasons for haste are many, not the least being that the jury, many of whom are men with substantial business interests must, under the court's order, remain under close guard until a verdict has been rendered.

Much time had been given last week to testimony regarding actual conditions in the National Bank of North America before the crash, the methods of making loans and attending to other details.

Further evidence along the same lines was given today, when Frank E. Pringle, one of the bank's law clerks, was called as the first witness. The questioning indicated it to be the purpose of the prosecution to show that loans made by the bank on "ice" stock had aroused suspicions on the part of the bank employes.

LADY IN THE DEAL.

During Pringle's examination there was introduced in evidence a memorandum and a letter showing that Mrs. K. T. Gelshenen had made a big profit in a deal in ice stock. The memorandum was in the handwriting of Curtis, one of the defendants, and bore the address "K. T. Gelshenen, No. 1005 Fifth avenue." There was a cashier's check for $38,865, dated January 15, 1906, bearing Curtis's signature. The letter informed Mrs. Gelshenen that her investment of $25,000 in ice had earned a profit of $12,865, and that she therefore was being sent a check for $38,865, to cover the transaction.

HEINZE NAMED ALSO.

The name of F. Augustus Heinze also was brought into the case during the examination of Pringle. He had told of a loan of $300,000 which had been secured by 1000 shares of ice and 2000 shares of stock of the Butterick Publishing Company.

Mr. Curtis came to the loan cage and carried away these shares, Pringle said, leaving in their place a substitution slip for the Butterick stock. The slip later was replaced by a receipt and subsequently the whole loan was balanced by two new loans. One of these was $200,000 to Mr. Baglin, private secretary to F. Augustus Heinze, and a second of $100,000 was made to Heinze himself. Mr. Heinze at that time was president of the Mercantile National Bank, Pringle said.

RENEWED LOANS.

Continuing his testimony Pringle told of having repeatedly under orders renewed loans in liquidation of old loans on the same stocks and for the same amount.

The 4000 shares of ice stock owned by the bank, he said, were shifted backward and forward as collateral and withdrawn by President Curtis and redeposited again from time to time, with great rapidity.

Cross-examined, Pringle said that the Davison Brown Realty Company covered an investment in ice stock made by Mrs. Katherine Gelshenen. Other investments amounted to $135,000; and later were closed with a profit of $29,000 through appreciation in the value of the stock in the open market.

MORE "ICE" LOANS.

That a loan of $200,000 obtained for Morse from the Mercantile National Bank through the brokerage house of Primrose & Braun has never been paid developed during the examination of Samuel Redfern, loan clerk of the Mercantile. The interest on the loan was paid up to and including September 30, 1907, and Redfern said the collateral—4000 shares of "ice" stock—is still in the Mercantile vault.

John Primrose, senior member of the brokerage firm, told the circumstances under which the loan was secured. Primrose said he had been called to the National Bank of North America, where Mr. Curtis told him the bank wanted him to make a loan with the Mercantile National Bank, and that the National Bank of North America would stand behind them in caring for the loan.

The note was made and sent to the bank, and was secured by 3000 shares of "ice" stock. He paid the interest monthly, as it came due, after collecting from the National Bank of North America. Finally, he went to Mr. Morse and told him that Vice-President O'Brien of the Mercantile was bothering him about the loan.

"Mr. Morse told me to have nothing to do with Mr. O'Brien," he said, "but to go and see the people in the bank downtown about it. I inferred he meant the people of the National Bank of North America."

This is the loan which Redfern testified has not been taken up.

W. W. See, a former vice-president of the National Bank of North America, said he was certain Vice-President O'Brien of the Mercantile had complained of the ice stock behind the Primrose & Braun loan, and he was sure that President Curtis "sweetened" the supporting collateral by adding other securities.

LARGEST EVER.

GOLD PRODUCTION SHOWS BIG GAIN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Gold mining is the department of mineral production in North America that is showing the largest degree of gain over previous years," said the president of a group of steel working and gold and silver mining interests today.

"Estimates as to the gold production from within the United States differ widely. Officials of the United States Mint place the output at $100,000,000 for the current year. But guesses of that kind are based upon the imperfect reports of the Geological Survey, whose officials are excluded from upward of 200 producing gold mines.

"We exclude public officials from our gold mines, none of which are profiting stock to the public. A majority of the best gold mines in this country are operated by close syndicates or by joint stock corporations made up of close friends, who have no occasion to betray their mine secrets to anybody.

"According to the best information I can get from friends whose mines produce something more than one-half the gold from domestic mines, and from shrewd men at the head of big mining machinery houses, the domestic output of gold for this year will be well above $110,000,000. Under the most advanced schemes of gold mining it will not be hard to double our domestic output of gold within five years. Today upward of eighty promising domestic gold mines are being developed by men possessed of ample capital, who can make money by working ore which a few years ago was called refractory.

"Within a few years the average cost of mining gold has been cut in half. I think it well within the bounds to say that North America is producing gold today at 40 per cent. less than the cost of twenty-five years ago. No other product from mines can show so large a reduction in cost within the same number of years."

"The production of gold in the United States has trebled since 1890," said another speaker, president of the largest porducing mine in Colorado.

"In gold mining, as in the production of several other metals, Colorado is going from strength to strength. The State is getting into the position which was predicted years ago by my old friend, Maj.-Gen. Greenville M. Dodge, Sherman's chief engineer in his Civil War campaigns. Thirty years ago Dodge said that within a generation Colorado would be far and away the largest precious metal producer in the Union. The prophecy has long been fulfilled.

"Within a few years we shall double the amount of gold that will go out as this year's record from Colorado."

DISAPPOINTED.

ANY HOPES ARE DASHED.

Regulars Ordered to Remain Longer in Camp.

Signal Corps Will Have Its Work Cut Out.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CAMP ATASCADERO, Oct. 19.—Bright nights and days of gloomy, rainy weather, had inspired the hopes of a number of officers and men of speedily seeing their own firesides. Those were dispelled by a circular issued today, which showed that the infantry is to remain until October 31, had not been altered.

All preparations for the competitive machine gun tests have been completed and Wednesday morning will see an interested group of officers watching this work. None but commissioned officers will be permitted to observe these tests and Wednesday will be an open day for the enlisted men.

Company E, Signal Corps, leaving with telephone men to operate the connections for the machine gun tests, will start bright and early today. This will be the first thorough service for a two days' field wire problem of the new model automatic carts and several important points in equipment and operation of field lines will be worked out. The command will lay and take up about thirty miles of wire during the two days and will establish the necessary telephone stations.

RAISES CHICKS WITH EAGLE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Raising chickens and an eagle in the same coop is the unusual stunt of Charles Grimm of No. 334 Wygant street. The bird of freedom seems to like his neighbors and has not disturbed them, although he has scratched his owner a few times. A few weeks ago a friend of Grimm shot a young eagle in the neck but the bird lived. It was given to Grimm and he immediately placed it in the pen with his chickens. The eagle is big and strong and crowds the other fowls away at feeding time until his own hunger has been satisfied.

LOCKED IN OWN ICE BOX.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—Locked in his own ice box and realizing that he was slowly freezing to death, Fred Lewis, an Oakland butcher, after several hours' imprisonment, abandoned his efforts to attract attention and cut his way to liberty with an ax, narrowly escaping arrest as a burglar, when he had gained his freedom.

Lewis entered the ice chest to adjust his stock of ice, and took along an ax. A spring lock on the outside slipped into place as the door slipped from his hand, and he immediately began pounding and shouting for assistance. The intense cold rendered him numb and he finally attacked the walls with the ax. Neighbors who heard the muffled blows believed that burglars were operating and as Lewis crawled through the hole he had made he was confronted by a policeman, to whom he explained the situation.

DECISION AFTER MANY YEARS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

STOCKTON, Oct. 19.—Judge Smith this morning rendered an exhaustive decision in the famous Roach estate investigation, which has been before the cours of this county thirty-five years. By the terms of his decision, Martin Whalen and children of Gloucester, Mass., are decreed to be the rightful heirs of George Roach, deceased, and entitled to half of his estate, the other half going to the estate of his widow, the late Margaret Copsy. The estate is worth about $25,000.

NURSE HANGS HERSELF.

Left Note Saying Sweetheart Had Ceased to Care for Her—Used Trunk Rope.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BERKELEY, Oct. 19.—The dead body of Ethel J. Buttimer, 18 years old, a nurse at the Roosevelt Hospital, was found hanging in the bathroom of that institution this morning. She left a note saying that her sweetheart, whose name is given only as "Will," had ceased caring for her, and that she was heartbroken. She had hanged herself some time during the night to a rafter, using a trunk rope. She came to Berkeley from Helena, Mont., where her parents live.

MYSTERIOUS FIRE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NAPA, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Saturday night "Brookside," the elegant country mansion of Harry H. Brown, president of the defunct bank of Calistoga, was totally destroyed with its contents by a mysterious fire. Whether a defective flue or incendiary is not known.

Brown is now in Manila, but his wife was in Calistoga at the time. Mrs. Brown's aged father, George W. Butler, who was laid up by an accident, narrowly escaped death in the burning structure.

The home was the finest in the county and the total loss is $50,000, with $6000 insurance. Mrs. Brown's jewelry and diamonds, worth $14,000, were consumed in the fire. Brown recently deeded the home to his attorney, Edward L. Webber of this city.

ORDINANCE A JOKE.

SALOONS CLOSE, BOOZE SOLD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Complaints were issued today against four persons for violating the Sunday liquor closing ordinance, which for weeks has been violated in many places and was fast becoming a joke. It is the boast around the city that about as much liquor as usual is being sold every Sunday, though the saloons are closed. Of the four persons complained of, one is a saloon-keeper and the liquor was sold by a bar-keeper while the owner was out of the city.

HINDUS WON'T BE DEPORTED.

PROTEST AGAINST REMOVAL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Oct. 19.—Hindus at Victoria object to deportation to British Honduras, and have had a telegram sent to the Secretary of State for India, and a copy to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in which they say the Sikhs in Victoria protest against possible removal to British Honduras. They declare they are willing to stay in Canada, and, if forced to vacate Canada, they prefer to return to India.

TO APPEAL TRUST CASE.

DECLARES LAW INVALID.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Manager O'Keefe of the Western Meat Company, who was sentenced by Judge Post last Friday to pay a fine of $500, after conviction on the Cartwright anti-trust law, will appeal, and a stay of execution has been granted for fifteen days to prepare his appeal.

Dist.-Atty. Wachhorst is prepared to combat every step the defendant may take in his endeavors to make the anti-trust law declared invalid. Other prosecutions of concerns interested in the local meat trust are expected as soon as the O'Keefe case is out of the way, the prosecution intending to determine to what extent the Cartwright law is effective.

DECISION HELPS MINE.

Will Soon Be the Center of Rich District.

World's Greatest Quartz Mine, Says Expert.

Southeastern Alaska Is the Coming Field.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] J. L. Johnson, just returned from Southeastern Alaska, declares that Juneau will soon be the center of the greatest quartz gold mining district in the world.

"When the Circuit Court of Appeals sustained the decision of Judge Wickersham in the famous Alaska-Perseverance case," said Johnson, "it meant 100 stamps will be dropping in the mill of that mine. It is a much higher grade ore than the Treadwell mine.

"The company is now driving a tunnel from Sheep Creek, which when completed, will not only drain the mine, but will, with the amount of ore already blocked out, permit the company to add to its mill until it will be taking out 10,000 tons of ore daily.

"Enough ore is already blocked out to keep on going for fifteen years and the full extent of the lode has not been established. The Ebner property in the basin back of Juneau is now being developed. The syndicate has made a first payment of $500,000 on this mine, and it will not be long before 300 stamps are dropping continuously.

"Henry Brattnober has secured in the Yankee Basin property a high-grade proposition some distance north of Juneau."

DIARYMAN KILLED.

SHOT BY BOYS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

TACOMA (Wash.) Oct. 19.—Robert Serempus, 20 years old, owner of the Star dairy at Rigney Hill, was shot and instantly killed yesterday on his dairy ranch by Fred Abel, aged 15, who, with Roy Conly, aged 16, were hunting upon the dairyman's land. The boy claims the shooting was done in self-defense. After firing the fatal shot, Abel and Conly, without waiting to see whether the young dairyman had been killed, hurried to the homes of their parents by a circuitous route and later were arrested.

DOCTOR GOES TO SAN QUENTIN.

DEATH BY MALPRACTICE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—Dr. Frank R. Huntington, a physician of Fruitvale, was sent to San Quentin today to begin serving a four years' sentence for causing the death of a young woman, Jennie McKowan, by malpractice.

He is in poor health and has just returned from a hunting trip to Lake county, having been allowed the privilege of freedom pending an appeal to the Supreme Court, which has just decided against him.

Judge Lawlor has asked the prison warden to dispense with rigorous duties in his case.

STEEL MAN SHOOTS HIMSELF.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN RAFAEL, Oct. 19.—O. M. Hartzell, 60 years old, of Pittsburgh, said to be connected with the Carnegie Steel Company interests in that city, shot and fatally wounded himself here today in his room at the Hotel Rafael.

He is at the County Hospital and the doctors say he cannot survive, the bullet having penetrated his brain. No cause has been assigned for his act, but it is supposed that grief over the loss of his wife, who died some time ago, led him to seek his own life.

Hartzell has been here since last July, and according to the hotel authorities, has been busily engaged in straightening out his affairs, leading them to suppose that he has been planning the attempt on his life for some time.

He left a note with the hotel clerk today, directing that A. T. De Forest of San Francisco, Pacific Coast representative of the American Steel Wire Company of Pittsburgh, be called up and then retired to his room. He rang for the bellboy and asked that the manager of the hotel, F. N. Orphin, be sent to his room in fifteen minutes. When Orphin entered the room he found Hartzell sitting in a chair unconscious, with a bullet hole in his head, and the revolver lying on a bureau at his side.

Hartzell wrote to his son, L. M. Hartzell of Pittsburgh some days ago, and it is believed communicated his intention then. The injured man is 60 years old, and has repeatedly told the people about the hotel that he carried $100,000 life insurance.

FRUIT FOR NORTH.

RAILROADS LAYING PLANS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] While the Southern Pacific is erecting plants in California to preserve perishable freights, Harriman's executives are working out plans for distributing California fruits and vegetables in Puget Sound cities on an immense scale.

Two double blocks of land have been purchased here across Jefferson avenue from the Harriman depot site. They extend from Seventeenth to Nineteenth streets, between Jefferson avenue and D street, with a forty-foot alley between. To acquire them has cost over a half-million dollars. J. D. Farrell, general manager for Harriman in this State, says an immense uptown freight warehouse is to be built on this site to distribute perishable freight. It lies exactly between the retail and wholesale centers of Tacoma.

When the Harriman lines are completed to Tacoma, California fruits and vegetables are to be brought here in solid trainloads for distribution over the Puget Sound country and to Alaska steamers. The Southern Pacific trains will bring them in half the time now consumed by water shipments.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Fair Makes Money.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 19.—J. A. Filcher, secretary of the State Agricultural Society, submitted a financial report to the board of directors today. At the opening of the State Fair in September the society had the sum of $72.23. During the fair the total receipts were $40,870.88. The expenditures were $40,668.67, leaving a balance of $202.21.

Rusf Lawyers Arraigned.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—Frank J. Murphy and A. S. Newburgh, two of Abraham Ruef's attorneys, indicted on the charge of having attempted to corruptly influence John M. Kelly, a venireman in the Ruef case, were arraigned before Superior Judge Murasky today. The case was then continued until next Thursday, when the two attorneys will plead and the date of the trial be set.

To Study Climate.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—According to reports published today, the Carnegie Institute has determined to found a scientific bureau for the study of climatology, at Carmel-by-the-Sea, on the picturesque cliffs of Monterey Bay, where there has been established a considerable colony of western writers and artists. It is said a tract of 4000 acres will be converted into a giant garden and that a corps of scientists will investigate the effects of the climate on different varieties of plant life.

Shot From Trunk Hits Baggageman.

PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A trunk was revenged upon a baggage smasher at Pendleton last night when the trainmen flung it off the train. The jar exploded a charge in a 45-caliber Colt's revolver inside and the bullet struck the baggageman, Kenneth Hannum, in the elbow and grazed the skin to the shoulder.

City Keeps Slot Machines.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—The case of the fifty men arrested on Saturday night and Sunday in the raids on the cigar stores where, it is alleged, gambling was carried on through slot machines, were called in police court today and continued until tomorrow. A request that the seventy-two machines seized be returned to the owners was denied.

FAULTS IN RUSSIAN CRUISER.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 19.—An article in the Novoe Vremya today confirms the statements published some time ago by certain radical newspapers that there were several faults in the construction of the Russian cruiser Rurik. The Novoe Vremya declares that the cruiser will be valueless as a fighting vessel unless the turrets are rebuilt.

"CATS BEAT THE WORLD."

Finest Thing to Prevent Bubonic Plague, Says Doctor.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dr. Frank S. Bourne, chief of the staff handling the bubonic plague prophylactic work in Seattle and assistant Commissioner of Public Health, has issued a statement addressed to the householders of the city requesting them to assist in the work of rat extermination by procuring for the house an able-bodied cat.

"The cat as an agent for the extermination of the rat," says Dr. Bourne, "cannot be equaled. I would rather have a thousand cats with an appetite for rats than anything else in this campaign, and as rats find refuge in the basement of private homes, the cat can be used to advantage, any person desiring a cat for rat-catching purposes can be accommodated by advising the health department."

POLITICAL.

WRIGHT ATTACKS BRYAN BITTERLY.

Secretary of War, Democrat, Condemns Nebraskan and Urges His Hearers at Big Mass Meeting to Support Taft for Good of Country.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Seldom has William J. Bryan been so severely arraigned during the present campaign as he was here tonight by Gen. Luke E. Wright, Secretary of War, who addressed a large mass meeting at Terrace Garden.

Gen. Wright, who was intrpduced as "a Democrat having the honor of holding a Cabinet position under a Republican administration," was greeted with enthusiastic cheering when he appeared on the platform.

The speaker entered vigorously into the principal issues of the campaign, condemning Mr. Bryan in sharp terms for the latter's reference in a speech recently to President Roosevelt as "the hired man."

Gen. Wright said that such statements "tickled the groundlings, but made the judicious grieve." He then outlined the powers of the President in an endeavor to show that the President is not a hired man, but "the chief ruler of the people."

UNUSUAL INTEREST.

Unusual interest attached to his remarks. By training and education a Democrat, he bolted the first nomination of Mr. Bryan in 1896. Tonight he reiterated his opposition to him and advocated the election of Mr. Taft. He asserted that even the most friendly judge must admit that in the elevation of W. J. Bryan the people are making a most "hazardous experiment" and predicted that in the election of Mr. Taft all the great interests of the country will be assured of a square deal, and will resume their "march of progress."

The omission of the Democrat platform to declare for revenue only, Secretary Wright said, was not accidental, but was intended to present a plank upon which Democratic free traders and protectionists alike could stand.

ARE FOR PROTECTION.

The Secretary said:

"I say this because it is a matter of common notoriety that there is a very little, and I may say growing element in the Democratic party which favors reasonable protection to American industries. We know that there are many thousands who habitually vote the Democratic ticket, who, in the Eastern States especially, are for moderate protection, call it by whatever name you please; and we know also that in the other great sections of the country Democratic votes are in favor of a continuance in some form or other of the protective policy. It must also not be overlooked that there exists a strong feeling among the masses of the Republican voters that many of the existing tariff schedules are too high and should be immediately lowered."

The real question, the Secretary said, was which of the two candidates could best be relied upon to make an honest revision. He was persuaded, he declared, that if Mr. Bryan's influence is controlling, and he can give direction to tariff legislation, the strong probability is there will be an unsettling of all the large interests of the country, while Mr. Taft, he said, would not impose upon the shoulders of that great mass of the American people who are consumers and who chiefly pay the freight, any undue burdens.

BRYAN'S LATEST FAD.

The speaker adverted to what he said were manifold objections to what he called Mr. Bryan's latest fad—the creation of a fund by tax upon national banks for the prompt payment of private depositors in these banks with an equitable arrangement for participation in the scheme by State banks.

Mr. Bryan, he said, evidently regards with paternal fondness this latest offspring of his prolific brain, and is inclined to make it what he calls a paramount issue. He said:

"Any such scheme would probably fail to work even if there were the utmost confidence in the solvency of the government. Whether such a confidence would exist in the event Mr. Bryan had the naming of the Secretary of the Treasury, and if the man he named were imbued with his theories of finance—a man such as Gov. Haskell, of Oklahoma, for instance—is an interesting question, and calls for reflection."

BITTER ATTACK.

Secretary Wright then paid some attention to the question of "government by injunction" and said the planks of both the Democratic and Republican platforms upon this point left much to be desired on the point of clearness. The point of the whole matter, he said, is that Mr. Bryan seeks to obtain the vote of organised labor upon the idea that he is an especial friend and champion while Judge Taft is their enemy.

He followed this up with a bitter attack on Mr. Bryan's attitude on the Philippine question, which Secretary Wright declared "has been extraordinary."

Mr. Bryan's extreme utterances in the United States, the secretary said, were carried to the Philippines while the insurrection was still flagrant, and were scattered far and wide among the Filipinos and unquestionably had a great effect in the prolonging of the insurrection.

NOTED DEMOCRAT ARDENTLY SUPPORTS TAFT.

Gen. Luke E. Wright, Secretary of War,

Democrat by birth and education, who last night made bitter attack on Bryan and urged hearers at big mass meeting to support Taft.

HUSKY.

MAY CANCEL TAFT'S DATES.

CANDIDATE'S VOICE IS IN VERY BAD CONDITION.

Out-of-door Speaking Is the Cause Assigned by Specialist—Means a Change in Candidate's Itinerary. He Will Cut Out Chicago Engagement Next Saturday.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—That Judge Taft's voice is in such bad condition that he will have to cancel many of his dates for speaking was indicated by Chairman Hitchcock, on his return today from a morning visit from Mr. Taft, at Newark, N. J. This means a rearrangement of Mr. Taft's itinerary, but it will not affect his dates in New York.

He will be in New York City as arranged. The rearrangement will cut out all of Mr. Taft's day speeches and one of his night speeches. The latter is the speech which had been planned for Chicago next Saturday night.

It is also expected that most of Mr. Taft's dates in West Virginia will be cancelled.

Mr. Hitchcock is at work now on the West Virginia situation so far as Mr. Taft is concerned. The dates for Mr. Taft's speeches in Connecticut also may be cancelled.

Dr. Richardson, the throat specialist, who is traveling with Mr. Taft, is of the opinion that his voice has been affected chiefly by his outdoor speaking. By abandoning the day speeches, which were to have been made out of doors, it is believed Mr. Taft will be able to meet all of his night engagements with the exception of that at Chicago.

Mr. Hitchcock said that he never saw the candidate looking better and that Mr. Taft is more hopeful of the result than he has been at any time since the campaign began. He will rest in Ohio Wednesday.

Chairman Hitchcock believed from information he has received that there is a fighting chance in Missouri for the Republican national ticket. Mr. Hitchcock expects to go to Chicago within the next five days.

Gen. O. O. Howard of Vermont came to headquarters to volunteer to take the stump for Taft and Sherman. He was assigned to the campaign in Ohio from October 23 to October 27, and in Indiana from October 28 to October 31.

GUARDING AGAINST BREAKS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—To guard against indiscreet utterances of chiefs of bureaus at the Navy Department during the campaign, Secretary Metcalf today directed that nothing contained in any regular annual report of those officers shall be made public until after the election in November.

Several years ago a bureau officer in his annual report criticised the President's policy regarding the amalgamation of the engineer corps with the line of the navy, and the criticism at that time attracted considerable attention.

YOU CAN CHIP IN, RIGHT IN HONOLULU.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

HONOLULU, Oct. 19.—Federal Judge Dole today handed down his decision in the case involving the constitutionality of the act prohibiting the making of campaign contributions by corporations.

Judge Dole holds that the act is constitutional, but does not apply to strictly territorial elections. The decision sustains the objection urged that where no Federal office is involved, the act has no application.

"BEERLESS LEADER" CONTINUES PUNNING CAMPAIGN.

Democratic Platform Like a Mother Hubbard Wrapper; "It Covers Everything and Touches Nothing." Had a Fine Time Running for President.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "The Democratic platform is like a mother-hubbard dress, it covers everything and touches nothing," said Eugene W. Chafin, Prohibition candidate for President, on the green this noon.

"The Prohibition platform comprises only 321 words. This is the ninetieth day of my campaign. I've made on the average five speeches a day and covered twenty-five States, speaking everywhere to splendid audiences. I've had a fine time and I've gained five pounds. If the campaign lasted long enough I'd weigh as much as Taft.

"There are seven of us running for President. Did I say seven? I meant six. The socialists labor candidate is in the penitentiary. He's not running. They call him the 'Cheerless Leader.' He is. He's in jail. Then there's the 'Fearless Leader,' that's Taft; the 'Peerless Leader,' that's Bryan, and last of all there's the 'Beerless Leader,' that's me."

WOMAN VOTER CAN'T REGISTER.

New York Supreme Court Denies Motion in Behalf of Former Colorado Citizen.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Justice Truax, in the Supreme Court, today denied a motion on behalf of Dr. Julia Seaton Sears that the registration board be reconvened and ordered to register Dr. Sears as a voter for the Presidential election. Miss Mary Coleman, who appeared for Dr. Sears, argued that as the latter had voted at three Presidential elections in Colorado the refusal to register her here was in effect a denial of the provision of the United States Constitution that no citizen shall be deprived of rights acquired under that instrument.

ANTI-GAMBLERS RULE.

Those in Reno Outnumber the "Tin Horns" by More Than a Thousand.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Men and women, representing the Anti-Gambling League, sent into the homes of Reno voters, have, after a careful canvass of the city, compiled statistics which shew that the supporters of the reform movement outnumber by 1000 the advocates of the licensed gambling.

This report, made today, has aroused the gamblers to action, and they have begun the fight against this movement which its members claim will result in closing the last wide-open State in the Union.

Mass meetings are scheduled for nearly every night before October 24, when the special election to decide the [illegible] will be held.

JUST IN TIME.

BOY SAVED BY TAFT FROM SURGING CROWD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHILADELPHIA (Pa.) Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] To save the life of a small boy who was being trampled under foot by the enormous crowd which had turned out to hear him, William H. Taft tonight forgot that he was campaigning for the Presidency of the United States.

Thirty thousand people tried to jam themselves into a hall, in Wilmington, Del., which could not possibly hold one-third of that number. In the crush women fainted, others became hysterical and a boy of 12 years was badly trampled on by the surging crowd.

RESCUES BOY.

The candidate was first to see the plight of the boy, who had fallen to his knees in the terrific crush.

"Look out for that child! Get back!" he cried, his voice rising above the tumult. Those who were near the little fellow gave way.

"Lift him up!" shouted Mr. Taft. Two men, a mechanic in blouse and overalls and a business man raised the child shoulder high. "Now pass him up here to me!" called the candidate. In a few seconds the child was in the arms of Mr. Taft.

"Gee!" said the boy, as he sat on the edge of the bunting-decked stand. "I'm glad I was took sick. I'll tell mom and pop how the next President of the United States held me in his arms and called me a bully little fellow!"

VICTORY CERTAIN.

"What I have seen in New Jersey and Delaware today and what I have witnessed in the West and South in the last three weeks makes me absolutely certain that I will be elected to the Presidency."

Mr. Taft made this declaration at the close of the demonstration.

DEVASTATION.

CLAYTON, N. M., TORNADO SWEPT.

FOUR PERSONS KILLED, TWENTY OR MORE INJURED.

New Courthouse Costing $40,000 Wrecked, as Are Score of Houses. Serious Damage Done Water and Lighting Systems—Railroad Sustains Heavy Loss—Wires Down.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CLAYTON (N. M.) Oct. 19.—Four persons were killed in and near Clayton last night as the result of a tornado and cloudburst. Twenty other persons were more or less injured, three of whom, it is believed, will die.

The dead:

W. H. HAIGHT.

J. S. FOX, wife and daughter.

Among the injured are Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bowen, and their five children; Thomas Downs and John Byrne.

The new Union county Courthouse, which cost $40,000, was wrecked and a score of houses were wrecked or torn from their foundations.

Telephone and telegraph wires were blown away and miles of poles leveled. Telegraph communication with Denver was not reëstablished until 11:30 a.m.

The Colorado and Southern Railroad sustained a heavy loss.

Clayton was in utter darkness after the tornado until daylight and there will be no lights tonight.

The water system was also put out of commission by the storm, and the town is without water.

CANADIAN NOMINATIONS MADE.

General Election, Week Hence, Will Close One of Bitterest Campaigns in Dominion.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ST. JOHNS (N. B.) Oct. 19.—Today was nomination day throughout Canada, and the supporters of both Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Premier and head of the Liberal party, and R. L. Borden, the leader of the Conservative opposition, succeeded in placing candidates for members of Parliament for all constituencies.

The general elections, which will be held one week from today, will close one of the bitterest contests ever fought by the two parties, in which charges and counter-charges of corruption have abounded.

CHAUTAUQUAN BURNED.

JAMESTOWN (N. Y.) Oct. 19.—The Colonnade, the most substantial and costly building on the Chautauqua Assembly grounds, was burned to the ground early today. Among the losses is Taylor's printing office, including the entire November edition of the Chautauquan. Loss, about $50,000.

SQUATTERS VS. TROOPS.

Uncle Sam May Take a Hand in Rent War on Plum Island.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—There is rebellion on Plum Island, and there is a likelihood that troops will be called out to quell it—after they have found Plum Island.

The resort of the succulent name is a Federal reservation somewhere in Jamaica Bay, on the south shore of Long Island. It was once the abode of squatter sovereignty, and the cause of the trouble, of which the erstwhile squatters are complaining, is that they have to pay not only rent, but exorbitant rent at that.

After the War Department abandoned an expressed intention to fortify Plum Island, it leased the place in 1897 to Winton S. Overton, who started a project to give boxing matches, dog fights and cocking mains there.

Overton agreed to pay $2000 for the first year, and $3050 for the four years following, but when he took possession of the island he found himself preceded by 100 or more squatters. They resented his invasion so vigorously that he called upon the department at Washington, and soldiers were sent from Fort Hamilton to oust the squatters. Subsequently, Overton sublet the island to other persons, and the squatter situation was compromised by allowing them to remain upon payment of rent in almost nominal sums.

Later, the complaint goes, these rents were steadily advanced, and an edict has gone forth that unless the most recent figure is met the tenants will find themselves evicted into Jamaica Bay.

The tenants have banded together, and have placed their interests in the hands of an attorney, who went to Washington the other day and received a promise that the matter will be investigated.

It is thought it will be necessary to again call out the troops.

Trial of Cashier Set Soon After Roosevelt Listens to Committee of Depositors.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19.—The trial of J. B. F. Richart, formerly cashier of the Farmers' and Drovers' National Bank of Waynesburg, Pa., which failed some time ago for $2,000,000, today was fixed for January 4 by United States Judge Young.

FORCES PROSECUTION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—President Roosevelt today, after hearing a committee of depositors of the Farmers' and Drovers' National Bank, instructed United States District Attorney Dunkle of Pittsburgh to take up within a week the prosecution of the case against Cashier Richart. The depositors told the President they feared the prosecution would be allowed to rest until the indictments would be outlawed. They declared the United States District Attorney claimed he lacked evidence. Later, the Attorney-General announced that the complaints against Mr. Dunkle would be investigated.

PRESIDENT TO BE EDITOR.

Signs Contract to Cover Political Economic Topics for The Outlook.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—President Roosevelt has signed a contract with The Outlook to act as an associate editor after his retirement from the Presidency in March next.

This is made subject to the existing contract to write a story of his African travels for Charles Scribners Sons.

TAFT GETS OVATION.

son-Gorman tariff bill and enacting the Dingley tariff; and fighting the Spanish War.

"We put the Cubans on their feet as we supposed. They stayed there for three years, then they fell on their knees, we had again to go and help them to their feet.

"In Porto Rico, we have made a million people rejoice every night and every day and thank God that they are under the prosperity the Stars and Stripes have given.

WORK IN PHILIPPINES.

"Then we took up the Philippines—the hardest problem that we had to solve as the result of the war. Today half a million Filipino school children are reading, writing and reciting in English; we have given them practical control over the central government and full control over the provincial and municipal governments.

"We took up the Panama Canal, which for 400 years, since the time of Charles V had been the subject of discussion. Under the present administration there has been an organization of the brains, machinery and the hands in such a way that in the course of the five or six years any one who knows about the work can promise its completion so that your navy will sail from the Caribbean Sea to the Pacific."

Mr. Taft next took up what he termed the "moral awakening" respecting the conduct of large business enterprise, resulting in a quickening of the American conscience.

MORAL PROGRESS.

"You would think from statements of Mr. Bryan," he added, "that no progress has been made, but the progress is truly remarkable. Through the passage of the rate bill the railroads themselves have abandoned rebating, have abandoned unlawful discriminations, and have taken away the chief instrumentality by which unlawful trusts and monopolies have been maintained.

Judge Taft followed this with his indorsement of the combination of capital for legitimate purposes. He said:

"The combination of capital is just as essential to our progress as the combination of the parts of a machine, and the fact that the capital is great and the number of plants needed are many, is no reason for denouncing them as illegal unless they are used for an illegal purpose. The normal, legal purpose of such combination is to reduce the cost of production by inducing economy in the management of the capital. It is only when undue means are taken to stifle competition that they cross the line of legality, and that they ought to be restrained and punished.

"Therefore, Mr. Roosevelt and the Republican administration have directed their attention to prosecuting the exact evil, which is the attempt to monopolize. Mr. Bryan, on the other hand, proposes to take steps which shall destroy the entire business. He proposes that we shall abolish the tariff on what are called trust-made articles. If you are going to take off the tariff on trust-made articles you are going to destroy the trust all right; there will be no difficulty about that, and you are going to throw out of employment the millions of men engaged as wage-earners in those great businesses, and you also are going to destroy the independent competitors of the trusts, for they are just as dependent on the tariff, indeed more so, than the trusts themselves."

Mr. Taft's expressions on the tariff were:

PROMISES REVISION.

"The Republican party is in favor of and is pledged to a thorough and genuine revision of the tariff on a well-understood principle, and that is that every industry, every product of the farm, the mine or the factory in this country shall be protected against foreign competition by a customs duty, equal to the difference in the cost of production here and the cost of production abroad.

"That includes three elements, and perhaps more, but three certainly—the cost of material, the cost of labor and the manufacturer's profit or the interest on capital. You take those three elements abroad and add them together and take the differences and that measures what the customs duty ought to be.

"The normal operation to be the difference between the cost of production abroad and the cost of production here, but so that no legitimate industry in this country shall suffer, and where peculiar circumstances have prevented the reduction in the cost of production here the tariff shall be revised and elevated, if needs be, in order to make the same measure of protection. But as I say, the general result will probably be a revision downward.

CAMPAIGN FUND SMALL.

"But it is said the protected interests own the party by contributions to the campaign fund and therefore that the Republican party does not dare give us an honest and thorough revision. Well, I am somewhat familiar with the total of the campaign fund, and I am able to advise every one that there is not enough there to debauch either a part of the people or a very small body of persons, and that if anybody is aching to contribute to something that needs support he has the opportunity by sending it to the campaign fund."

The important result of the conference this morning between the candidate and Chairman Hitchcock will be to eliminate Connecticut from the itinerary of the candidate and to curtail his New York itinerary so that he will have to make at most but two long speeches each day of the final days of the campaign, which he will spend in the Empire State.

The Indiana itinerary of the candidate, which will be in operation Thursday, was announced tonight. He will speak on Thursday, Friday and Saturday in that State, and will reach Chicago at 8 o'clock Saturday night.

Tomorrow night Mr. Taft will speak in Cumberland, Md., and through West Virginia on his way to Cincinnati, where he will arrive Wednesday morning for one day's rest.

Colorado Fuel and Iron Company Begs Financier to Appoint Its Directors.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER (Colo.) Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Colorado Fuel and Iron Company held its annual meeting here today and afterward issued a statement concerning action and future policies.

It declared no advantage had been given to Gould roads on account of the intimate connection with the company, but it was thought best to put the management in hands not interested in railroad affairs, removing the possibility of criticism.

"Stockholders have invited Rockefeller to select men to direct the business, because of the large financial investment and lively interest in success. J. F. Welborn was reëlected president. The Colorado Fuel Company will attend strictly to legitimate business without any entanglement whatever in affairs political."

The following directors were elected: F. T. Gates, Edwin Hawley, J. H. McClement, S. J. Murphy, George J. Gould, E. H. Harriman, Willard P. Ward, E. T. Jeffrey, H. E. Cooper and L. M. Bowers, all of New York, and J. F. Welborn, D. C. Beaman and J. A. Writer of Denver. L. M. Bowers was elected vice-president and treasurer and Chairman of the Executive Board.

... Tells a Frightful Story in Courtroom.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The story of the kidnaping of a seventeen-year-old girl, a bride of four months, of her being held a prisoner for days in a lonely swamp by two men, and of her brutal treatment during her captivity, told today by the victim herself in court at Huntington, L. I., astounded Judge Henderson and served to have the two men, Rafaele Orienne and Michael Testa held for the grand jury without bail on charge of abduction.

These charges may be supplemented by grave ones. The girl bride is Mrs. Mabel Wise Merriongola, daughter of Henry Vicks of Huntington and wife of Julian Merriongola, a wealthy mining contractor of the same town. According to the girl's story the men played cards, with her as stake.

"The court will not inflict a hardship on Pierce if he is really ill," said Judge Shepard Barclay, who represents Texas in its effort to get hold of Pierce.

"If the sickness is established by competent testimony the court will undoubtedly grant Pierce time to get well before it orders him to Texas."

Pierce is at present out on a bond of $20,000, signed by his attorney, Judge Priest. He is wanted in Texas on a charge of swearing falsely that his company was not a trust or connected with a trust. Texas contends that the Waters-Pierce Oil Company is a branch of the Standard Oil Company.

Judge Witten has already placed a force of clerks at work notifying every person who registered of the order in which he will come in the selection of lands.

There are about 8000 farms of 160 acres each to be parceled out, and with the lapses that usually follow it is probable that persons drawing numbers below 9000 will have an interest in the reservation.

After the first fifty numbers were drawn, the little girls who made the selections, gave way to regular clerks, and the drawing was then carried out under Judge Witten's supervision by the government employés.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WALLACE (Idaho) Oct. 19.—As the result of a quarrel as to whether there is a Deity, and as to whether the statements of the Bible are based on mythology, Peter Rukavana and George Melick are both dead at Taft, a settlement near Wallace.

Melick asserted that there is no God, and that the Bible's statements are untrue. In the heat of discussion, he drew a revolver and shot Rukavana in the mouth, killing him almost instantly. Melick escaped, but while trying to gain the shelter of the hills, fell over an embankment and landed on his head. He received injuries from which he died.

Witness in Land Fraud Case Reveals Plot.

Sticks to His Story, Despite the Lawyers.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 19.—I. M. Marsh of Los Angeles was the principal witness for the government in the so-called Los Angeles land-fraud suit in the Federal Court today.

Marsh testified that, on the solicitation of William H. Smith, representing the Pacific Furniture and Lumber Company, he went to Port Orford and filed on 160 acres of land. Marsh related that Smith assured him that if he (Marsh) would buy stock in the furniture company, members of the company would provide him with employment, locate him on a timber claim in Curry county, and, when he had completed final proof on the land, would purchase it from him for $800, if he should decide subsequently to dispose of it.

The witness also testified that the company's agent had promised him that the company would pay all filing fees and other expenses incident to settling on the land and completing proof.

After reaching the Curry county and filing on the land, however, Marsh said the members of the company refused to reimburse him for his expenses, and when they declined to advance him the necessary funds with which to make the final payment, Marsh admitted that he surrendered the claim, and returned to Los Angeles, where the firm refused to pay him the money he had invested in the business as had been agreed would be done.

Counsel for the defendants, cross-examined and sought to impeach the witness by introducing testimony of Marsh given at the hearing of the removal proceedings at Los Angeles last spring. Marsh developed great stubbornness and insisted the statements he had made at the trial of the cases here were true, despite the persistent efforts of the defendant's attorney to confuse the witness.

DEATH IN CAR CRASH.

ONE KILLED AND TWENTY-SIX ARE INJURED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 19.—Three trolley cars on the Troost avenue line collided at Thirteenth street and Troost avenue here this morning and were badly wrecked. One man was killed and twenty-six other passengers were more or less seriously injured.

The airbrakes on one of the cars failed to work when it reached Tenth and Troost and the car rushed back down a steep hill. There were two cars coming up the hill following the first car and for three blocks these cars backed away in a thrilling attempt to escape.

The cars were crowded with passengers bound down town, many of them prominent business men. For a quarter of a mile before the cars finally crashed, women jumped frantically to the street and several were hurt in their efforts to escape. The cars came together with terrific force and all three were splintered. A good many passengers were still on board and the more seriously hurt were among these.

I. Smith of Nevada, Mo., aged 45 years, was crushed to death when the front end of the rear car was crushed in. He was taken from the wreckage and placed on the sidewalk, but died before physicians arrived. He was connected with an abstract company in Missouri, and was visiting his son here.

The seriously injured:

R. H. POLLITT, hurt internally.

MISS LELLA CHASE HERRY, cut and bruised.

MRS. W. J. KLEINE, bruised and hurt internally; thrown from car.

E. G. SMITH, claim agent, Metropolitan Street Railway Company, leg broken, jumping from car.

PAUL C. LOVE AND WIFE.

C. A. TRITZE, Board of Trade man, bruised and cut.

MRS. CORA LYMAN, ankle broken.

Hupp and Pollitt are prominent business men.

In all twenty-six persons were injured. The hurts of half this number were slight, consisting of cuts and bruises.

NORTH ADAMS (Mass.) Oct. 19.—The North Berkshire region in Western Massachusetts and the foothills of the Green Mountain range, in southern Vermont, were covered with a thick smoke pall tonight from fires which have burned over thousands of acres of timber lands. Some of the fires tonight are assuming dangerous proportions.

The most serious forest fire tonight was reported east of Bennington, Vt., where hundreds of square miles of practically unbroken woodland seemed threatened by the blaze.

IN PENNSYLVANIA.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

READING (Pa.) Oct. 19.—Fierce fires are raging in the mountains east and north of Reading today. The haze and smoke is so dense that Mount Penn is completely enveloped. On the Blue Mountains a great tract has been burned over. The State police fought the flames on Mount Penn.

FAILS FOR TWO MILLION.

BOSTON, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A total loss of $2,000,000 may fall to the small and unsecured creditors of E. H. Gay & Co., the Boston bond-house, which was petitioned into involuntary bankruptcy last Saturday, according to a statement of the firm's condition made by an authority reputed to be in possession of certain information.

The liabilities will aggregate more than $7,000,000 of which something more than $3,000,000 are bank loans secured by collateral. The liquidation of the various bonds held by these banks as collateral will not be sufficient to pay 100 cents on the dollar, and in consequence unsecured creditors, consisting of small investors, may suffer a total loss of their investments.

Make Way for the Holidays

We've a strenuous task ahead of us to make room for the thousands and thousands of dollars' worth of merchandise bought for the great holiday season. We have two weeks in which to accomplish our object and every day must count.

Yesterday the buying was phenomenally brisk, and if crowds are a criterion, the sale is to be the big success of the year. Not a one-day sale, mind you, but every day for two weeks, and every day a value day. Plan your buying ahead so as to share in this profitable occasion. Today's offerings border on the sensational.

Our Semi-Annual Notion Sale Starts Today

Here we are with a twice-a-year happening, our Semi-Annual Notion Sale—an event that every woman in Los Angeles is acquainted with. A sale that puts you in touch with the greatest Notion Department west of the Mississippi. A different kind of a Notion store, a Notion store that takes bold and decisive steps in the lowering of prices.

These sales in the past have brought tremendous crowds, necessitating the employment of extra salespeople, and here we are again with a regular avalanche of startling prices to begin a sale week you'll long remember.

ANOTHER HITCH.

THAW BANKRUPTCY CASE IS POSTPONED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19.—After hearing the motions and arguments today in the proceedings having for their ostensible object the bringing here of Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, to testify in the voluntary bankruptcy petition filed several months ago, Judge Young of the United States District Court late today, reserved until 10 o'clock tomorrow, his decision in the two principal points raised in today's proceedings.

These are, first, whether Judge Young shall accept jurisdiction, or whether the matters must be presented to Judge Archbold of Scranton, by whom the writ of habeas corpus ad testificandum was issued. Judge Young was in Europe on his vacation, when the application was made; and, second, whether Thaw shall be brought here to testify in the bankruptcy proceedings.

Asa B. Gardner, special deputy attorney-general of New York, came here today to oppose the bringing of Thaw to Pennsylvania, and moved for the dismissal of the writ issued by Judge Archbold.

Attorney Gardner said he would not take his motion before Judge Archbold, saying jurisdiction rested with this district, and that Judge Archbold had merely acted for Judge Young during the latter's absence. He added that he would continue the fight on this ground even though he had to go to the Supreme Court of the United States.

As to bringing Thaw here, Attorney Gardner argued that Thaw had twice been adjudged insane in the courts of New York, and was held under such adjudication in an asylum for the criminal insane in the custody of that State; that being an insane person, he was incompetent to file a petition in bankruptcy, and being insane, he is incompetent to testify in bankruptcy proceedings.

The New York attorney also charged that the bankruptcy proceedings and efforts to have Thaw brought to Pennsylvania to testify therein, are merely a subterfuge to remove Thaw from the jurisdiction of New York courts and secure his liberty from the institution in which he is held for the murder of Stanford White.

BIG RISK, LITTLE PAY.

Highwaymen Get One Dollar and a Watch in Hold-up of Redondo Gardener.

G. W. Vanness, a market gardener, was held up by two masked men about 8 o'clock last night, near Redondo, and was robbed of $1 and a watch. The highwaymen boarded an inbound electric car a few moments later for Los Angeles. Vanness telephoned the police and an effort was made to apprehend them. The detectives were unable to find any trace of the robbers.

Vanness, who has a small garden near Redondo, was on his way home when the robbery occurred. He says that the men stopped him and asked for a ride. When he told them to climb in the wagon one of them pressed a revolver to his breast while the other searched him.

Vanness describes both men as about five feet ten inches in height, wearing dark clothes and soft black hats. They wore handkerchiefs as masks.

DESERT RACE DATE CHANGE.

Locomobile and Elmore May Start With Kisselkar.

Leavitt Calls Off Race With White Steamer.

Maricopa Club Planning for Big Reception.

The date of the Los Angeles-Phoenix road race will probably be extended to November 7. The Maricopa Automobile Club will be asked to change the time of the start in order to accommodate others who are planning to enter cars.

There will be no race between the White steamer and the Locomobile on November 7. R. J. Leavitt, the Locomobile agent, stated positively yesterday that he will not enter any other contest than the race for the Arizona Republican cup.

There is a possibility that the Locomobile and the Elmore will start if the race date is postponed two days. Both Leavitt and A. J. Smith will be able to make a trip to Phoenix in the interim, and having gone over the roads once will be in a position to enter their cars in the strenuous grind.

At a meeting held yesterday afternoon in the offices of John S. Mitchell, who represents the Maricopa club at this end, both Leavitt, Smith and Shettler were present. Plans for the race were discussed and Smith and Leavitt announced that they will enter the race if given more time. Following is a statement given by Leavitt last night:

LEAVITT'S DENIAL.

"John S. Mitchell, representing the Maricopa Auto Club of Phoenix, Ariz. Dear Sir: Referring to several interviews given certain papers by Mr. Fenner of the White garage, in which he has stated that he and I had agreed to race our cars from Los Angeles to Phoenix for $1000 a side on a different date, and under a different set of rules than those sanctioned by said automobile cup, will say I have never even considered such a proposition. When I agreed to bet him $1000 that my Locomobile would beat his White, I certainly understood that both cars were to be entered according to the rules as accepted by the Maricopa Auto Club and I wish to state positively that I would not under any circumstances enter my car in a race from Los Angeles to Phoenix that would in any way compete with the above mentioned event, as I would consider such a course to be very unsportsmanlike, to say the least."

Leavitt left for Seattle last night. While in the north he was unfortunate enough to be a passenger on a car which ran down and killed a man. The chauffeur and the occupants of the car were arrested and Leavitt was subpoenaed to appear at the trial. He expects to return the latter part of this week, and in time to enter for the desert dash.

With the calling off of negotiations between F. C. Fenner's White steamer, and the Locomobile, A. J. Smith is anxious to get into the race. He said yesterday he will in all probability start for Phoenix within the next few days. He wants to go over the worst of the course before entering his Elmore.

WORTHY OPPONENT.

Should Smith decide to enter he will be a dangerous opponent. He is a good driver and has a fast car. With "Andy" Smith in the race the contest would be much more interesting and exciting.

The present outlook is that instead of only the Kisselkar being in the run, at least two and possibly three more cars will start. Shettler has posted his money and will send his car through if there are no other entries. It would add much to the interest of the contest, however, if two or three other cars could start with the Kisselkar. There is a possibility that a Los Angeles built car may be entered at the last moment.

Now that there is no possibility that the Locomobile and White steamer will race for a side bet of $1000, there is a possibility that Fenner will enter Black Bess for the cup. This would make the contest as interesting as the Baldy dash.

That Fenner's car would give a good account of itself in such a race no one doubts who knows the machine. Black Bess has been tried in severe tests and has never been found wanting. The "old boat" has been "doped" up for the run to Arizona and there is nothing now, it would seem, to prevent Fenner from entering the contest.

It has been argued by Fenner that the Kisselkar is not in his class because he has already eaten it. He cannot have this excuse for not starting with the Locomobile.

With four cars in the race, and each a classy racing machine, the contest would develop into one of the best road races ever held in the West. Autoists hope that the White steamer man will decide to send his car over the course for the cup.

FERRY TIME OUT.

Another matter which is being discussed, and which may be incorporated in the rules, is in regard to the ferry across the Colorado River. There is only one boat at the crossing. Should two cars reach the ferry at almost the same time it would work a severe hardship on the second man, should the first secure the ferry and start across the river. It takes almost an hour to cross. Now it is proposed to take out the time of crossing the water.

The proposal is that a representative of the Maricopa Club be stationed at either side of the river to take the time of arrival and departure of the racing cars. This would obviate any possibility of prejudiced work on the part of those who might be partisan.

The automobile men of Phoenix are making great preparation to receive the racers. The course will be policed and patroled. Confetti will be scattered over the roads for miles. There will be a great crowd at the Republican office, and at the fair grounds to receive the cars. The Maricopa Club expects to make the race such a success that it will become an annual affair.

Wins in Fast Time.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 19.—Ralph Baker, in the final heat of the free-for-all automobile races, drove his White steamer a mile in 54 2-5s. on a circular track this afternoon. The race was the fastest ever witnessed here. The time for the five miles was 4m. 52s. flat.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL.

U.S.C. Freshmen and Sophomores to Meet This Afternoon in First Class Game.

The girls' freshmen and sophomore basketball teams of U.S.C. college department will meet on the university court this afternoon in the first of the interclass games scheduled for two weeks leading to the championship of the university.

The winner of today's contest will play a picked team of the junior and senior players tomorrow afternoon for the college honors. Next Monday the first and second academy teams will play, and the third and fourth prep teams on Tuesday, the winners of the two games on Wednesday, and the college and prep winners will play the final championship game on Thursday.

An unusually large number of players are out for the teams, and interest is keen in the probable outcome of the series. The freshmen and sophs are both confident of winning today, and the line-up of the contesting teams will present the pick of the most likely candidates for the 'varsity squad. Miss Katherine Asher, 'varsity forward last year, is captain of the upper-class girls, and the other players being Miss Tucker, forward; Ruth Dennan, center, and Maude Speicher and Ella Winstanley, guards. Miss Winstanley has played on the 'varsity and L. A. High champion teams for several years, and Miss Dennan is a star performer from the Girls' Collegiate. Maude Speicher played on the 'varsity three years ago.

For the "Babies" Miss Modest Yoch is counted the strongest player, and she will captain the team playing forward. Teresa Longheidt will play the remaining forward, Gladys Waddle center, and Rose Migg and Gladys Bridges guards.

Ethel Hogan and Preston Osborne will officiate, and the game will commence at 3:30 o'clock.

HUNTING NEAR SAN DIEGO.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 19.—The hills and valleys of this country are being invaded by a horde of Los Angeles hunters who, as a general rule, are successful in their search for quail. The inland country between here and Palomar Mountain and in the vicinity of Escondido is said to be fairly alive with birds.

These favorable reports having reached Los Angeles, no less than six big automobiles arrived from that city and vicinity Saturday night loaded with parties of nimrods who came prepared and fully equipped with guns and ammunition to put in Sunday and Monday hunting quail.

The six machines brought four parties containing thirty persons.

J. P. Perseval, a Los Angeles business man, was the first to arrive. He was joined later by a party of six in one machine from Santa Ana, consisting of T. E. Holcomb, H. S. Hazeltine and wife, T. J. Lewis, C. H. Kinline and wife.

Another party consisted of nine persons, R. C. Gillis, P. P. Sherman, Robert Kenney, C. L. Bandy, A. D. McDonald, Frank A. Stephen, T. J. Osborne, H. I. Green and Colton A. Smith. The third party contained Edward McKain, E. I. Weharle, John Hawkins, Joseph Giola and Harold Graham. The remaining party included William Llewellyn, C. A. Alexander, Waller Taylor, T. E. Hutchinson, C. Morgan and Reese Llewellyn.

THREE-GAME MATCH.

ALL-STARS AND GIANTS.

The All-Stars and the L. A. Giants will play a series of three match games for a purse of $50 a game, the contests to be held October 25, November 1, and November 15. Sam Ferraris, Frank Ganahl and Jim Lyman will be the twirlers for the All-Stars, with Whaling and Le Brandt on the receiving end of the battery.

Next Saturday the All-Stars will meet the Olympics at Joy Park, and on November 8, the Santa Fé team of San Bernardino will cross bats with the L. A. Giants.

PLAY THRILLING IN CLOSENESS.

POMONA PREPS WIN FROM U.S.C. BOYS BY ONE POINT.

Congregationalists Take Methodists by Surprise in First Half and Then Los Angeles Team Bucks Up and Almost Evens Score—Passing and Kicking Good.

Pomona Preps, 11; U.S.C. Preps, 10.

In a game replete with thrilling plays, startling coincidences and unexpected accidents, the football eleven representing the preparatory department of Pomona College won from the fast team of the U.S.C. Academy yesterday afternoon at Bovard Field.

The visitors, taking the Methodists by surprise in the first half, walked away with the locals, and scored two touchdowns on fatal fumbles by the local backs, Bob Spurgeon converting one goal.

In the second period the Methodists awakened too late to the need for real playing, jumped into the contest with full steam, and headed by the midget quarterback, "Todd," simply outplayed Pomona in every department of the game, negotiating the forward pass, onside kick, and delayed pass until the Congregationalists were completely demoralized, and two touchdowns followed, but Stabler was unable to kick the goals.

The initial period opened with both teams playing ragged ball. Pomona gained consistently on end runs and tackle plunges, and soon had the spheroid on U.S.C.'s 25-yard line, where Spurgeon signalled for a place kick. The ball went wide, and Reiche waiting behind his own goal line, plunged forward, stumbled and fumbled, Crawford, the Pomona end, picking up the spheroid and scoring the first touchdown. Spurgeon missed the goal.

Toward the end of the half the visitors worked the ball again to the Methodist 25-yard line, when the locals held. Reiche attempted a forward pass, but no onside player was on the spot to catch the ball, and the resulting penalty put the ball on the 10-yard line. Wallace called for a punt, but fumbled a poor pass, and Allen, Pomona center, grabbed the spheroid and fell over the chalk for the second score. Spurgeon kicked goal.

"Todd" replaced Reiche at quarter in the second period, and his presence immediately worked a surprising change in the playing of the locals. Forward pass and onside kick was tried time and again for gains of twenty to thirty yards, and varying this with center bucks by Wallace and Hunter the Methodists simply walked the visitors down the field in short order. But Wyatt, Methodist end, faltered on catching one of the passes within striking distance of the goal and a clear field, and the score was averted for a few minutes. Wallace, however, was shoved through for the remaining yardage and scored the touchdown. Stabler missed fire.

Again the locals started the procession of forward pass, fifteen and twenty yards at a down and losing the ball but once on a penalty soon carried the spheroid to the 10-yard line, where Wallace bucked over for the second touchdown. Stabler again missed the goal.

The call of time prevented further scoring of the Methodists. "Todd" for the locals and Spurgeon for the visitors shared the glory of the game, Don Wallace showing up remarkably aggressive at half for U.S.C. and Barnes in a like position for Pomona. Capt. Bunker broke up many plays at center.

The line-up of the teams was as follows:

Pomona.		U.S.C.
Crawford	L.E.R.	Hummell
Merriam (c)	L.T.R.	P. Lorenzen
Henrich	L.G.R.	Law

POMONA AND "L. A."

NOBLE SEEKS "REVENGE."

Los Angeles High School is to meet the Pomona College football team at Fiesta Park Saturday afternoon and Coach Noble of High School, who is an old Pomona player and coach, expects to have his team in excellent shape for the match. The High School boys did not practice yesterday, as they were stiff and sore after the gruelling match with St. Vincent's, but regular practice will be resumed this afternoon. Decius sustained a bad "charley-horse" in Saturday's game, and Brant and Maguire also were bruised, but it is expected that they will be in good shape before the end of this week.

Pomona has been improving rapidly lately, and Coach Noble will work hard with the High School team in order that the Claremonters will have to play in their best form to win.

Coach Noble says there is slight probability of a second game being played with St. Vincent's this season as both teams have their schedules filled until Thanksgiving Day, and there is too much uncertainty in football to arrange for a post-season game at the present time.

High School students are elated over the showing made against the Saints. The players say that they were handicapped by the rainy weather just as much as St. Vincent's was, and that they, too, were unable to work their forward passes and open formations on account of the wet grounds.

AFTER THE SAINTS.

INDIANS ON THE WARPATH.

Coach Gorton of Occidental College believes that the Sherman Indian football team will develop into the strongest eleven in Southern California before the end of the season. Gorton says that Coach Warner has collected an able band of gridiron warriors and that they are improving rapidly under his instruction. Warner is working with the team with the main purpose in mind of beating St. Vincent's when the teams meet in this city.

Although Occidental was beaten by the Indians, Gorton was pleased with the showing made by his team and says that under more favorable conditions the Presbyterians would have held their own against the braves.

Gorton has again shaken up the team. Fred Thomson has been moved from end to his old fullback position and Hopkins will play on the extremity of the line. The change was made because Gorton considers Hopkins too valuable to be off the team and there was no other place in which to use him.

The Presbyterians are to meet Whittier College at Occidental Saturday afternoon in their first intercollegiate game of the season. The players are in excellent physical shape and are fast learning the plays. Ragged playing is slowly vanishing and the men are showing some class in handling forward passes.

BIG FOOTBALL CROWD.

TRAINING TABLE LIST.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 19.—Incomplete estimates of the receipts of the Stanford-California freshman Rugby game last Saturday place the figures at $3400, or nearly $900 below last year's receipts. The proceeds of the game will be divided between the two universities.

Twenty-three men of the 'varsity squad were today placed on the training list table. They are Koerner, Terrill, Higley, McGregor, Cheda, Pemberton, Crawford, Miller, Evans, Reynolds, Heinley, MacKensie, Erb, Elliott, Mitchell, Ganong, Roth, Scott, Cook, Holman, Cadwalader, Jordan, Brown.

CULLEN GOOD ONE.

Dick Cullen's record shows that he is a high-class pug, and that he should put up a good fight against Maurice Sayers when the two lightweights hook up at McCarey's Pavilion Friday evening. Cullen has lost but one battle in his career, and his appearance in Los Angeles will be the first opportunity of the fans to see the clever San Francisco boxer in action.

Cullen can weigh in at from 128 to 133, and can be strong at any intermediate figure. He usually has fought men of far greater weight, and always has given a good account of himself. Yesterday he went through his regular work at the Eastside Athletic Club and boxed with Willie O'Neill for six rounds.

Sayers is down to weight already, and will be ready to get on the scales at 133 at 3 o'clock of the day of the bout.

Much interest centers in the meeting of Walter Fisher and Kid Snyder. The white-haired San Bernardino boy has become quite a favorite with the fans, and his career has been watched with interest by his followers. So far he has shown remarkable work for a youngster, his clever fight with Mike Kutchos showing that he has class as well as a punch. Snyder demonstrated that he was no dub by the way he polished off Young Russell, and there are many who believe that with proper training the Kid will be able to beat Fisher.

Willie O'Neill and Danny Webster will be the third section of the card, which will be of equal interest to many of the fans. Webster has regained his old-time form, and is training hard at Boyle Heights, with more vigor than is his wont. He is using Roy Rogers as a sparring partner, and hopes to show the patrons of the game that he is not yet a back number.

CHAMPIONSHIPS.

BIG BATTLES ARE CARDED.

McFarland-Welsh Fight Thanksgiving Eve.

Jeffries Club Is Arranging the Preliminaries.

Packy McFarland and Freddie Welsh may form the Thanksgiving Eve card of the Jeffries Athletic, for both fighters practically have agreed on the terms offered them by Manager Baron Long and are negotiating between themselves on the weight question and the splitting of the receipts.

In addition to the crack lightweight match, Long has got Abe Attell and Ad Wolgast to consent to a match of twenty-five rounds for November 10 for the featherweight championship at 122 pounds ringside.

There is a slight difference of opinion in regard to the weight question between McFarland and Welsh, the former holding out at 133 pounds at 3 o'clock and the latter desiring 133 ringside. The chances are that a compromise will put the weight at 133 pounds at 6 o'clock.

The question of bonus which each demanded at former negotiations remains unsettled, and possibly it will not be brought up at this time.

Abe Attell is yet to get in his work on the money end of the Wolgast match and Baron Long no doubt will have a long struggle before he signs the Hebrew. Allel probably will demand the whole purse and a bonus, but Wolgast is a good man and should get his share of the receipts.

FLYNN ARRIVES.

Jim Flynn arrived from Pueblo last night and is to begin training today for his fight with Jim Barry, November 6. Flynn remarked that Manager McCarey had picked out another "easy" one for him, but that he was used to fighting the big fellows and made no distinctions.

Flynn went two more rounds with Al Kaufman than did Battling Johnson, and he also fought Johnson twice for ten rounds, having the better of both battles. Johnson was beaten by Barry, while Flynn has a ten-round draw with Barry. The dope will stand for a lot of figuring.

Bill Gaines is wrathy over the statement attributed to Arthur Collins that he had asked to act as Collins's manager. Gaines says that he is a southerner and that in no circumstances would he accept, let alone ask for the management of a negro. He said he would not now consent under any conditions to have Johnson fight Collins.

NEIL MAKES GOOD.

GOES SIX FAST ROUNDS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Frankie Neil of California had a rather spirited argument with Joe Wagner of this city at the Roman Athletic Club tonight, but came out of it all with a distinct advantage. The boys stepped over the usual six-round route, and both were strong and willing at the end.

At the outset Wagner gave a very good imitation of a man trying. He cut loose at his man from the drop of the hat, and in the first two rounds made things interesting indeed for the Californian. Neil was never greatly troubled by the attack of his adversary, however. He showed a clever line of blocking and footwork, and managed to elude the fast-flying fists of his opponent.

Neil made his best showing in the closing session. He rushed out of his corner in characteristic whirlwind fashion, and before Wagner could set himself for the assault, scored heavily with a left to the body. He continued to make this the point of attack until the final bell, but was unable to put over the real punch.

M'FARLAND HURT.

JOE THOMAS TOO STRENUOUS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STRATFORD (Conn.) Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An ill fate seems to be camping on the trail of Packy McFarland in his preparation for his six-round mill with Leach Cross before the Fairmont Athletic Club of New York on Wednesday night.

An injury sustained in boxing with Joe Thomas, a coast light heavyweight, came within an ace of causing a second postponement of the bout. As it is, the stockyard's lightweight will enter the ring against the Ghetto champion with a badly lacerated lip which is likely to cause him considerable trouble before the route has been covered.

While mixing it at close quarters with the burly Thomas, just a moment before the timer was ready to stop the boxers, McFarland butted into Joe's elbow.

Occidental and Pasadena.

Occidental Academy is to play the Pasadena High School football team on the Presbyterian field Friday afternoon in the preps first home game. The Presbyterians will have the advantage in weight, and they have been improving in playing ability during the last week.

COLTON.

COLTON, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Brakeman L. F. Majors of the Los Angeles-Crafton local freight train while in the Southern Pacific yards tonight, in stepping from one side of the engine to the other, fell under the pilot and was dragged 600 feet before his plight was discovered. His left leg was severely cut and bruised in numerous places, and his right ankle sprained. His injuries were dressed by Dr. Champion, and later he was taken to Los Angeles for further treatment.

DO YOU KNOW ANY SKIN SUFFERERS?

If You Have a Friend Afflicted With Eczema, Tell the Druggist About It.

If you have a friend suffering from eczema, tell us about it the next time you are in the store.

Many eczema sufferers have tried so many useless remedies and spent so much money with doctors that they practically despair. If they only knew of the simplest home cure for eczema! It is nothing more than oil of wintergreen compound (as mixed in D. D. D. Prescription.)

Used with glycerine, thymol and other healing ingredients in liquid form, this simple remedy penetrates the pores of the skin, numbing and killing the eczema germs while building up the healthy tissue.

If you will suggest to your friend afflicted with eczema to call, we shall be glad to explain to any sufferer about D. D. D. Prescription.

A man told his wife that he had run a piece of wood under his finger nail. "You must have been scratching your head," she replied. Every establishment has a few wooden men, or time producers, who drift along with the current of the day, like water-soaked log drifts down a sluggish stream. They have no more initiative than a lump of sand. That kind of a man could remain in a Wise Store about one day, when the Manager would introduce him to the toboggan. I don't want you to get the idea that Wise Stores are hard stores to work in, for that would not be true. The Manager started to work for the Old Man as a boy twenty years ago, and several of the head men have been from ten to fifteen years, but they all held their positions because they were straight, honest, ambitious men. You may ask yourself, "What has that got to do with my trading at one of your stores?" It means more to you than you think. You are much more apt to receive prompt attention from that kind of a business man than from a clerk who don't know but he'll be fired Saturday night. His only object is to effect a sale, so as to make a showing. He has no further interest in you. EPOCHAL VISIT.

JAPAN'S WELCOME IMPRESSES FLEET.

Remarkable Reception Part of Organized Plan to Wipe Out All Misunderstandings Between Island Empire and America.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

TOKIO, Oct. 20.—The reception accorded the American Atlantic fleet by the government and the people of Japan is conceded by the American naval officers to be the heartiest and most perfectly carried out of the many receptions received by the fleet since it sailed from Hampton Roads.

Rear-Admiral Sperry said to the Associated Press today that he was utterly unable to say how it had been accomplished, but that the welcome given the fleet and its officers and men here had been so carefully planned and carried out to the most minute detail that a lasting impression has been created upon the mind of every American who witnessed it.

The men of the American and Japanese fleets are fraternizing everywhere throughout Tokio and Yokohama. Every wish of the American sailors is anticipated and each bluejacket finds an English-speaking guide among the Japanese sailors. The American sailor is the "open sesame" everywhere, the cordiality of the Japanese extending even to the inhabitants of the most remote villages.

SINCERITY UNDOUBTED.

It is impossible to doubt the sincerity of the Japanese. The American officers and sailors are already beginning to understand the fact that the evident desire on the part of the Japanese for the friendship of America is not founded upon opportunism, but finds its source in a sincere desire to show that Japan has existed always; and that the visit of the fleet merely affords the Japanese an opportunity for the expression of that feeling.

There can be no doubt that the simultaneous visits of the American expositions commissioners, the Pacific Coast business men and the Atlantic fleet are part of an organized plan of the Japanese finally to wipe out all misunderstanding between Japan and America, and to give the visiting Americans an insight into the real attitude of Japan toward the United States. It is absolutely certain that already the marked effect upon the Americans has been produced.

Since the arrival of the fleet not a single unpleasant incident has occurred, though the sailors of both fleets are swarming through the towns about Yokohama and Tokio.

Speaking at the dinner given by Ambassador O'Brien last night, Admiral Sperry said that he was unable to account for the perfect way in which the plans to himself and his men had been carried out, but that it certainly surpassed anything of the kind that he had ever seen.

MAIL RECEIVED TODAY.

This morning, Admiral Sperry will be received at the Imperial Palace, and on the morning of Wednesday the admirals and captains will be received by the Emperor at the palace. Admiral Sperry will convey to the Emperor a message from President Roosevelt. The words of this message have not been given out; but there is reason to believe that it contains a spirit of friendship and sympathy and expresses keen appreciation of the traditional friendship between the two nations, and an earnest wish for the strengthening and continuance of the friendly relations of the past.

It is uncertain what reply the Emperor will make when this message is handed by Admiral Sperry; but it is considered possible that he may break his rule and make some statement in line similar to those used by President Roosevelt.

Three thousand sailors from the American fleet are granted shore liberty today, and it is remarkable that, notwithstanding their long confinement on board ship, not a single difficulty has been reported, bearing out the statement of Admiral Sperry, made in one of his speeches here, that the American sailor of today is the result of that devotion and education which Japan is giving to every department of her people.

The cities throughout Japan are endeavoring to outvie each other in expressing the visit of the fellow-countrymen. The programme is so elaborate that it cannot be carried out that at times there is somewhat monotonous. Still the Americans are given the opportunity to see more of Japan than the ordinary tourist could possibly obtain in the same time.

O'BRIEN'S SPEECH STIRS.

With the assembled flower of the Japanese and American navies as his audience, Thomas J. O'Brien, the American Ambassador to Japan, delivered a stirring address last night, in which he said that the fleets of war-ships were the assurances of peace, and declared the American battleship a united lesson in the friendly ideals of the brotherhood of nations.

The cordial and gratifying sentiments expressed by the guests of honor, which was held at the Imperial Hotel and attended by the highest officers of the Empire, included the health of Rear-Admiral Sperry and the men who had accompanied him on the memorable stage of the world cruise. Ambassador O'Brien expressed his delight at having the opportunity to extend the welcome and greeting to the fleet personally, personally the brave officers of the Japanese navy, who were with Americans in the battle of the Japan Sea, and with them in the glorious victory in which the two countries are entitled to indulge.

In the course of such men," he said, "I have found a devoted loyalty to my government, is the inspiration of a noble and friendly feeling."

Ambassador O'Brien referred briefly to the development of intercourse between America and Japan, fifty-six years ago, when Japan, seizing the opportunity presented, carried between the young and vigorous nation with the strength of the conservative purpose, finally of the conservative element of the nation.

In his response on behalf of the American officers, Rear-Admiral Sperry spoke with expressions of good will no less happily chosen, giving assurance of the gratitude shared by all for the splendid reception accorded the fleet upon its arrival and the abounding evidences of friendship and hospitality they had encountered upon every hand.

COUNT KOMURA RESPONDS.

Count Komura, Minister of Foreign Affairs, was introduced by Ambassador O'Brien. In the course of his remarks, the Count said the acceptance of the invitation to visit Japan by the American fleet afforded Japan an opportunity to give additional evidence of the friendly sentiments always entertained by the Japanese toward America and Americans. He said he was obliged to confess that Commodore Perry came as an unwelcome guest, but nevertheless, he inaugurated a new era in the history of Japan. Admiral Sperry, he continued, now comes as a welcome guest, and his advent gives new import to Japanese relations with America, both as regards commerce and good fellowship.

In conclusion, Count Komura said it was the hope of himself and his country that the friendship would continue unceasingly; and, on behalf of himself and the nation, he desired to express every hope for the welfare and prosperity of America and of Rear-Admiral Sperry and the other officers of the great American fleet.

Rear-Admiral Sperry, in response, made a telling speech, which was applauded to the echo and created great enthusiasm.

Speaking earnestly, he said he was unable to express in words his appreciation of the splendid reception given to the American fleet. Commodore Perry, he said, was an instrument in the hands of providence, fortunate for America and fortunate for Japan. His coming was instrumental in bringing about friendly relations between Japan and America, and had the effect of opening a country of marvelous resources and unheard of civilization to contact with the outside world. In this respect, continued the admiral, Commodore Perry did the world a great service.

EDUCATIONAL JAPAN.

Rear-Admiral Sperry then commented upon the educational achievements of Japan, declaring that they spoke volumes for the intelligence and progressiveness of the Japanese people. Since his arrival, he said, he had seen that thousands of children were being educated in every branch of knowledge and learning of the highest order demanded by civilization.

Admiral Sperry paid the highest possible tribute to the Japanese nation, and spoke feelingly of the evidences of its great advancement. In conclusion he said: "This visit of the American fleet will bring the two nations closer together than would a hundred years of ordinary intercourse, because this commingling of young men imbued with the same ideas and of a high order of intelligence, gives common ground for sympathy and mutual understanding."

Admiral Sperry brought his remarks to an end with a graceful tribute to the gallant achievements of the Japanese navy, which was received with prolonged applause by the Americans present.

The result of the dinner was to develop a feeling of warm friendship between the representatives of both countries, both naval and civilian.

MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT.

Adhering to the original programme of entertainment, Ambassador O'Brien will present to the Emperor and Empress of Japan tomorrow Admiral Sperry, the three rear-admirals commanding the other divisions, the chief of staff, the four flag lieutenants and the twenty-one captains commanding the battleships and the auxiliaries. The presentation will take place at 11:30 a. m.

The Ambassador will present the admirals, who in turn will present the captains and lieutenants. After the ceremony, the admirals will remain at the Imperial Palace for luncheon. The occasion is likely to be a notable one in a diplomatic as well as a social way.

Both Tokio and Yokohama are tonight ablaze with illuminations, and the reception to the Americans is in full sway. Constantly changing throngs of people are visiting Yokohama to view the great white warships which, brilliantly illuminated, lie at anchor close to the vessels of the Japanese fleet.

RUN DOWN BY AUTO.

Youth on Bicycle Painfully Injured When Automobile Runs Into His Wheel and Wrecks It.

Confused by two automobiles coming in opposite directions, Buel Martin, aged 14 years, who was riding a bicycle, was run down and painfully injured about 8 o'clock last night at Daly and East Main streets by an automobile in charge of R. W. Scott, chauffeur for C. J. Black of No. 2413 South Grand avenue. The lad was taken to the County Hospital in the automobile. He sustained a concussion of the brain and a laceration of the scalp. His injuries are not considered fatal. C. J. Black, owner of the machine, was in the tonneau at the time of the accident. He and Scott say they were not traveling more than ten miles an hour.

According to a report made by Patrolman Humphrey and Wallace, the boy was on the wrong side of the street. When one machine came up behind him, he crossed to the other side of the street directly in front of the other machine. Scott saw the youth in time to slow down before they collided. Young Martin lives with his parents at No. 3014 Baldwin avenue.

AN INDIANA "INSECTOLOGIST."

A Farmer Who Makes a Hobby of Collecting Insects and Whittling Objects.

[Exchange:] The two hobbies which for forty-five years have occupied the attention of Isaac B. Woods, a farmer of Summitville, Ind., are insects and whittled objects. He has been a devoted "insectologist," scorning the title of "entomologist," until now he has in his collection fully 100,000 insects classified and under glass, labeled with the common name as well as the scientific name in artistic letters.

Mr. Woods will, without a second's hesitation, tell the peculiarities of every insect in his collection, describe their food, how and where they breed and give a complete family history of any of the members of his immense collection, many of which he has hatched out in his "breeding cages" and in his "bug house," a one-story building which he built for an insect storeroom.

For the last five years Woods has during his spare moments been whittling on woods of all kinds, until now he has another collection which is as interesting as his insect collection. It is undoubtedly the finest collection of miniature farm and household belongings in the United States. An old-time log cabin, barn, corn crib, well sweep, surrounded by a pole fence, within which is arranged the farmer's tools of pioneer days, is but a beginning of the 10,000 pieces in the novel collection.

Among the belongings to the old-time "whittled" farm are the ash hopper, lizard, harrow, bobsled, grain flail, cane mill, hog gallows, hand rake, ricks of poles for wood maul and wedges and innumerable other things, all true in minutest detail, correct in miniature proportion and finished with artistic touch. It is, however, in the construction of a carpet loom, that his ingenuity is best shown, he having made everything that goes with the loom, including cards, distaff, flax brake, reels and a d zen other bits of machinery that are a mystery to the generation of today. It is all in correct working order, all geared up to one wheel, and every one of the 100 or more wheels, shuttles and spindles runs when power is applied, weaving a strip of carpet about six inches in width.

Meanest Man in Ireland.

The champion mean man has been discovered in Belfast. He is Thomas Spence, a foreman in a ship yard, earning a comfortable income, and a few days ago he was summoned by his wife for assaulting her. His wife stated that he had never allowed her more than 25 cents a week for her food. He bought his own food and cooked it himself. He kept his sugar in a covered bowl and every day he placed a live fly under the cover in order that he might know by the fly's escape if his wife lifted the cover during his absence and helped herself to his sugar. He also measured his loaf with a rule before leaving home, and on his return every day, to see if his wife had taken a slice. The assault which she complained of was because he found his loaf an eighth of an inch short, on his return from work. The magistrates ordered Spence to provide proper food for his wife and made him give sureties to carry out their order.

Reason for Fear.

Little Johnnie, aged 6, had been in church and had displayed more than usual interest in the sermon, in which the origin of the Eve had been dwelt on at some length. On his return from the services, there being company to dinner, he had also displayed a good deal of interest in the eatables, especially the mince pie and cakes. Some time afterward, being missed, he was found sitting quietly in a corner with his hands pressed tightly over his ribs and an expression of awful anxiety on his face.

"Why, what on earth is the matter?" asked his mother in alarm.

"Mamma, I'm afraid I'm going to

RIOT OF COLOR AT OLD MISSION.

SAN GABRIEL'S FIESTA-BAZAAR VERY PICTURESQUE.

Brilliant Decorations and Costumes Recall Time When Dons Ruled. Mayor Makes Opening Address, Urging Willing Giving for Ancient Edifice's Restoration.

In the midst of a perfect riot of color and picturesqueness, the "Harvest Moon Fiesta Bazaar" opened at the Old Mission at San Gabriel last night.

Scores of fascinating Spanish girls, in quaint costumes of red, black, yellow and gold, flitting about in the glow of the colored lights; lads in the rich costumes of the dons of other days; sedate señoras, adorned with magnificent silk-embroidered draperies that have been handed down from former generations; gaudily-decorated tables under the trees and arbors, illuminated by large camp fires—all led the imagination back to years of romance and ease.

The scene of the festivities, which will continue through the week, is the rectangle formed by the Old Mission, the new rectory, modeled after the Mission San Luis Rey, and the new chapel.

It is 137 years since the Old Mission was founded, and in the museum the rich vestments of silk and gold were displayed. Some of them were brought from Spain 180 years ago, but these are as brilliant in coloring as if they came only yesterday from the loom. And the paintings, hundreds of years old, are splendidly preserved.

Though the weather last night was not what was hoped for, the crowd was large, and there was nothing to suggest that the air was not as balmy as in midsummer. The lightly-clad attendants flitted about after dimes and quarters.

Ex-Judge Northrup of Alhambra was master of ceremonies at the meeting in the garden, and introduced Mayor Harper, who referred to the days of his boyhood, when the mission was in a good state of preservation, and called upon the people to give willingly for its restoration.

Monsigneur Garnett, vicar of St. Vibiana's Cathedral, representing Bishop Conaty, made a brief address, in which he advocated the restoration of all the missions, not by the Catholic church, nor by the people of each neighborhood, but by the State of California.

"The old missions do not belong to the Catholic church," he said, "nor to the people of any community. They belong to the State of California, and it is but right that the State should restore them, to be a joy forever."

His idea was received with enthusiasm, and started discussion as to the possibility of bringing about the end suggested.

A programme was rendered in the new chapel, under the direction of Mrs. M. G. Gonzales, which, like everything else, was distinctly Spanish. There was a song and dance by Miss Grace Lariuez, songs by Miss Myrtle Gonzales, J. Park Jones, Mrs. Frances Martinez de Polette, Miss Millie Williams, Miss Stella Gonzales, and Mrs. Gonzales.

Native Sons and Daughters will be in charge of the festival tonight. R. F. Del Valle will deliver an address, and there will be attractive festivities in great variety.

Each evening during the week will be marked by something new, and those who attend will not want for entertainment. In order to accommodate the people of the city a special car service will be inaugurated by the Pacific Electric today.

M. T. Garrett, well known as a colonizer in Sonora, Mex., is a guest at the Angelus. He stopped off here for a few days while on his way from San Francisco to the southern republic.

A party of tourists registered at the Lankershim is composed of Mrs. E. B. Hawkins, her daughters, Annie and Jessey, and her son, E. B. Hawkins, Jr. Their home is in Wheeling, W. Va.

J. E. Blackman, a New York banker, who has been coming here yearly for a number of years, arrived yesterday at the Westminster. He was accompanied by H. C. Vanderberg of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Scarritt and Miss Helen Hendrit, form a party of Kansas City people, who are at the Van Nuys. Mr. Scarritt is a broker and the trip here is on business as well as pleasure.

Arthur L. Dahl, assistant to Forest Supervisor R. H. Chariton of this city, leaves shortly for San Francisco, where he will have charge of the maintenance department of the forestry bureau in that city.

S. E. Busser, superintendent of the Santa Fé reading-room system, an institution for the employés of the railroad, whose home is in San Francisco, arrived yesterday at the Angelus. He has just completed a trip through Italy where he investigated similar reading-

THE COME AND SEE SIGN

This sign is permanently attached to the front of the main building of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

What Does This Sign Mean?

It means that public inspection of the Laboratory and methods of doing business is honestly desired. It means that there is nothing about the business which is not "open and aboveboard."

It means that a permanent invitation is extended to anyone to come and verify any and all statements made in the advertisements of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Is it a purely vegetable compound made from roots and herbs—without drugs?

Come and See.

Do the women of America continually use as much of it as we are told?

Come and See.

Was there ever such a person as Lydia E. Pinkham, and is there any Mrs. Pinkham now to whom sick woman are asked to write?

Come and See.

Is the vast private correspondence with sick women conducted by women only, and are the letters kept strictly confidential?

Come and See.

Have they really got letters from over one million, one hundred thousand women correspondents?

Come and See.

Have they proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured thousands of these women?

Come and See.

This advertisement is only for doubters. The great army of women who know from their own personal experience that no medicine in the world equals Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female ills will still go on using and being benefited by it; but the poor doubting, suffering woman must, for her own sake, be taught confidence, for she also might just as well regain her health.

GIBSON'S EARLY WORK.

His Extravagant Ideas Tempered by the Rejection of a Number of Drawings.

When Charles Dana Gibson was at Harvard they thought a great deal of him as an athlete and good fellow, but turned up their noses at his drawings. Whatever else Gibson privately thought of his work, he probably knew it could be done better, and kept at it; but he got little encouragement when he put it before those who buy such things; and so, when the editor of Life took one of his pictures which he had called "The Moon and I" and handed him a check for it, Gibson, it is told, was made very certain that fortune was within his grasp. The check was for four dollars. Gibson straightway did a sum in arithmetic: If one such drawing was worth four dollars, five drawings were worth twenty dollars. To decide just what this meant in daily income he sat down and did five drawings in rapid succession. Early the next morning he took them to Life's office. The editor glanced at them and handed back all five, accompanied, it is said, by a reflection upon the workmanship they displayed which sent Gibson's castle in the air to the ground.

At the same time, however, the scales fell from the artist's eyes, and he was able to do his sum in arithmetic somewhat after this fashion: If one whole day of honest work, plus an original idea from observation of life, was worth a certain fraction of twenty dollars, then two days of similar work, plus an equally good idea, is worth more than double that same fraction of twenty dollars. This last proposition seemed to him the better one, and he proceeded to try it out, and it was on that basis he continued his work. It has proved a rather sound basis, too, judging by results; for not long ago it was reported that certain editors paid Gibson fifty thousand dollars a year for his exclusive services, and now he is abroad doing things with colors which will accomplish for him no one knows how much.—[Exchange.

Wanted to See It Explode.

At a dinner in New York given by a prominent railway man there was among the guests an Englishman who, during the course of his remarks concerning titled Britons who have taken up useful work, told an amusing story of Lord Ross, himself a practical engineer.

It appears that Ross, unknown to the employés, once entered the engine room of a large manufactory where his odd behavior attracted the engineer's attention.

"What's up now?" he growled at the peer. "Why are you shaking your head in that way, and looking at your watch every second? Anything to find fault with?"

"Oh," replied Lord Ross, "it's all the same to me. I've no fault to find. I am just waiting till the boiler explodes."

"The boiler explodes? Why, you are a crazy man," exclaimed the engineer, angrily, preparing to turn his lordship out as a dangerous crank.

"Well," retorted the earl, "if you work ten minutes longer with that loose screw the boiler will certainly explode."

The engineer glanced in the direction indicated by Lord Ross, paled and jumped to stop the engine.

"Why didn't you say so sooner?" he asked.

"Why should I?" nonchalantly rejoined the peer, "I never yet have had an opportunity of seeing a boiler explode."—[Exchange.

One Man's Numerous Troubles.

While on the way to the funeral of her 9-month-old daughter, Mrs. John V. Shoemaker of Harrisburg, Pa., became seriously ill with heart trouble, and was unable to proceed to the cemetery.

On the return from the grave Mr. Shoemaker took his wife home from a physician's office, and shortly after that a fire broke out in the home.

Mr. Shoemaker extinguished this, and then went down the cellar to ascertain if any damage had been done there. Then he ran a nail into his right eye. Mrs. Shoemaker is happily on the road to recovery. It is likely that Mr. Shoe-

Classified Liners.

Times Classified rates: the rate for inserting "Want" ads. in The Daily Times is 1c per word for each insertion; in the Sunday issue 1½c per word, each insertion; minimum charge 25c; except under following classifications the rate for which is 10c per line, minimum charge 10 cents: "Society Meetings," "Personals," "Special Notices," and "Baths and Massage."

"Liner" (classified) advertisements for Sunday insertion received over the counter or by telephone after 11:30 o'clock Saturday nights will be inserted under heading "Too Late To Classify."

Sunday real estate advertisements, to be classified properly, must be in The Times office before 10:30 o'clock Saturday night. Rate 1¼ cents per word.

The Sunday circulation of The Times exceeds 77,500 copies, and more "liners" are regularly printed in its columns than in the five other Los Angeles newspapers combined.

Telephone your want advertisements. Ring up "The Times" any time of day or night and secure prompt and careful attention.

The Times cannot guarantee accuracy or assume responsibility for errors of any kind occurring in telephoned advertisements.

THE TIMES will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

Advertisers should retain receipts given by The Times in payment for "Liners," as no mistakes can be rectified without them.

WEDS MOTHER OF GIRL THOUGHT TO BE HIS FIANC

Mr. and Mrs. Abner P. Shoemaker, who are coming to Coast for auto tour, now that news of wedding is di

NEW YORK, October 18.—Although friends of Abner P. Shoemaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis P. Shoemaker of Washington, D.C., thought that he was to marry Miss Marie Godman, a student at the National Park Seminary, Forest Glen, Md., Mr. Shoemaker said that those friends had been "on the wrong track" and that he had married Mrs. Henry C. Godman, the mother of Miss Godman.

Mrs. Godman and Mr. Shoemaker were married in London on August 25, but news of the marriage has just been made known. Mr. Shoemaker, who is 22 years old, said at the Herald Square Hotel that there had been a quiet wedding, because Henry C. Godman, husband of Mrs. Godman, died only six months ago.

Mr. Godman was a banker in Columbus, O., and was known throughout that State because of his philanthropic work. Following the death his widow and her daughter went abroad. Mr. Shoemaker joined them in Europe, and having found that it was impossible to be married in Paris they went a don for the ceremony.

"We wanted to be married in Mr. Shoemaker said, "but we we could not conform to the laws there. Miss Goodman was sent when we were married in where the marriage laws are strict. THE LAW'S FAILURES.

EXACT JUSTICE NOT ALWAYS.

STRIKING INSTANCES WHERE INNOCENT PERSONS SUFFERED.

Circumstantial Evidence Drove an Innocent Man Into the Ranks of the Criminal Class—Another Man Serves a Life Sentence Because Twice Convicted When Innocent.

[New York Tribune:] Undoubtedly there are criminals who have been made such through maladministration of justice. Men have been arrested in crimes in which they were unwitting accomplices, and sentenced to terms of imprisonment. Some of them have afterward succumbed to the temptation to have the game as well as the name.

The instigator of the great Ocean Bank robbery in New York, in which more than $2,000,000 was secured by the burglars, according to the account written a short time ago by the man who lays claim to the authorship of that famous crime, became a criminal through a miscarriage of justice. According to his story, when a young man he was the owner of a hoter and livery stable in Eastern Massachusetts. He had been thrifty and had laid away a few thousand dollars. One day a stranger applied to him for a team with a driver. He went as the driver himself. When they reached their destination, a town a number of miles away, the stranger left him to attend to the business which had brought him to the place. They drove quickly away when the stranger returned to the carriage, as he said he was in a hurry. It developed afterward that the livery man's patron was a professional bank burglar, and that he had robbed an institution in the town to which he had been driven. The directors of the bank put detectives on the case. They learned that the hotelkeeper had driven a stranger to the place on the night of the robbery. The most prominent director, who was the largest stockholder in the bank, realizing that he would have to bear a large part of the loss of the $60,000, decided to make an effort to secure the conviction of the well-to-do hotelkeeper as one of the criminals. His object was to put it within his power to secure the property of the young man as a partial restitution. The innkeeper was brought to trial, and on the strength of the chain of circumstantial evidence presented, he was held as one of the robbers and his property was confiscated. He managed to escape from custody and a reward was placed upon his head. He came to New York and obtained employment in Stewart's store. A friend chanced to visit the store and recognized him. Fearing that the temptation to secure the reward of $1000 would prove stronger than the bond of friendship, he immediately left the store. His surmise was correct, for the former friend reported the discovery by telegraph. He finally decided that he might as well become a fugitive from justice if he was to be a fugitive at all, and he became a burglar.

"If the law was always just in operation there would be no need of courts of equity," said the counsel of a society formed in 1835 for the purpose of securing justice for those who are suffering from errors in judgment arising from one cause or another. "Even the courts of equity do not always meet the case. That is the reason we have called our organization the Literal Justice League. We seek exact justice on the merits of the case, wherever an injustice has been done, either through failure of the terms of the law to meet the conditions of case or miscarriage of justice."

From the records of this little organization, which includes the of perhaps 100 cases which it investigated, according to its c is evident that the innocent times suffer for crimes of which mission they were ignorant; tishment does not always fit the that homicide committed in offense sometimes is punished as were done maliciously, and the criminal law in this country times turned into an instrument the accomplishment of the purposes an enemy or the satisfaction of personal vengeance.

From the records of this little known organization, which include the detail of perhaps 100 cases which it has in vestigated, according to an officer, it is evident that the innocent sometimes suffer for crimes of whose commission they were ignorant; that punishment does not always fit the crime; that homicide committed in self-defense sometimes is punished as if it were done maliciously, and that the criminal law in this country is sometimes turned into an instrument for the accomplishment of the purposes of an enemy or the satisfaction of personal vengeance.

Ignorance of rights on the part of the victims oftentimes is their undoing. Unaware of their right to have counsel at the expense of the state, men who have no money have had to prison for long periods. Perjury sometimes is responsible for their plight. In some cases the color of the skin is accepted as evidence damaging to the defendant when the accused person happens to be a negro.

The story of a German youth, 18 years old, who thought he would like adventure connected with army life in time of war, and came to this country in 1898 for the purpose of enlisting in the United States Cavalry in the war with Spain, illustrates how a man may suffer from circumstantial evidence when in absolute ignorance of his connection with a crime. He had been in this country only a few days when he chanced to meet in a New York restaurant a clever person who spoke German. They fell into conversation and the young fellow told of his desires and his fear that his lack of knowledge of English would make difficult to secure enlistment.

"I, too, wish to enlist," said the stranger across the table. "We will go together. I will show you. We go to Washington. There is the place to enlist."

They started for Washington. Before reaching Baltimore, however, the young stranger said that he had learned that Washington was crowded with men desiring to serve, and they would stand a better chance in Richmond. They, therefore, went to Richmond on their arrival there a room was engaged, and they went out to eat. The young found friend said he knew two men living in Richmond, and that they would call on them. One was a man, he said, so they would have to use some caution. As they approached the neighborhood after dark where the women were supposed to be living the innocent young German was directed to wait around the corner while the ground was reconnoitered to determine if the husband was at home. In a little while the man returned with a police officer under his arm. He said the husband was expected home at any moment. They were to postpone the arrest until the following evening. The young officer, he explained, contained some clothing belonging to the married woman. She was going away with him on the morrow.

The young fellow accepted the explanation in good faith, and was much astonished shortly to be arrested with his companion for burglary. The package contained silverware. He was charged with being an accomplice. He was convicted on circumstantial evidence and sentenced to four years' imprisonment, while the other man was sent to the penitentiary to serve a term of eighteen years. Through a story told by another prisoner in the same prison, whose pardon the young German came to the city of the pardon had secured, the story of the frame-up was brought to its attention. The German at first hesitated to tell of his visited he at first hesitated to tell of his experience because of his small knowledge of English, but finally was persuaded to do so. He was pardoned and returned to Germany, where no longer lives, of his trouble.

Another case which the history investigated shows how the punishment sometimes may be out of all proportion to the crime. For more than half a century John Ott, according to the story uncovered, has been in the state prison paying the penalty for stealing a wreck. The theft was committed for the sake of securing a shutter in order to buy a gallery with which to hear a famous singer. He may be there until his life for a song. He did not even hear the song.

COUNTING THE DEAD IN THE FOREST FIRES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ALPENA (Mich.) Oct. 19.—The certain death from forest fires in Presque Isle and Alpena counties stands tonight at twenty-one, with several persons still reported missing and a probability of several loss of life in Northern Pulaski and Krakow townships in Presque Isle county.

At least sixty families were living near the shore of Lake Huron in the northern half of Pulaski and Krakow townships and nothing has been heard of them since the fire.

At Grand Lake, a farmer, his wife and four children are known to have taken refuge in a boat and nothing has since been heard from them.

A dozen school children sent home by teachers have not been heard from.

FEAR FOR GRACE HARBOR.

While big fires are still burning throughout the northern tier of counties, not a single village or town is now known to be in danger and only the Hurst branch of the Detroit & Mackinaw Railroad is out of commission.

Some apprehension is felt for Grace Harbor, which is located on the shore of Lake Huron, northeast of here. No word has been received from there since the fire.

At the lowest estimate there are 1700 people homeless and there is not even an adequate supply of water.

The Detroit & Mackinac Railroad Company ordered 150 pumps sent into the fire district. The relief fund at Alpena has reached $3000 and is growing rapidly.

Four of the seven bodies found yesterday between Rogers City and Metz have been identified, and the wife and three children of Herman Erke, whose cremation in a logging camp was reported last night.

BIRDS ROOST ON SHIP.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The Scottish bark Lass of Killierankie, which is now in the harbor, was made a way station on her way here by flocks of birds blown off shore.

Leaving Passage Dock, the little port between Queenstown and Cork, on Sunday, a Monday storm, which did great damage to British shipping, drove the Lass of Killierankie out by the Scilly Isles and the Bay of Biscay.

Knowing the uselessness of trying to beat back to Queenstown, Capt. Vint kept on to the southward and to the westward of that island. Then he felt the alarming accompaniments of heat, humidity and tumbling barometer, which was the effect of the first Indian cyclone. In the latitude of 35 N. vast numbers of birds, which had been driven off shore, alighted on the ship.

As near as Capt. Vint could calculate there were hundreds of them, dippers, swallows, finches, jays, kingfishers, woodpeckers, hawks, snipe, fringillas, gulls, terns and loons.

All appeared to be much exhausted, and were glad to rest on the rigging or decks. Birds that were naturally at odds and ends ashore, in the presence of common peril and weakness, overlooked one another's presence.

Birds of the same kind left at the same time, they having still 400 or 500 miles to make before reaching shore.

Five Bishops Will Aid in Memorial Services of Late Bishop H. C. Potter.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Five bishops will take part in the memorial services for Bishop Henry Codman Potter, who died at his summer home, Cooperstown, N. Y., July 21 last. The services will take place at Grace Episcopal Church, Broadway and Tenth street, at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Bishop David H. Greer, successor to Bishop Potter, will be in charge, and the others will be the Rt. Rev. William Lawrence, bishop of Massachusetts; the Rt. Rev. William N. McVickar of Rhode Island; the Rt. Rev. Alexander MacKay Smith, coadjutor bishop of Pennsylvania, and the Rt. Rev. William H. Hare, missionary bishop of South Dakota.

Word has been received from the Rt. Rev. Daniel S. Tuttle of Missouri that he will be unable to attend, owing to ill health.

Cards have been sent to every Episcopal bishop in the country, the 400 clergy in the New York diocese, and to many clergymen of other denominations who were friends of the late bishop. Among these are Archbishop Farley of the Roman Catholic church.

WORK BUSY IN NEW YORK.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The birth rate in Manhattan is now greater than in any of the boroughs of Greater New York, according to the latest figures of the health department. It amounts to more than 25 per 1000 of the population a year, which, based upon the number of families for each 100 population here, means that a baby is born once a year in every other family in the borough. There were 7250 births last month.

The death rate in Brooklyn is now slightly higher than in Manhattan, 16 out of each 1000 of population.

The financial panic has left a grim record of suicide deaths from heart disease in its wake, the increase being 10 per cent. There has also been an increase of 12 per cent. in cancer.

The panic, in combination with the cold weather, caused a decrease of almost one-third in the number of marriages in Greater New York.

Undertakers, on the contrary, have greatly increased.

STAUNTON (Va.) Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A sensation developed here today, when Mary E. Field of Los Angeles, Cal., assisted by a California lawyer, presented to take her son, Frederick Field, from Stanton Military Academy, where he was placed in September last by his father, Benjamin Field. The lawyer and boy were at the office of Capt. W. G. Kable, superintendent of the school, learning of their arrival, interfered.

A writ was served today, and a writ of habeas corpus was sued out by him before the boy, who, with the consent of the parents are separated, is guaranteed in a hotel in this city. The habeas corpus proceedings and can-cellation of the writ will be heard before Judge Paul in the circuit court here on Friday next, when Capt. W. G. Kable, superintendent of the school, will have possession of the son, ex-pected to arrive from a Los Angeles court with the mother. The case will be heard one month in the circuit court here when the father has him. It is said that the father took him to Canada and placed him in the custody of a guardian in the province, where he placed the youngster, who is 16 years old, in the military

ORGANIZE IN SAN FRANCISCO.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—Servian residents of San Francisco and vicinity will tonight assemble in a mass meeting at Golden Gate Hall, to inaugurate a movement in support of the independence of Bosnia and Herzegovina, the provinces recently annexed by Austria.

Resolutions already indorsed by the Servian Club, denouncing Austria as a tyrannical oppressor, will be submitted for approval and it is probable that there will be a call for volunteers to enlist in case of a war in the Balkans.

Women of the Servian colony have taken active part in the movement and matters have progressed to such an extent that Servian bands are being drilled in several coast cities by former officers of the Austrian and Montenegrian armies.

WOULD FREE AMERICAN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 19.—The case of Adolph Fisher, a naturalized American citizen, who has been held for the past ten months in Russian jails, has been taken up by the Russian press, and, with this cooperation, the efforts of the American Embassy to secure his release may prove successful.

Fisher was arrested in a restaurant in Samara, frequented by petty criminals, on the suspicion of being implicated in a murder. Subsequently his innocence was established, but he was kept in jail in St. Petersburg, where in the meantime, he had been transferred. The Foreign Office has repeatedly assured the embassy that it has nothing against Fisher and is ready to turn him over to the American authorities at some American port.

Fisher claims that he was not aware of the character of the restaurant where he was arrested.

ALABAMA HOME AGAIN.

Arrives in New York, Fit for a Fight, After Circumnavigating Globe.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Through a dull brown curtain of haze and smoke which overhung the tortuous entrance to New York harbor, this afternoon the battleship Alabama crept cautiously into port and dropped anchor off Tomkinsville, completing a voyage around the world in 200 days. More than 35,000 miles of all the seas of all the world lay behind her.

The battleship Maine arrived at Portsmouth harbor this morning.

Except in one particular, the Alabama finished her trip as fit for a fight as when she sailed from Hampton Roads on December 16, last, as one of the great fleet which went forth on a mission of peace.

Seven years of steaming has put the boilers of the great ship to a severe test and repairs are necessary.

In a few days the Alabama will go into the navy yard at Brooklyn to undergo an overhauling.

COAT OF ARMS FOR CHURCH.

Methodist Bishop Advocates "Shirt Sleeves" as the Best One Possible to Use.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Shirt sleeves as an up-to-date coat of arms for the church, was urged upon Methodist ministers by Bishop John W. Hamilton, formerly of California, as he addressed them at their weekly meeting in Wesleyan Hall today. The bishop was speaking of the immigrant and how he should be assimilated. He said:

"What are you going to do about it? I tell you gather them into the churches. Break down your prejudices; your social barriers. They will come in if you want them. Get down to shirt sleeves and make a pair of them the church's coat of arms. Unless we bring these people to the cross of Christ we shall never be able to solve the great problem of New England."

TWO KILLED BY TORNADO.

Hurricane Blows Over Caboose of Work Train, and Many Are Injured.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHEYENNE (Wyo.) Oct. 19.—Two persons were killed and twenty-eight were more or less seriously injured, as the result of a small tornado blowing the caboose of a Union Pacific work train down a 30-foot embankment, near Sherman this evening.

The two men killed were laborers. A relief train with physicians was started from here as soon as notice of the wreck was received, and all possible assistance was rendered to the injured.

The wind blew a gale during the afternoon and developed into a small tornado in the evening. The other cars in the train were flats and did not leave the track.

MURDERER MUST HANG.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The Supreme Court of the United States today dismissed for want of jurisdiction the appeal of Herman Billik from the decision of Judge Landis of the United States Circuit Court for the northern district of Illinois, denying the petition for a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Billik, who is under sentence of death in Chicago on the charge of murdering a number of people.

It is believed that Billik will not get another stay of proceedings and, therefore, that the sentence of the trial court will soon be executed.

The new Federal statute requiring Federal courts to issue certificates of probable justification in granting appeals in criminal cases was brought into use for the first time in connection with this case, the State's attorney for Cook county citing the law for the purpose of showing that it had not been complied with, and on that account, asking for the dismissal of the case.

The refusal of the Supreme Court of the United States to act in the case of Herman Billik of Chicago brings to an end one of the most notable struggles ever made in the history of American jurisprudence to save the life of a condemned man.

Billik was indicted two years ago for the murder of five members of the Vzral family and finally sentenced to hang. His last hope lies with the Governor of Illinois.

Billik received the news of the action of the Supreme Court with composure. It is stated that his many escapes from execution have possessed him of the idea that he will never hang.

"The fight has just begun," he declared without the slightest trace of despondence.

W.C.T.U. DELEGATES GATHER.

Coming Convention at Denver Will Be Most Important in History of Organization.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

DENVER, Oct. 19.—Delegates representing practically every civilized nation of the world, will gather in this city this week to attend the thirty-fifth annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, which meeting, it is declared, will be one of the most important in the history of the organization.

This year for the first time, the convention proper, which begins on Friday next, will be preceded by a day of prayer and praise, Wednesday, and an institute, to be held on Thursday, when national superintendents of the various departments will lecture on methods to be pursued in order to obtain the best results in the work.

Among the subjects to be considered are the passage of the Littlefield bill; the retention of the anti-canteen law; the prevention of the sale of liquor in all government buildings; the passage of State laws forbidding the sale of liquor within four miles of soldier's camps, tents, etc., and a provision for an amendment to the constitution advocating the prohibition of the liquor traffic everywhere.

COINS FOR MUSEUM.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Local coin collectors are widely discussing the report that the celebrated collection of gold coins gathered by the late Dewitt Smith, a wealthy paper manufacturer of Lynn, Mass., has passed into the possession of the Field Columbian Museum of Chicago, for the sum of $35,000.

It is said the coins would have fetched $50,000 at public auction.

Coin experts regard this as the most complete collection of gold pieces that passed current in the early days of California, Oregon, Utah and Colorado. He paid $1310 for one $10 gold piece, and always was an important factor at the big coin sales.

Devoted to American gold coins in particular, yet Mr. Smith lacked a specimen of the famous New York brasher doubleon, struck in this city in 1787. When a specimen of this rarity was disposed of at the Stickney sale, in 1906, he bid up to $6100 for it, then stopped, and the piece was knocked down to another collector for $8200, the highest price ever paid for a coin.

Mr. Smith also had a very complete series of all the American silver coins, which he disposed of a short time previous to his death.

COL. TUCKER IMPROVING.

"Mysterious Woman," Cause of Colonel's Trouble, Has Quietly Dropped Out of Sight.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HOT SPRINGS (Ark.) Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is authoritatively stated tonight that Col. William F. Tucker, who is a patient at the Army and Navy Hospital, is improving. It is very doubtful, however, whether he will recover.

When a press correspondent called at the Arlington Hotel tonight to solicit an interview with G. H. Frey and the mysterious woman who accompanied the latter here with Col. Tucker, he was informed that the couple had paid their bill and departed this morning.

The impression they left was that they had rented a small cottage, but they left no address and cannot be located. It has been a general surmise that the woman with Mr. "Frey" is Mrs. Platt, who has figured so prominently in the wife abandonment proceedings brought against Col. Tucker, but there is excellent authority for the statement that Mr. Frey and his companion are merely relatives of the invalid army officer.

MRS. CLEVELAND A WITNESS.

Testifies Before Grand Jury Regarding Authenticity of Husband's Letter Indorsing Taft.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Grover Cleveland, attired in widow's weeds, was a witness before the grand jury this afternoon in the investigation of the authenticity of the alleged Grover Cleveland letter indorsing the candidacy of William H. Taft, which was sold to the New York Times by Broughton Brandenburgh, the magazine writer.

Mrs. Cleveland testified as to her knowledge of the interview granted by her husband to Brandenburgh at Princeton last spring, and also gave testimony as to the genuineness of the signature appended to the Brandenburgh article.

Other witnesses heard were Dr. Joseph Bryant, for many years President Cleveland's family physician; Richard Watson Gilder, one of President Cleveland's most intimate friends, and David N. Carvalho, the handwriting expert. Two other witnesses, whose identities were not disclosed, also were heard.

Dist.-Atty. Jerome refused to discuss the case.

LETTER DISCLOSED SECRET.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BRIDGEPORT (Ct.) Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Ernest M. Jaycox, a daughter of Noyes E. Alling, president of the Alling Rubber Company, has left her husband, and it is said she will never go back to him. Nor will she return to this city to face the publicity following the swift-moving events of the past three weeks. An intercepted letter from Mrs. Jaycox to Charles L. Holmes, a married man, residing in Poplar street, started the trouble.

A family council, followed by a flying automobile trip to Hartford, to which city, it was feared Mrs. Jaycox had gone, scoldings, a declaration of independence on the part of Mrs. Jaycox and her flight from the home of her parents, have all figured in the events of the past three weeks. It is said that Mrs. Jaycox is now in New York.

HURT IN TROLLEY CRASH.

San Francisco Cable Car Runs Away and Three May Die of Injuries.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—Three people were seriously, perhaps fatally, injured and several others hurt, in a runaway cable car accident this morning on the Washington and Jackson street line, as a result of the breaking of the grip.

The injured:

POLICEMAN CHARLES FRANCIS, probable fracture of the skull, extensive lacerations and abrasions of face and arms.

MRS. F. TAIT, possible fracture of skull, internally injured and badly bruised and cut.

J. W. DEMERRITT, injury to spine, causing paralysis of lower limbs.

MISS FRANCES SMITH, cuts, abrasions, and bruises.

GRIPMAN JAMES SINNETT, knees and hands cut.

The car, inbound, and packed with people on their way downtown to their work, had just turned over the Washington-street hill and was starting down the steep descent when the grip broke loose from the cable and the car shot forward, gaining speed with every revolution of the wheels. The gripman, James Sinnett, made a frantic effort to pick up the cable, but the grip would not work. Finding that the brakes would not hold on the wet, slippery rails, he jumped off at Mason street and escaped with cuts on his hands and knees. The car struck the sharp curve at the foot of the hill where the track makes a sharp turn into Powell street, at terrific speed and turned completely around the dummy heading up the hill.

Policeman Francis, standing on the rear platform, and Mrs. F. Tait, who were riding outside on the dummy, were both hurled off with terrific force, receiving probable fatal injuries to both. They were taken to the Central Emergency Hospital in an unconscious condition. J. W. Demerritt, who was also thrown off, was paralyzed by an injury to his spine. The passengers inside of the car were severely shaken up but none received serious injuries.

KILLED BY INDIANS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

MISSOULA (Mont.) Oct. 19.—A telephone message from Ovando, Powell county, says that Deputy Warden C. B. Peyton and four Flathead Indians are dead, as a result of a pitched battle between Deputy Peyton, his assistant, Herman Rudolph and a band of Flathead Indians near Hollands Prairie on Swan River yesterday afternoon.

Peyton and Rudolph were attempting to arrest the Indians for hunting without a license and killing deer. Peyton went to the camp of the Indians and told them that they must accompany him to Missoula. Without warning, they immediately fired on the deputy with rifles, which was returned by Peyton and Rudolph. Yellow Head was one of the Indians killed, others are unknown.

OBITUARY.

Alfred Darlow.

OMAHA, Oct. 19.—Alfred Darlow, formerly advertising manager of the Union Pacific Railroad, died at his home in this city today. He had undergone two operations recently. Mr. Darlow resigned his position with the Union Pacific on September 1, after completing a period of twenty years with that company. He was one of the best known railroad advertising men in the United States.

POLITICAL BRIEFS.

Crocker Chips in.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—A cablegram from Richard Croker, dated Dublin, Ireland, subscribing $1000 to the national Democratic campaign fund and $500 for the State campaign fund in behalf of Lewis S. Chanler, was today received by National Treasurer Rider.

RAIN ON COAST.
SNOW IN MOUNTAINS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN JOSE, Oct. 19.—Slight showers are falling today with strong indications of a storm.

Modesto.

STOCKTON, Oct. 19.—A light shower fell here today, but there are indications this afternoon of more rain.

Stockton.

MODESTO, Oct. 19.—High fog dispelled this morning by light showers. Clearing weather shows high Sierras covered with snow. Twenty inches of snow are reported at Camp Relief, near the summit.

SHOCK IN PHILIPPINES.

MANILA, Oct. 20.—Two sharp earthquake shocks were felt here today, followed by a third, which was less severe. No damage was done in or about Manila, and as yet no report has been received from other points on the island. The first shock came at 10:50 a.m., the second at 1.40 p.m. and the third at 3:10 p.m.

Miguel de la Torre, collector of internal revenue for the province of Havana, Cuba, was arrested last night charged with embezzling $195,000 of the funds of his department.

Demoralized the Pigs.

"You certainly run up against funny things in the country," said the young man who had just returned from up State, where his uncle had a large farm. "On the way up to my uncle's house I had to pass the stockyards, where he kept a lot of pigs. As I passed those hundreds of pigs seemed to be having a regular stampede or panic of some kind—they were rushing madly about, apparently looking for something. I watched them for quite awhile, but could see nothing but a small woodpecker sitting on the fence. When I got to the house I asked Uncle Jim what on earth was the matter with the hogs, they seemed so excited.

"That so? Well, it was this way—there was a spell back some weeks when I had a bad cold, lost my voice, and couldn't call those critters to their feed, so I got the idea of bringin' them to the trough by tappin' my stick on the wooden fence, and ever since them pesky woodpeckers came around the hogs just go crazy, thinkin' I'm callin' them to give them somethin' to eat.'"—[New York Press.

Fast Life in Kansas.

In Kansas trees of the same varieties are rushed to maturity long before they get their growth in the East. They bear liberally at an age which would mean nothing in the way of a crop in cooler and more sober regions. The decay comes with astonishing rapidity, and at eighteen or twenty years the trees begin to die by wholesale.

There's a moral in such changes wrought by soil and weather. Why should men and women be expected to go their calm and conservative ways in a region which demoralizes apple orchards so completely? Is the human animal altogether exempt from the influences which turn sedate trees into mushroomlike and flighty growths?

In the large view of nature and life, it looks as if the Kansas orchards were making a better apology for the Kansas Populists than they ever invented for themselves.

CAR HITS MOTORCYCLE.

Rider Painfully Injured in Collision Following His Attempt to Cross the Track.

In a collision with a Maple-avenue car at Twenty-eighth street and Maple avenue about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, R. E. Meyhart of Alhambra, who was riding a motorcycle, was dragged several rods by the fender of the street car and was painfully injured. He was taken to the Crocker-street Hospital, where it was found by the attending physicians that he had sustained a concussion of the brain, lacerations and bruises. It is believed, however, that he will recover.

The accident occurred when Meyhart attempted to cross the tracks in front of the car. His motorcycle was caught by the fender and demolished, while the rider was thrown against the front of the car and held by the fender. Meyhart is employed as a clerk by the Overell Furniture Company at Seventh and Main streets.

Paul Martoella, a fish peddler, was thrown from his wagon at Fourth street and Central avenue about 6 o'clock last night when his horse became frightened at an automobile and bolted. The front wheel of the wagon passed over Martoella's neck inflicting a laceration which almost severed the jugular vein. He was taken to the Crocker-street Hospital, where he was attended. Martoella lives with his family at No. 759 Clanton street.

CANNOT RAISE BAIL.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 19.—The attempts made in Russia and England to raise the $25,000 bail demanded by the Russian government for the release of Nicholas Tschalkovsky, the Russian patriot, who has been imprisoned for the past eleven months have been fruitless. It has been suggested that his friends in America might assist him.

Within a few weeks, a bell, the gift of Emperor William of Germany, will be placed in the tower of the German Evangelical Reformed church, on East Eighty-eighth street, New York City, in celebration of this church's 100th anniversary.

$1000.00 Reward

It has been a struggle to get before the people the dangerous facts, the hidden underground facts, relating to the plans for control of the liberties and affairs of the common citizens by the adroit managers of the huge "Labor Trust" known as the American Federation of Labor.

These managers are seeking power even superior to that of the President of the United States.

"Nonsense" someone says. Well, let's have a look.

When I first started publishing these articles discussing labor matters, nearly the entire list of papers published them, but there were a few afraid to print them altho offered full pay.

Afraid the labor leaders would boycott them, afraid the unions in their own printing department would strike and afraid on general principles.

FAIR UNION MEN.

To the credit of the typographical union let it be said the majority of its members are too intelligent to refuse to set type on either side in discussion of a principle, realizing that the columns of a newspaper must be unhampered.

However in some offices less wisdom was shown and the papers refused to print the discussion.

In one article I invited readers to scan the pages of various papers of that date and if the announcement failed to appear, write and ask the publisher "why."

His only good excuse would be "no contract with Post." But when he got angry and began to offer various and sundry other reasons, it became plain to the enquirer that it was left out through pitiable fear.

The discovery by readers that a favorite newspaper feared to print matter written for and in the interest of the thirty-nine-citizens out of every forty, (only one union man in every forty citizens) produced a disgust and distrust hard to overcome. When the rights of the common people cannot be decided in the newspapers because of fear of some organization, either of capital or labor, the enslavement of citizens has reached a dangerous point and the papers which refuse to stand for the rights and freedom of the great reading and thinking public should be known and rebuked by the public they ought to serve.

Those readers who would like to have printed the names of a few papers and public servants who have been lax in support of the rights of the people when assailed by class organizations are invited to make known their wishes by mail addressed to the undersigned.

HAVE YOU NOTICED.

Readers, how adroitly the Leaders of the Labor Trust work to gain more and more control over the liberties of the people?

Do you realize they are aiming at absolute domination of the daily affairs of citizens?

Do you think it would be safe to allow yourself to be gradually tied hand and foot until your inherited freedom and liberty was taken from you? Have a look at their methods and draw your own conclusions.

Threats are made to City, County, State and National officers and public men, either of defeat or violence for judges and jurors, and the number of citizens assaulted or murdered and property destroyed in an active Labor Trust year exceeds by far the amount of violence which ever occurred in any one year during prosslavery days. The black man was not his own master. The present day union man is not. He must quit when the Labor Trust leader "orders." Involuntary idleness is no less deplorable than involuntary servitude.

The disobedient black man was at times driven with a whip, back to his work. The disobedient "union" man has, in thousands of cases, been driven away from his work, with clubs, missiles, revolvers, and knives; assaulted, slugged unconscious, maimed for life, or murdered. Or perhaps his steps dogged for weeks, he and his family subjected to insults innumerable, homes destroyed and property blown up. The most damnable cruelty and brutality that hate could devise and ruffian outlaws execute has been put upon American workmen, who have dared to disobey the "orders" of the Labor Trust leaders.

There were above 5000 citizens assaulted in one city (Chicago) during one strike (the teamsters) and many men crippled for life. Some 12 or 14 were wilfully murdered outright, and yet there have been but few convictions and trifling if any punishment.

UNCLE SAM'S WAY.

If only ten Americans had been slugged and maimed and one killed in a foreign port, ample apology would have been made and ample funds exacted for the support of the injured families, at the muzzles of Uncle Sam's 12-inch guns, or some people and some things would have been blown off the face of the earth. But 5000 citizens injured, with a schedule of rewards for broken legs, ribs and arms and so much for eyes gouged out, paid by members of the Labor Trust is passed with but slight comment and absolutely not one cent of contribution or support for the destitute families of the victims.

It has been noticed that when union criminals are on trial for murdering independent workingmen, they sometimes bring in their wives and mothers, and have their children clamber about their knees to impress the jury with sympathy. So much for the brutal murderer, but who brings into court the destitute, fatherless children of the poor workman murdered in cold blood because he obeyed the instincts of an almighty Father, who impelled him to seek work to feed his little ones? What play is ever made by them to sway a jury? The murderer is supported by the funds of the Labor Trust. The orphans of the victim have no money to help them obtain justice.

IMPUDENT PRETENSE.

The Labor Trust leaders proclaim peaceful intent and publicly decry violence. Such bare faced assertions as that of the President of the American Federation of Labor that "Organized Labor is one of the most potent factors for the preservation of peace," is only interesting as an illustration of the extreme impudence of these leaders with a most terrible record of criminal procedure behind them. It lately became public that this Trust expended upwards of $150,000.00 to defend its members in the Haywood-Moyer trial, securing acquittal by a frightened jury, notwithstanding the fact that the judge who presided at the trial announced afterward that the testimony implicating the members of the Labor Trust in the deeds of violence was in his opinion true.

The Labor Trust shouts for the public ear, and winks in another direction while it finds it necessary to rush to the support of its criminal members, in order to "keep up the work."

Without certainty of protection the slugger would quickly become discouraged. The victim of the Labor Trust dare not publicly protest even if he lives through the entertainment by the "entertainment committee" and the wives, widows and children have no way to bring their wrongs to the public ear. The poorhouse may take care of some and the streets of some but the suffering, terror and agony put upon the children, wives and widows of independent workingmen is known only to themselves and their God and no one seems to have the humanity or bravery to speak in their defense.

Thousands of individual members of organized labor have hearts as tender as can be found in all human nature but they seem powerless in the iron grasp of impudent and desperate tyrants who hold them bound and who extort from them not only money but "obedience" and bring reproach on the very name of Labor.

HONEST UNION MEN HELPLESS.

Let an honest union man raise his voice in protest at a union meeting and the "men of violent tendencies" cry him down with shouts to "throw dat guy out de window" and if he don't shut up he may expect to be violently and effectively shut up. Some day let us hope that organized labor will get rid of the present leaders and conduct the sale of its product (labor) in the peaceful legal manner of business men who sell the ordinary products of humanity, and when they cannot sell their labor at a satisfactory price to one man, do as the farmer does who offers his wheat to another buyer and either sells it at the highest price the market will warrant or keeps it for a higher market but does not picket the mill, assault other farmers who prefer to sell their wheat, or blow up the mill whose owner cannot at that time buy at the price asked.

The man who has saved money with which to purchase wheat or labor should not be maimed, murdered or his property destroyed because he does not feel like parting with that money to buy wheat or labor when he either does not want it or knows the price to be too high to warrant its purchase. Any attempt at coercion should be promptly and effectually punished by the courts and the bullies put where they cannot again tyranize over independent Americans.

This rapid growth of anarchy and evident purpose of the Labor Trust to dictate just what persons shall be employed, how long and at what price and how much pay to the managers has taught every man who has saved a dollar and wants to build a house or establish a factory, that he had better keep his money in some safe investment, instead of going into something where he would be actually forced to buy labor when not needed and to employ men he don't want.

In other words, the man who has a little money to invest don't propose to have any trust, even the Labor Trust, tell him how or where to pay it out. This widespread attack of the Labor Trust on citizens who would have money to invest in labor if allowed to invest peaceably, has been one of the strongest elements which brought on the panic.

Men who have money to build, don't like to be harassed to death by continued impudent interference, and expensive delays by labor union tangles, therefore hundreds of them don't build. So with proposed new factories and other enterprises.

Between the loud mouthed political demagogues and the Labor Trust leaders, the steady attacks on industries dried them up and the panic came bringing idleness and misery to thousands.

The demand by the Labor Trust leaders for an anti-injunction law, is quite in keeping with the purpose of the tyranous leaders. A careful investigation of the records of all Federal courts for the past 5 years discloses the fact that only 20 injunctions have issued in labor disputes and in not one of these cases has the superior court reversed or failed to approve. No other subject handled by our courts has been as free from mistake. Humanity is prone to weakness and error, and our courts are human, but fortunately for mankind we find less error and weakness in the handling of restraining orders or "injunctions" in labor cases than in any other department of legal procedure, and the most remarkable fact in all this anti-injunction agitation is that thus far not one single case has been shown where an innocent man has been harmed.

WHAT ARE INJUNCTIONS.

"Now what is an injunction" someone asks. When it becomes known that the trust leaders plan to have their sluggers waylay other workmen and assault them, or picket and spot on and insult or attack American citizens going to or coming from work, or plan to destroy some machinery, blow up a factory, mine or workman's home or do any other act of violence or crime, the courts established by the people and for their protection can issue a "restraining order" or "injunction" ordering these men not to do the acts they intend until the court can have time to enquire into the rights in the case.

Every man with his mind set on revenge or violence, and every single inmate of every penitentiary in this country hates a court injunction like a mad dog hates water.

What does the man who fears an injunction have in his mind?

Do you believe he is seeking peace?

No citizen who was at home or on the street on a peaceful, lawful mission has ever been troubled by a court order to prevent men from attacking property or persons. It has been common for Labor leaders (?) and a few politicians to say that courts have "abused" the right to issue injunctions in labor cases. After a careful search of the records Hon. Charles E. Littlefield made open request of President Roosevelt to cite one single injunction wherein peace intending citizens had been harmed and our estimable President was put in the embarrassing position of having stated that "abuses had arisen" because some interested persons had so told him, but on demand for the cases, they could not be produced.

I now again offer $1000.00 in cash for evidence of a single case in the past five years in labor disputes where court injunctions to protect persons and property have been opposed to the public good. No person can produce one. Why therefore should the Labor Trust leaders so strenuously demand that the courts be stripped of the right to issue injunctions to protect people and property.

These leaders want to be free to order the sluggers to proceed with their work and their dynamiters to blow up homes or property before the courts can intervene to protect. That's exactly what is meant by the proposal to prevent any court from issuing a restraining order without five to seven days' notice. That would give time to the intending criminals to do their work and get into hiding before the court can protect those whom the sluggers intend to harm. The independent workingman's home could thus be blown up and he taught the danger of disobedience of "orders" of the Labor Trust.

It's a pitiable condition, that of workingmen, both union and non-union when they dare disobey any Labor Trust manager's order however impudent or tyrannous.

Shall we nourish the further growth of such power centred in the hands of a few misnamed "Labor leaders" now seeking to tell Union men that they must vote for the party pledged to enact any law these trust leaders ask looking to more power, if they will "deliver the labor vote?"

TRADE ON LABOR VOTE.

That trade was a humiliating insult to every liberty-loving workman in America and they are quite justified in the general resentment against it.

The political managers of both great parties wish "Post would keep still." "He talks too plain." "He don't know any more about politics than a rabbit." But amidst all the word twisting, pretense, cowardice, side stepping, and boot licking of politics before a National campaign it is refreshing to take a few long deep breaths, wipe the cobwebs out of one's eyes and take a good, keen, close look at exact facts.

Post as President of the National Citizens' Industrial Association has a duty to perform without fear or favor of any political party or class organization either of Capital or Labor, and when these facts are placed before the 20 to 30 million readers of this article and they realize the danger to their properties and personal liberties by voting for class legislation and privilege, that duty will have been done. It may interest you to know that Post was l

THE MARKETS.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

The week opened with a fair amount of trading in all green goods, but this came down with the unexpected abruptness and sold as low as 50 cents per crate. It is all of the better feeling. Uncrooted celery showed little and brought 25 cents per dozen. Peaches both white and yellow, the cling stone varieties, were plentiful and the cling stone varieties sold 60 cents. Malaga grapes are arriving in larger quantities and are among the best of the heavy stock. Cornichons are showing late holding quality, Red Emperors are showing late holding qualities, but they are not put up for sale, going directly to the coolers, where they will remain until the cooler grapes have been consumed.

Only forty-nine cases of eggs were reported in over Saturday and Sunday. Naturally offerings were very light on local case counts. There were fair offerings of eastern stock, but dealers seemed well supplied with same and would not buy. There were no changes in quotations, but prices on a case count were firm with a tendency to advance in case count.

Butter receipts were 16,984 pounds. There were few offerings and those were confined to creamery extras. In the North the butter situation is similar to that prevailing here. Prices are on a par.

Large cheese receipts had no effect on prices. They totaled 4984 pounds. Offerings of northern flats, longhorns, Swiss, cream brick and limburger completed the list.

Highland potatoes held the attention of the purchasers, both on the street and on the exchange. Receipts were 6218 sacks. Offerings of local Burbanks were offered way below the buyers' lobbery prices.

Onion receipts were only nine sacks. Yellow Danvers and Australian Browns were the usual varieties placed on sale. The bean receipts were the heaviest in the past three months. Most of the arrivals were from the north, and it will be only a few more days before all of the Ventura shippers are sending down their crops. Arrivals totaled 1300 sacks.

Twenty sacks of sweet potatoes were traded on change. There was a fair demand for them on the street. Receipts, twelve sacks, were the largest in some time and had the effect of keeping up prices.

Apple arrivals were 6778 boxes. All portions of the central and northern end of the State, as well as Colorado and a very small portion of Oregon, were represented in the receipts. The demand for Spitzenbergs sold 50 boxes.

With the decline in the price of hay, steers which have been fattening for that product have naturally lost a trifle in value, and as a result are selling ¼ cent lower today than last week. Heifers experienced a similar decline. There were no changes in grass-fed cattle or in hogs or sheep. A few lard varieties went into further decline.

Fish of all sorts were obtainable and northern shipments were better than for some time past. Lobsters were plentiful. The first wild geese shot in the North and shipped here were offered yesterday morning. Wild ducks and rabbits continue plentiful.

Prices Current.

BUTTER—Creamery, extras, 27½; creamery, firsts, 26; dairy butter, 25; cooking, 24; east'n, extras, 27½ per lb.

Yesterday's Forecast and Report.

LOCAL OFFICE U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, Oct. 19.—[Reported by A. H. Wilcher, Local Forecaster.] At 5 o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 59.11; at 5 p.m., 82. The highest temperature for the corresponding hours of the past 24 years was 92 deg. and 58 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 67 per cent.; 5 p.m., 32 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., northeast, velocity 9 miles; 5 p.m., northwest, velocity 20 miles. Maximum temperature, 82 deg.; minimum, 46 deg. Barometer reduced to sea level.

Weather Conditions.—A storm of considerable energy is central over Western Nevada this morning, while a second disturbance is moving inland over the North Pacific coast. These storm areas form a trough of low pressure extending from the British Northwest to Texas and unsettled, rainy weather prevails in most of the Rocky Mountain and Pacific States. No precipitation of a general character has occurred east of the Mississippi River, while cloudiness prevails along the shores of the Great Lakes. The weather is also fair in Southern California. The northwestern disturbance is expected to move southeastward during the next twenty-four hours, causing increasing cloudiness over Southern California, followed by showers in Los Angeles and vicinity Tuesday night.

Forecasts.—Local forecast for Los Angeles and vicinity: Fair, warmer, tonight; Tuesday, increasing cloudiness, followed by showers; light west wind, becoming southerly.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19. — Unsettled weather prevails over most of California. A storm is moving inland rapidly southeastward from the northern portion of the Coast and rain has fallen generally north of San Francisco, snow fell in the mountains, and following in its wake there will be a sharp drop in temperature. Forecasts:

Arizona: Fair Tuesday and Wednesday.

CHAPTER XX—(Concluded.)

"I have been telling Mrs. Tudor your piece of news," she said, lowering her voice; "and Mrs. Tudor cannot believe her ears."

"Of course it will go no further?" he said, looking round uneasily; "and indeed, Mrs. Mac James, I strained a point in telling you; but we know that Mrs. Tudor is descretion itself."

"Then, there was a duel?" she said sharply.

"Certainly, my dear Madame—at 5 o'clock this morning. I was present. The whole affair was mere child's play to such a noted swordsman as the Marquis."

"Only just one of his little jokes," amended Mrs. Mac James, who hated him bitterly, since he had ignored the advances of a plain niece.

"His point seemed everywhere at once—such a wrist!" resumed Dr. Dubois. "He could have killed his man at the second pass; but he just amused himself, and spared him. Of course, a duel is an affair of honor with—"

"Regard to the honor of a lady," supplemented Mrs. Tudor. "What a piece of excitement! A duel—why, it takes one back a hundred years!"

"Well, Madame, you will be prudent, will you not? It will never do to have this little affair the talk of the place."

"I am, as you were good enough to say, discretion itself," rejoined Mrs. Tudor stiffly. "I suppose Monsieur Guichard is en retraite; and where is the Marquis de Sarazin?"

"Ah!"—what an expressive shrug of his broad shoulders—"Madame asks the impossible. But he is not in Biarritz."

Mrs. Mac James had already moved away; and Mrs. Tudor, with a gracious bow, took leave of the doctor, who had many patients, and now hurried out to his coupé. For a moment the old lady seemed buried in thought, as she gazed out into the sunny courtyard; then she turned about briskly, rang for the lift, and ascended to her own sitting-room. Here she discovered a note and bouquet on the center table, and Hester sitting in the window, with her chin in her hands, idle, staring out upon the sardine boats.

It struck Mrs. Tudor, from her attitude, that her friend had something on her mind. Could it be possible that she already knew? The face turned to hers was ghastly. Yes, to Hester the spell had indeed vanished from the sea, and the sunshine from the air.

Mrs. Tudor walked over to the table and deliberately opened the note—a few lines from Paul in his firm, clear writing, to say that urgent business had called him away from Biarritz for ten days, and he desired to make his temporary adieu to her and to Mademoiselle Forde.

"The hypocrite!" she muttered to herself, as she put down the note and took up the bouquet. With her face half buried in it she said in an everday voice—

"I suppose you had one too, Hester?"

(She must approach the subject delicately, and by degrees.)

"From the Marquis de Sarasin? Oh yes,"—rising to her feet—"and I threw it out of the window."

"Why?"

"Mrs. Tudor, I am sure you know why!" she answered steadily. "It fell on a man's head; he picked it up, and seemed delighted. I am certain he thought I meant it for him," and she gave a little hysterical laugh.

"And not as an affront to Paul de Sarasin?"

"Affront or not, I will never accept any more of his flowers."

"Ah, I see you know. Who told you?" asked Mrs. Tudor, removing her bonnet; and in her fur coat, a black silk skull cap, she now looked like a little old man.

"Mrs. Mac James whispered it to me on the staircase as I came in from golf."

"Ah, she is generally the talebearer!"

"She told me about the duel—and its cause."

"We really know nothing of the cause, Hester. The effect is, that Monsieur Guichard is laid up and unpresentable."

"I would never have believed it of him!" exclaimed the girl inconsequently. "Fancy his fighting a duel!"

"Oh, I'd believe almost anything of Paul de Sarazin," rejoined Mrs. Tudor; "it is by no means his first affair."

Hester gave an involuntary gasp; she had suddenly become strangely pale, and her lips were trembling. "I see you have a note?" she remarked, and she eyed it greedily.

"Yes," and Mrs. Tudor tossed it over to her.

"To take leave for ten days! You have never been favored with his billets-doux. At least you were spared that," she said bitterly. Mrs. Tudor was deeply wounded in her pride, and greatly incensed against her favorite. "No one knows better how to serve up his heart on a sheet of notepaper than our Marquis."

"He is nothing to me," declared Hester, folding up the thick crested p and replacing it in its envelope. Then she was suddenly seized with a wild fear of what she might be tempted to say.

"I thought he had turned over a new leaf," resumed the old lady. "I hoped that for once he was serious. Why, he is close on 30 years of age. This escapade is not known in Biarritz—only to Mrs. Mac James, the receiver of stolen secrets." After a long reflective silence she said: "Hester, what do you say?—shall we go away for a little change?"

"Very well," she answered. Oh, she could leave Biarritz now; yes, and the sooner the better, she reflected, as she reviewed the situation with surprising self-control.

"Shall we run into Spain for Easter? Ten days or a fortnight will do; and you will like to see a bit of the world? You know, my sister-in-law, who married a Spaniard, lives at Cordova. I've often told you about Dona Luisa?"

"Oh, yes."

"She has invited me several times lately, and I've not been to Cordova for some years. Luisa is a widow; I'm rather attached to her; so we will play her a little visit, and you shall see Spain from the domestic side, and stay in a Spanish house. Here I will give out that I've always meant to spend Easter in Spain; I'll write tonight, and we will start the day after tomorrow."

"Just as you like," agreed the girl listlessly.

"You will like it, too. I feel that we must do something. Will one maid between us be sufficient? At least, we will take Marietta—she speaks English—and a courier to keep us from getting stolen, eh, Hester?" and rising, she went over and took the girl's white face in her two hands, and looking down into it said: "My dear, don't let me suppose that that handsome good-for-nothing has stolen the best part of you—your heart!"

Hester smiled and shook her head, but tears slowly rose and filled her gray eyes. Unfortunately, what Mrs. Tudor "supposed" was painfully and intolerably true!

CHAPTER XXI.

OVER THE BORDER.

Mrs. Tudor, Miss Forde, maid and courier were among those departures from the Bellevue who elected to spend Easter in Spain. Their trip occasioned no surprise, for it was known that the elder lady had relations over the border, and her movements were notoriously erratic.

The party traveled by the familiar route, across the Bidassoa, past picturesque Fuente-rabia and gay San Sebastian, then over the wild and breezy slopes of the Pyrenees, by high, bare uplands, mountain torrents, groves of oats and chestnuts, past flat-roofed farmhouses, of carts and flocks, to Burgos, the home of the "Cid," the Spanish champion. Here they halted for one day in order to visit the cathedral, and then resumed their journey. Arrived at Madrid, Mrs. Tudor put up at an hotel on the Puerta del Sol where she was well known, and declared her intention of remaining for a week in order to visit old friends, whilst Hester, accompanied by Marietta, could enjoy new sights to her heart's content.

The hurrying life of the city and the wonderful animation on the Plaza below the hotel windows, with its ten converging streets, swarming trams, crowds of foot passengers, and splendid equipages, proved an unfailing source of interest to the country mouse. Although Hester was unspeakably unhappy, she kept her feelings out of sight, and her chaperon congratulated herself that the girl had so easily extinguished her unfortunate infatuation for the faithless Paul. In spite of many engagements, the old lady managed to accompany her charge to the "Museo del Prado;" she wished to witness her ecstasies, and also desired to renew her own memories with respect to one orf the most splendid picture galleries in the world.

Hester, who had never entered a picture gallery in her life, felt overwhelmed and bewildered, but scarcely had she begun to admire the beauty of one chef d'aeuvre, before her chaperon hurried her off to see another. Rubens, Raphael, Titian, Claude Lorraine—above all, Murillo and Velasquez. Even her untrained eye acknowledged the master. Whilst her friend sat and rested, and the incorrigible Marietta flirted with the courier, Hester remained in the Velasquez Salon lost in admiration, wandering from "Las Meninas" to "The Surrender of Breda," and from "The Surrender of Breda" to the noted equestrian portraits; then away to the Murillo collection, to have one last look at "The Children and the Shell." Miss Forde of Shaleamoor was receiving an extraordinary medley of new impressions; her eyes were dazzled, and her mind entranced.

"I only want to see a few," she protested to Mrs. Tudor, as they wandered down the great central gallery, "and try to impress them on my memory, to remember always—always."

"And have you a retentive memory?" asked the old lady, with a quick glance.

"Yes—I think so."

"It is by no means a blessing, in my humble opinion."

"At least for some things," corrected the girl—"books I have read, music I have heard."

"Perhaps also for honeyed words and handsome faces," supplemented her chaperon with acrid significance. "Pray do not cultivate memory, my dear. I do not believe in its pleasures for young people," and she took her seat in the waiting carriage as she spoke, and said "home."

Another expedition was to the Royal Palace, built on the site of the Moorish Alcazar, a truly imposing edifice, which is of the city yet not in it, overlooking the shrunken Manzanares and the great park of "Casa del Campo." The general effect of its massive white walls is dignified and impressive. There is no danger of this palace ever being mistaken for a railway station or a jail; it looks what it assumes to be—the abode of kings.

The world-renowned armoury was visited, a collection ranging over 300 years, founded by Charles the Fifth, and increased by every one of his successors. Hester, on this occasion, was attended by Marietta and the courier; the latter pointed out to her, as a compliment to her nationality, the tattered banner of Mary of England and Spain. On entering the great hall, the squadron of mailed knights in full panopiy on armed and caparisoned war horses, recalled to Hester her beloved "Ivanhoe" and "the gentle and joyous lists of Ashby de la Zouch."

How these splendid shining figures fired her romantic imagination! She gazed at them in admiration; they appealed to her even more forcibly than the pictures in the Prado—mailed martial forms wearing the very armor of the days of chivalry. Here were tournament suits of Charles V, Philip the Handsome, Philip II, and the Emperor Maximilian; consecrated swords presented by various Popes for doughty deeds against the infidel; the turban and weapons of a celebrated Turkish pirate, Hairedding; Visigothic jewelry, the sword of Gonsalvo de Cordova (El Gran Capitan,) the pall of Ferdinand of Castille and the state sword of the Catholic kings.

Within the tent of Francis I, captured at the battle of Pavia, Hester stood as in a dream. The glamor of historical achievements was in the atmosphere, the trophies of heroic feats encompassed her on all sides. After a long and protracted reverie, the impatience of Marietta (who saw nothing in the Almeria but the results of unnecessary polishing) compelled her to depart, and with a sigh of profound regret she took leave of the groups of stately equestrian knights in closed visors. Here, in truth, was the heart and soul of Spain's proud chivalry. Alas! alas!

"We will now go and visit the stables, or the Royal Chapel," urged the courier briskly.

"The chapel first," Hester replied.

But unfortunately there was no admittance—it was a holy day and the court was at mass. Presently the courier, who had left them, returned, and said: "There is a special service, the royal family are there; but," he continued pompously, "I have influence, and if you will follow me up to the corridor you will see them pass from the chapel."

NEW DIGESTIVE JUICES WANTED

Absolute Relief From All Stomach Trouble Is Merely a Matter of Taking Some Diapepsin—You Will Wonder Five Minutes Later Why You Hesitated So Long.—No More Distress From Indigestion and a Weak Stomach.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch Gas and Eructate sour, undigested food or have a feeling of Dizziness, Heartburn, Fullness, Nausea, Bad Taste in Mouth and Stomach Headache—this is Indigestion.

A full case of Pape's Diapepsin costs only 50 cents and will thoroughly cure the worst case of Dyspepsia, and leave sufficient about the house in case some one else in the family may suffer from Stomach Trouble or Indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these 50-cent cases, then you will understand why Dyspeptic trouble of an kinds must go, and why they usually relieve a sour stomach or Indigestion in five minutes. Get a case now and eat one Triangule after your next meal. They are harmless and taste like candy, though each contains power su..cient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a hearty, healthy appetite; but, what will please you most is that you will feel that your Stomach and Intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for Biliousness or Constipation.

This city will have many Diapepsin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranky about this splendid stomach prescription, too, if you ever have Indigestion or Gastritis, or any other Stomach misery, and eat just one Triangule of Diapepsin.

Oriental Rugs Prove Great Attraction

OWNER GOING TO ORIENT.

Political Proscription Removed Now, and Jacob Michaelian May Return to Native Land After Many Years of Exile.

To state that the rug and carpet exhibit at 252 South Broadway is attracting unusual attention would be putting the matter mildly. Never before has such unusual interest been displayed in oriental goods in this city.

Crowds thronged the store all day yesterday, many expert collectors coming from far and near to view this unusual aggregation of rare works of rug art from the orient.

Jacob Michaelian, the owner of the gorgeous collection, has been for many years an exile from his native Armenia, on account of political troubles. Now that a republican form of government has been established he may safely return. Preparatory to such return he has arranged to abandon his various stores on the coast, and for the ready sale of his possessions has massed all his San Francisco and Portland rugs and carpets at this point where they will be sold by auction.

Aside from the sale features of this vast collection the artistic display of rare and beautiful rugs is attracting hundreds of people daily to the rooms at 252 South Broadway. The stock consists of fine silk carpets, old Saruch carpets, many rare Kermanshah carpets, real Bokharas and other rare works of Persian rug art.

The exhibition is free and is open day and evening now. The auction sale will commence tomorrow, Wednesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. It will be preceded by a short professional talk by Thomas H. Kullujian, the famous traveler and Persian rug expert. Mr. Kullujian will demonstrate the methods of judging the good and bad qualities of oriental rugs. He will show the dye methods in use, tell how imperfect dyes may be detected and point out the reason for the enduring qualities of the genuine article by exhibiting the beautiful $5000 rug, now on exhibition and over 400 years old.

Remember That the Exhibition Is Free, and That the Big Rug and Carpet AUCTION SALE Starts Tomorrow (Wednesday) Afternoon at 2:00 At the Great Oriental Show Rooms 252 SOUTH BROADWAY Between the City Hall and Third Street on the City Hall Side

William A. Rice, a laborer, was arrested last night in Central Park in the act of despoiling a palm tree. He cut off several of its branches with a knife.

Sort of Insuffragettes.

A non-partisan political club is to be organized by Occidental College students. Over 100 young men and women have signified they desire to join the club, and a formal organization will be effected this week.

Will Tell Stories.

Senator Frank P. Flint will address the weekly assembly at Occidental College Friday morning at 11 o'clock. He will relate some of his experiences in the United States Senate. Mr. Flint is a member of the board of trustees of Occidental.

Officer's Celebration.

Lieut. George L. Williams of the Los Angeles police department will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding at his home at No. 510 Prospect Place tomorrow evening. He was married in this city on October 21, 1883, and has been on the police force for twenty years.

Will Select Orators.

Occidental Academy students held a try-out debate yesterday afternoon for the purpose of selecting representatives to meet Polytechnic High School on November 19, under the auspices of the Southern California Interscholastic Debating League. Lentz, Clayton, Church and Bickford ranked highest among the eight contestants, and a final trial will be held this week to choose the two boys who will represent the school.

Ninth Ward Rally.

The Ninth Ward Republican Club will hold a rally Thursday night at Old Masonic Hall, First and Chicago streets, and, in addition to the speaking and other attractions, there will be a free lunch of more than passing interest. Senator Frank P. Flint, Harry Barndollar, candidate for the Assembly, and H. D. McCabe, candidate for Supervisor, will be among the speakers. There will be music by a band, and some excellent singers have been engaged to provide the vocal part of the musical programme. Coffee, a tempting lunch and cigars will come after speaking. A big crowd is expected.

Government Jobs.

"Made Here" Show Feature.

One of the most unique exhibits for the Made in Southern California Exposition was placed in position yesterday. It is a portable cottage, which faces the Main-street entrance of the exposition. In it will be the office of General Manager Newman. From top to bottom, inside and out, the entire structure, including all the furnishings, the building, which is really of pretentious dimensions, but which has the appearance of a playhouse as it stands within the immense structure that will house the great fair, will represent exclusively made in Southern California products. The paint on the exterior, the paper on the roof, the plaster on the walls, the rugs on the floors, and all the furniture for the various rooms, including a beautiful brass bedstead, are of local make and manufacture. In all, fifteen home industries will be represented in the construction and furnishing of the cottage.

JOIN The Army Of Stetson Shoe Wearers

NO matter whether you have to walk one mile or ten a day, it's all the same if your feet are encased in Stetson Shoes.

The Stetson Shoes are carefully lasted. It costs more money to last shoes properly, but the comfort and fit that good lasting insures makes the expense worth while.

It also costs more to put good outer soles on shoes, but the additional wear is worth the expense.

Did you ever stop to think that the outer sole is really the shoe's life? The outer sole of the Stetson Shoe costs 15 per cent. more than that of the average $5.00 shoe.

It is worth a good many times that, to the wearer. When you buy a Stetson Shoe, you are safe.

GLAD HAND.

WARMLY GREET OUR GOVERNOR.

Reception at Long Beach Is Proof of His Worth.

Stumps Southern California in Taft's Campaign.

Gov. Gillett's first day in his whirl of the cities and towns of Southern California, particularly of Los Angeles county, was one of inspiring receptions everywhere he went. While his mission is primarily campaigning for the Republican ticket, he found a spontaneous welcome everywhere, as the Governor of the State, and many who do not subscribe to his political opinions did him honor because of his wise and broad administration. When he was greeted by hundreds at Watts and Compton, where afternoon stops were made, he found conditions that presaged the great attendance at the Auditorium at Long Beach, where over 3500 persons assembled last night to hear him discuss the tariff, and Democracy's menace to its beneficial influence.

Really, the Governor's entertainment began in the morning, when hundreds called at the Alexandria Hotel, in Los Angeles, where he is stopping, to greet him. Between 11 and 12 o'clock, it is estimated that four hundred paid respect to him. At noon he was entertained at a luncheon at the Jonathan Club, at which Senator R. N. Bulla presided. Besides Senator Bulla, there were present at this luncheon Maj. E. F. C. Klokke, George E. Pillsbury, Gen. M. H. Sherman, Maj. J. H. Norton, D. C. McGarvin, Col. F. M. Chapman, Col. George N. Black, W. McBean, W. P. Jeffries, Bradner W. Lee, J. J. Petermichel, T. E. Newlin, Perry W. Weidner, Rev. J. G. Blue of Pasadena, and many others.

WATTS AND COMPTON.

Leaving the Pacific Electric station at 1:30 o'clock in a special car, Gov. Gillett, John L. McNab and the Los Angeles escort reached Watts at 1:45, and made a stop of fifteen minutes. There they found about 300 men and as many school children assembled to cheer them as they alighted from the car. The cheering was made enthusiastic by the waving of flags and the flutter of many handkerchiefs.

All Watts was there, and listened attentively as the Governor briefly spoke for Republican success. He was presented to the people by Mayor W. H. Turner. During his remarks a pickaninny climbed on the platform, and as he thrust his head close to the Governor, the latter patted the kinky head and brought a cheer from the crowd.

When the party left for Compton, a committee composed of Mayor Turner, E. E. Woolsey, F. M. Anderson, Capt. Davidson and Z. A. Towne went as an escort of honor from Watts.

At Compton another short stop was made, and the Governor found several hundred men assembled. The schools had been dismissed for half an hour, and the children mingled with the men and joined in the shout of greeting. E. E. Elliott of the Compton bank presided, and introduced the Governor and Mr. McNab, who spoke briefly. The Long Beach Reception Committee, headed by Mayor Windom, and including C. C. Doran, E. C. Denio, J. E. Daly, A. N. Goodhue, George Hirsch, Harry Barndollar, Jotham Bixby and others, took charge of the party, and it left for Long Beach sixty strong.

GREETINGS AT BEACH.

At Long Beach the entire party alighted from the car at the foot of Third street and took the steamer Margarita for a trip down the channel to the dredger, past the new cantilever bridge with its 180-foot drawbridge, and over the big works of the Craig shipbuilding plant, where the dry dock for the accommodation of vessels 600 feet long is nearing completion. The trip was one of intense interest to the Governor, who made abundant notes of the work that is costing over $5,000,000, and is making a new California harbor.

After a trip to Naples and other beach places, the entire party was entertained at a banquet at the Hotel Julian, Long Beach, and during its progress there was a band serenade in the street, and an abundance of red fire. When the banquet was over the guests and their escorts marched to the Auditorium and received a mighty shout of welcome from the waiting thousands when the Governor appeared on the stage.

The meeting was presided over by J. E. Daly, and was regarded as the biggest political meeting Long Beach has ever known. The Auditorium has a seating capacity of 6000 and it was more than two-thirds filled. That such a crowd could be brought together on only two days' notice attested the friendliness of the people for the Governor, as well as their loyalty to the party.

CITY'S GREAT PROGRESS.

When the sustained applause that met his introduction had subsided, Gov. Gillett alluded to the progress of Long Beach and the great work on the inner harbor, and mentioned the relationship it bore to the construction of the Panama Canal and the eastern trade and commerce that is invited by the great work.

"It is an evidence of good times," said the Governor, "and I believe your being here means that you intend that good times shall continue and good works go on."

The tariff, the Governor declared, is the one great question before the people. The Democrats promise to revise the tariff. So do the Republicans. But in the difference of their promises lies the prosperity or the peril of the people. It is with the people to trust one or the other with that revision, for a revision is sure.

"That being the case," said the Governor, "will you trust that party which has always declared the tariff to be a robber tariff to a party that believes in protection of American industry, always building up enterprise, always sustaining good wages and always a friend of the tariff."

RESULT OF TINKERING.

"History shows," he continued, "that every time the Democrats revise the tariff, bankruptcy replaces solid business; factories close, farm products lose value, wages are lower and the Treasury is empty. Whenever the Republicans have revised the tariff, confidence is restored, factories reopen, new industries spring up and farm products increase in value and a high standard of wages comes. Is there, then, any choice between the parties that ask to be trusted with revision?"

The Governor then discussed the history of the tariff; how in 1824 and 1828 it had added to the general wealth of the country and created new industries; how, when Van Buren was elected President for the purpose of giving the tariff a Democratic revision, finances became deplorable and business and social distress followed. The suffering of the people as a consequence of that revision is noteworthy in history.

Again, when Buchanan became President, the country was prosperous and the Treasury full. But he was a tariff revisionist, and under his administration a revision brought national bankruptcy, labor was idle and there followed four years of awful depression.

Most persons present remembered the disastrous revision that followed Cleveland's election in 1892, when the Wilson bill became a law. Then California felt the sting of Democratic revision, for the duty on her fruits and raisins and prunes was reduced from 25 to 75 per cent. and her industries were paralyzed. They must remember vividly how the passing of the Dingley tariff restored favorable conditions, had enriched the persons engaged in the industry and had been the means, in the last dozen years, of building the great cities of the Coast, which were marvels of industry and thrift and intelligence; had, too, been the means of building new harbors and great waterways and extended railroads and, above all, had been the means of giving the American workingman the highest wages ever known.

REACHES EVERY DEMAND.

"You have but to think of these things," said he, in conclusion, "to realize how important to each and every one is this question of tariff revision. It reaches into every channel of life and is the key to prosperity, or to disaster. The examples set by the Democrats have uniformly been of one kind—disastrous; of the Republicans—prosperous. Consequently, I do not believe that the sound judgment of the American voter is going to trust to a party that has only disaster as its record, the revision of a tariff that the Republicans have always wisely arranged and that they will more wisely arrange after the election of Taft."

The speech lasted less than thirty minutes, but received closest attention. Gov. Gillett, while at times eloquent, dealt in hard facts throughout and did not permit himself to get away from his main thought at any time. That his speech was effective was shown in the frequent applause that his periods received.

John L. McNab of Ukiah paid his respects to Bryan and his bank guarantee plan, which he declared was only a poor excuse in the way of mutual insurance for bank depositors and provided no real guarantee.

AS TO BANK TAX.

"In the savings banks of California," said he, "there are two hundred and eighty millions of deposits, and the capital of those savings banks is twenty-eight millions. If they were to pay the bank tax called for by Bryan's plan that would pay one-tenth of the capitalization. Do you suppose the banks would pay that? No; the depositors would—if they could. If the tax was large enough it would be a hardship on the depositors and if it was small it would be of no value as a guarantee. Really, the Bryan plan would operate to protect the gamblers in Wall street, and not the depositors. It would put a premium on the dishonest bankers. Why, in Oklahoma where they have this plan, banks are offering 4, 5 and 6 per cent., just to gather in the money of the people to speculate on, because there is a guarantee."

Better far, he said, the Republican plan of postal savings banks, where the government would receive deposits at every postoffice, paying 2 per cent. interest, and then, by redepositing in the national banks, keep the money in circulation.

Gov. Gillett and Mr. McNab are to go to Santa Ana this morning and spend the day in a tour of Orange county, ending with a big rally at Santa Ana at night. Tomorrow he will visit many places in Los Angeles county, speaking in the evening at Pasadena.

Local Enthusiasm.

A rousing Republican rally was held last night in the Seventh Ward. A parade was given early in the evening and it attracted such a crowd that the hall at Ninth and Santa Fé avenue proved far too small to accommodate the voters. Councilman Henry Lyon of the Seventh Ward presided and gave a brief introductory talk. The speakers of the evening were R. C. Ling and D. C. Castleman. Several candidates for political honors were present and each gave a short address.

who is touring the State for Taft, and who addressed a big audience last night at Long Beach.

GOVERNOR'S ITINERARY.

Today—Santa Ana and vicinity; big night rally.

Tomorrow—Leaves 9:15 special car for Whittier, where he will inspect the reform school and speak at noon open-air meeting; then to El Monte, Covina, Glendora, Azusa and Monrovia, reaching Pasadena at 6 o'clock for reception and dinner at the Maryland. Pasadena night meeting at tent on Fair Oaks avenue.

Thursday—San Bernardino and vicinity.

Friday—Reception at Union League, Los Angeles, from 11 to 12 o'clock; luncheon at noon; then visiting Venice, Ocean Park, Santa Monica, Redondo and Sawtelle, speaking at the Soldiers' Home at 3 o'clock; in the evening, rally at Simpson Auditorium.

Saturday—Day and night at San Diego.

SUSPICIOUS BURGLARY.

Police Puzzled by Manner in Which Robbers Got Away With Coin in Safe.

Within half an hour after after Victor Whealand, of the Sleepwell Mattress Company of No. 627 South Olive street, left his office, burglars entered the place, picked the combination of the safe, and breaking open the inner doors, stole $280. His brother, Arthur Whealand, discovered the robbery when he went to the office to look for him, and he reported it to the police.

Victor Whealand was taken to the detective bureau and questioned closely. He declares that when he left the office, after going over the receipts of the day, he closed the safe and threw the combination. When he left the office he went to a restaurant on Hill street where, he says, his brother found him and told him about the burglary. A window was pried open in the rear of the building through which the burglars are supposed to have gained an entrance.

Arthur Whealand, who is also connected with the company, says that he went to the office to look for his brother; that when he went around to the back of the building he discovered that the window was broken in, that the safe had been opened and the inner doors battered to pieces. Two detectives have been detailed on the case.

OUR PROUD EXHIBIT.

The Chamber of Commerce is already making extensive plans for the local exhibit at the Seattle exposition next summer. Secretary Wiggins said yesterday that the Imperial Valley will send a fine exhibit, consisting of the products of that section. As it will be the first large exhibit of the valley, the settlers are determined to make it worthy of the section.

A lot of quinces have been received from the Riverside Chamber of Commerce. These will be processed and packed in attractive glass jars in readiness for the Seattle fair. Several hundred boxes of apples from Antelope Valley, Julian and the Yucaipe Valley have been secured. They will be put in cold storage for the pinch...

WEIRD STORY OF FINANCE.

Figures Show Manipulation of Fortunes.

Assets Dug Up in Report on Failure of Dorr.

Broker to Run Gauntlet of Creditors Today.

After two months' work on the books of Fred Dorr, broker, who failed August 12, C. W. Rohne, in a report comprising 500 typewritten pages, finds the following concrete result.

The report was completed for the use of the creditors at their meeting at the office of Lynn Helm in the Los Angeles Trust building this afternoon. It is in five divisions and many chapters and tells the whole interesting story of how Dorr used his customer's money to trade on the New York Stock Exchange while he was spending $43,000 a year on his own personal account. It is a tabulation of cold hard facts.

According to the story the figures tell, there was in all Dorr's many offices—Denver, Salt Lake City, Butte, Spokane, San Francisco, and here—the magnificent cash amount of $89.44, of which $3.85 was in the office here. At the same time Dorr had in banks in various places $386, while to those banks, and others, he owed $30,000.

DIVISION OF ASSETS.

In his assets are furniture valued at $2115, automobiles, $2700; and his yacht, $10,000; accounts receivable $24,000, and securities of over $25,000. His exchange memberships are valued at $76,700, of which the New York Stock Exchange seat is worth $65,000, the Cotton Exchange seat, $9200, and the Board of Trade, Chicago, seat $2500. There is also $11,300 contingent assets in securities which he has deposited as bond to secure appeals in litigation with his father-in-law and others in Denver.

Of his liabilities $341,225 is for stock accounts and $91,722 for grain accounts. The largest liability in any city is in Los Angeles, where he owes $178,604 on stocks and $82,345 on grain. The last item includes $79,810 owing George L. Crenshaw on his July and September corn deals, and exposes the fact that Crenshaw had bought 535,000 bushels of July corn and 220,000 of September. Crenshaw was manipulating one of the biggest corn deals ever handled in the country and stood to make enormous winnings when the Dorr crash came.

Denver is second in the list of creditors with $54,805 in stocks. Butte is third with $48,487, San Francisco fourth with $27,829. Other items are Salt Lake City, $24,534; Spokane, $3904, and Helena, $3320.

The report shows that Dorr owed Harris, Winthrop & Co., his Eastern correspondents, $14,512, which is an obligation on his New York Stock Exchange membership, equivalent to a preferred claim. But the correspondent also holds C. M. & St. P. stock and Superior and Pittsburgh stock valued at $14,587, so that the obligation on the stock is almost wholly protected.

NOT ECONOMICAL.

Dorr's expense account has been computed for the year ending August 12, last and shows that he withdrew from the business for expenses $150,380 in that period of which $43,229 was for his own personal account. This expense did not include any leased wire account previous to January 1, 1908. The report of Dorr's personal relations to the business also shows that in July alone he purchased 10,790 shares of stock valued at $813,095 and sold 11,105 shares valued at $612,289.

All his dealings were conducted in his own name and the identity of his customers was not known on the floors of the exchange. It was in this month that his usually expansive business contracted suddenly as large customers began making withdrawals. On July 3 Crenshaw withdrew $40,000. In the few days succeeding, George S. Lander of Butte, withdrew $81,652, and other Butte withdrawals swelled the total for that city to $103,673. Denver drew out $33,849, San Francisco $14,567, and Spokane $3454.

Los Angeles customers received $61,584. These amounts are all excesses over the receipts of the various offices during the month and showed such a sudden rapid demand on Dorr that his failure was inevitable.

Mr. Rohne has made a special analysis of all the stocks traded in by Dorr's offices and this analysis shows some startling conditions. As all the trading was done in Dorr's own name and his shortages on change were tre-

PUBLIC SLOW WITH TAXES.

Payments to County Collector So Far Are Behind Those of Last Year.

Los Angeles county taxpayers are not as prompt this year as they were twelve months ago in paying their taxes. County Tax Collector Welch announced yesterday that this year's payments to date total only $96,544.17, while, on the same day a year ago, they were $143,538.33. This is a shortage of about $45,000. Yesterday's receipts were $23,989.92. There has not been the rush thus far for which the county collector had prepared, but his army of clerks has had plenty to do in caring for those who have appeared with money in hand to pay their taxes, or who have sought information as to the amount they owe. Though the payments have been slow, Collector Welch believes that there will be little, if any, greater delinquency than there was a year ago.

Mildred Morton.

who essayed to be prima donna at small local theater, but whose hopes were dashed by decision of justice yesterday.

TRAGIC.

COURT SITS ON PRIMA DONNA.

JUSTICE STEPHENS LOSES HER VOTE BY DECISION.

Called on to Decide Whether Beauty Fairfax or Estelle Was the Leading Part, He Makes a Political Enemy by Finding That Mildred Morton Has No Cause for Action.

The whims of a prima donna were laid bare in Justice Stephen's court yesterday.

Under the circumstances, the beauteous Mildred Morton, who wanted to play Beauty Fairfax in the "Telephone Girl," but had to play Estelle, is not for him for Superior Judge.

The court was forced into the difficult and dangerous position of deciding whether Beauty Fairfax or Estelle is the best part. He ruled that Estelle, who sings most of the songs, is more important than Beauty Fairfax, whose job is to wear the emotional clothing. He ruled against Miss Morton.

Miss Morton was suing Manager Fischer of the Fischer Opera house for $370 on the ground that he had broken his contract. She said she was engaged to play leading roles and that he wanted her to play Estelle in the "Telephone Girl."

"It was not in keeping with my dignity to take any but prima donna roles," said the fair one, with a gentle but dying expression.

Manager Fischer testified that he was merely giving her a better role than Beauty Fairfax. He said that he wanted to give her the part of Estelle, but that she couldn't learn the songs.

His stage manager, Frank Blair (not the Assistant District Attorney,) said that when Miss Morton came upon the stage and sang the audience on the front rows could be heard saying, "Rotten."

"You see," said Blair, "we theatrical people are not very kind to one another, and we laughed."

Whereat, Miss Morton went back on the stand and explained that the only reason she didn't do better was because she didn't get the right musical cues.

Several theatrical managers, including John Blackwood and H. C. Wyatt, were called as experts and testified that Estelle is a better part than Beauty Fairfax.

FUNERAL OF CASES.

Hoary Appeals Stricken From Supreme Court Calendar—Disbarment Proceedings Deferred.

An unusual feature of yesterday's session of the State Supreme Court was the dismissal of nearly a score of cases that had been pending for years.

"This court is not inclined to remove any cases from the calendar that are still active," stated Chief Justice Beatty, "but we believe that actions without any life in them should be stricken from the records."

Although a number of attorneys were present who formerly figured in some of the defunct cases, few could recollect what the nature of the appeals was. In one case, that of Jack Byrne against Tom Knight and Joe Simpson, a lawyer said he remembered that Simpson had been killed in some mining town. In other cases, it was stated that the original attorneys were dead.

The disbarment proceedings against Henry E. Wills came up for decision, but on motion of Attorney J. Marion Brooks, went over until tomorrow. Wills served a short term in the County Jail, upon conviction of embezzlement from a client. This is said to be sufficient to warrant disbarment, if the justices think the step advisable.

All the members of the court were present with the exception of Justice Henshaw. Hon. Henry Melvin of Oakland, who was appointed to fill the place of the late Justice McFarland, for the first time officiated on the Supreme bench.

HAS A NEW DRESS.

After two months of retinting, decorating and installing new furnishings, the Van Nuys grill was thrown open to the public yesterday evening. It is one of the handsomest diningrooms in the city and the colorings are all carried out in perfect harmony. The side walls, tapestries and carpets are in a deep maroon shade. The ceiling and pillars are colored as of old ivory. A small mezzanine gallery for the orchestra has been erected in the rear. In honor of the event, Milo M. Potter, his wife and daughter, entertained a few friends at a select dinner. Mr. Potter stated that the grill had been ready for occupancy sooner, but that the 19th of the month was always his...

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The City Council yesterday refused the demand of the school board that the special High-School fund be placed in the common-school fund, but ordered it kept separate by City Auditor Mushet.

Judge Monroe heard evidence, yesterday, in the suit of Mrs. Emma N. Sheer against F. J. Hoyt to have rescinded a contract for the purchase of Hoyt Mining Machinery Company stock on the ground of fraud.

On behalf of the State, A. P. Fleming and J. A. Anderson yesterday filed in the Superior Court six suits against the Southern Pacific Railroad Company and over twenty-five other corporations and individuals, to quiet title to tidelands of Wilmington bay, or the inner bay of San Pedro, with all estuaries and channels, and various tracts contiguous thereto.

Police Commissioner Edward B. Tufts yesterday filed in the Superior Court a suit against E. T. Earl and the Evening Express Company for $100,000 damages for alleged libelous and defamatory articles published on October 3 and 9.

AT THE CITY HALL.

TIES UP HIGH SCHOOL MONEY.

CITY COUNCIL REFUSES DEMAND OF COMMISSIONERS.

Segregates Special Sum so Board of Education Cannot Use it for Any Purpose Except for Which Tax Is Paid—Ordinance Extending Liquor Zone Is Filed.

By its action yesterday the City Council has made it impossible for the Board of School Commissioners to use the special levy of 7½ cents for high-school purposes for a general fund. This was the answer to the demand of the board that all moneys apportioned for school purposes during the current year be placed in what is known as the common-school fund. This would have brought the $200,000 raised by the special levy into the common-school fund and available for all other purposes as well as that for which it was collected.

The opinion of the City Attorney was that this High-School fund could not be placed in the common-school fund, but must be kept separate, and used only for High-School purposes.

When the special levy was asked, many months ago, it was expected that the request would force the city to exceed the limit of $1 in its aggregate levy. But the city got along with a levy of 92¼ cents, and kept the special levy within the limit. Now the school board would have the use of all the product of that economy, for the city could have made the levy $1.07½, by placing the High School's $200,000 in the common-school fund.

As it now stands, under direction of the Council, City Auditor Mushet will keep the funds separate, and only what is properly chargeable to the High School will be paid out of it.

The Council filed the ordinance increasing the boundaries of the retail-liquor zone yesterday. The petition accompanying it was also filed. Usually filing means death to a measure, but there is a whisper among Councilmen that filing in the case of the liquor-zone ordinance only means safe refuge. There were many ministers present to oppose the ordinance, which has a strong brewery backing, but none was heard. The opposition was in charge of the Rev. W. F. Ireland, secretary of the Sunday Rest League, who promises vigilance to prevent the ordinance escaping from the file and getting onto the city ordinance books.

The recommendation of the City Attorney that a residence district for the exclusion of hospitals could be created was met by the passage of an ordinance carrying the opinion into effect. The ordinance includes all the territory now in the "residence districts," and forbids the establishment of any new hospitals. The ones now in existence are not to be molested. The attempt to make the location a matter of consent by adjacent property owners was held by the attorney to be illegal, and this was abandoned. Just how the new ordinance will affect several hospitals which have been in dispute before the board of health is not known. It may permit some to continue, though they have been refused permits.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

WOMAN ASSERTS SHE'S "STUNG."

BUYS MINING MACHINE STOCK AND CHARGES FRAUD.

Seeks to Recover Real Estate and Wants Release From Financial Contract—Inventor Says Child of His Brain Is Valuable, and Denies Deception—Trial Continued.

The description of a machine for extracting flour gold from rocks that, Mrs. Emma N. Sheer says, indirectly extracted a $2000 piece of real estate from her possession for the benefit of its inventor, F. J. Hoyt, and that otherwise has been a failure, occupied Judge Monroe's attention, yesterday, during the trial of a suit brought by Mrs. Sheer against Hoyt on the grounds of fraud.

The plaintiff testified that in September, 1906, she signed a contract with Hoyt by which she gave him a deed to a $2000 piece of real estate, to recover which she is now suing him, and agreed to pay him $3000 more in full satisfaction of a purchase of 20,000 shares of stock in the Hoyt Mining Machinery Company, the money to be paid when she could sell the stock at 50 cents a share. She said that she knew nothing about mining, or mining machinery, but that Hoyt assured her that the new device was a complete success and that he would not advise her to invest if it were not.

Last December, she averred, she learned that the machine is still in the experimental stage and is an utter failure, and now she wants her real estate returned and her contract set aside, on the ground that Hoyt deceived her.

The defendant stated that Mrs. Sheer was given clearly to understand that the machine was still to be perfected when she made her investment. He denied absolutely that the invention is a failure, and said that the plaintiff could have sold her stock holdings at a profit had she not held them for a still higher figure. Any allegations of fraud he denied absolutely.

The trial will be concluded this morning.

QUIET TITLE SUITS.

HARBOR LANDS INVOLVED.

Six suits were filed in the Superior Court yesterday that the State of California may be adjudged the owner of the tidelands in Wilmington Bay and San Pedro Harbor.

In one action, that covers all the lands under the inner bay of San Pedro water line, the defendants are the Banning Company and its stockholders, the Pacific Electric Company, the Los Angeles Harbor Company, the Imperial Investment Company, the Kerckhoff-Cuzner Mill and Lumber Company, the California Pacific Railroad Company, A. M. Chaffey, and others. The complaint asserts that alleged title to these lands has been acquired by private persons and corporations by illegally issued State patents.

The essence of the plaintiff's contention in each case is "that said State of California owns the soil and land of the bed of said bay and the tidelands thereof and all lands of said bay that are covered and uncovered by the flux and reflux of the tides, absolutely and completely, subject only to the right of the United States to supervision over the navigable waters of said bay for the purpose of regulating commerce with foreign nations and among the States."

The Banning Company, H. Banning, W. Banning and J. B. Banning, are made defendants in one suit covering 15.86 acres of tideland about Mormon Island.

The Southern Pacific Railroad Company, the Southern Pacific Company, H. S. King and D. O. Mills are made defendants in another suit covering all lands under Wilmington Bay, or the inner bay of San Pedro, with all estuaries and channels.

Another action covers a tract of 21.78 acres along the Salt Lake wharves below the turning basin, the defendants being the California Fish Company, the Crescent Wharf and Warehouse Company, the Southern California Lumber Company, A. M. Chaffey, Merrick Reynolds, G. H. B. Hayes, and others.

A fourth suit, covering a tract of 15.94 acres, is against the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, San Pedro Lumber Company, Kerckhoff-Cuzner Mill and Lumber Company, Pacific Electric Railroad Company, Los Angeles Interurban Railroad Company, and the Banning Company.

In another suit the Banning interests, the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, Lucy T. Greenleaf, Mace Greenleaf, D. O. Mills and H. S. King are made defendants. This covers location No. 69 of the State tidelands.

MORE LIBEL CHARGES.

EARL AGAIN DEFENDANT.

Edwin T. Earl and the Evening Express Company were made defendants in still another libel suit in the Superior Court yesterday. It was filed by Police Commissioner Edward B. Tufts, who prays for $100,000 damages for alleged malicious, libelous, false and defamatory publications in the Evening Express of October 3 and 9.

The first alleged libelous article begins: "Says Woolwine: 'I am satisfied that vice has been and is being protected by the Mayor and Police Commission.'" The second article begins: "The whole record of this administration exhibits profound contempt for decency."

The plaintiff alleges that both articles falsely and illegally charge him, as a public official, with the protection of vice and crime, thereby exposing him to unmerited hatred and contempt from the public and his associates.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

DISTRICT CHANGE. The Supervisors yesterday ordered, on the recommendation of County School Superintendent Keppel, that the boundaries of El Monte school district be changed to include that portion of Savannah school district east of the Ellis road and north of Azusa road. A petition favoring this action was presented by twenty residents of the district affected, while forty-five persons protested against the change. Questions were raised by the advocates of the plan as to the qualifications of some of the signers, and the board finally decided that, as Mr. Keppel advised the change, it should be made.

MANSLAUGHTER. After an hour's deliberation, a jury in Judge Jamison's court yesterday brought in a verdict of manslaughter against Sabino Guzman, who will be sentenced Wednesday morning. He fatally shot Agapito Garcia near Sherman on August 16.

NO DAMAGES. A jury in Judge Houser's court yesterday gave judgment against the plaintiff in the suit of Fred Swanson against the Pacific Electric Railroad Company for $5000 damages, alleged due because of injuries Swanson said he had received in a collision between a trolley car and his team in December. Attorney Edmund B. Drake was counsel for the plaintiff.

FELONY CHARGED. W. E. Shaughnessy was placed on trial in Judge Wilbur's court yesterday on the charge of having feloniously assaulted Lena Moots, 16 years old, at Long Beach on August 26.

ANNULMENT ASKED. Mrs. Anna M. Nelson yesterday filed suit in the Superior Court for an annulment of her marriage to Clarence Nelson, who, she says, had another wife living when she married him at San Diego in July, 1907.

ACCOUNTING. Miss Clara Strouse, through her guardian, J. A. Norris, yesterday filed in the Superior Court a suit for an accounting against her mother, Mrs. Mable Munson, who, the plaintiff says, in 1903 collected $2000 on life-insurance policies alleged due to the plaintiff upon the death of her father, James Strouse. It is charged that Mrs. Munson has refused to pay the money to her daughter.

EARTH FALLS. The jury trial of B. H. Brown's personal injury suit against the Sharp-Hauser Contracting Company for $30,000 damages, was begun in Judge Houser's court yesterday. The plaintiff says that he suffered the amputation of his left arm and other injuries as the result of the falling of a mass of earth on him while he was working for the defendant at Horseshoe Bend, on December 23, 1907. He alleges that the defendant failed to use proper precautions to protect him in his work.

INCORPORATION. Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday with the County Clerk by the Imperial Knitting Company, capital stock $10,000.

SUSTAINS DEMURRER.

In the United States Circuit Court yesterday Judge Wellborn sustained the demurrer of the defendant in the case of Caroline E. Manning of Detroit against E. B. Delamatyr. The plaintiff is allowed twenty days in which to amend her complaint. The action is to recover $2500, claimed to be her share on the sale of patent rights in an oil burner.

INFERIOR COURTS.

POLICE PLAN TO WATCH CAFES.

GIVING OF KNOCKOUT DROPS IS BECOMING EPIDEMIC.

Latest Victim, Pretty Married Woman, Tells Her Story to Justice. Wife, Alleged to Have Been Shot by Husband, Too Weak to Appear Against Him.

Mrs. Alice Perry of East Fifty-ninth street and Central avenue yesterday told Justice Austin in the Police Court that knockout drops had been put in her wine-glass at Dunlap's café, at Sixth street and Central avenue, Sunday evening.

The woman was arraigned on the charge of intoxication and pleaded guilty. She was fined $10, but excused from paying it upon her promise to keep away from cafés in the future.

Mrs. Perry is young and very pretty. She told her story in such a straightforward manner that the court was convinced of the truth of it. Many reports have been received at the Police Station recently, regarding the administering of knockout drops and a crusade against the guilty parties is planned.

Mrs. Perry stated that she left home Sunday evening to dine at Dunlap's café, and that while she was eating, two men with whom she was acquainted, entered and seated themselves at her table. They ordered wine and she drank several glasses. She became dizzy and realized that she had been drugged. She left the café and boarded a Central avenue car, with the intention of going home, but was so confused by the drug that she got on a car which carried her to Second and Spring streets, where she was arrested.

Recently Miss Elizabeth McKinley, an attorney, was arrested on a charge of drunkenness, and when her case came into court, stated that she had been drugged. There have been numerous instances recently in which old men have been given knockout drops in cafés, and robbed.

Wounded Wife Weak.

Because of the condition of Mrs. Sanford Brent, the case of W. S. Brent, charged with assault with intent to murder, was continued, yesterday, after it had been called for trial before Justice Chambers.

Brent shot his wife in the side, it is alleged, on the night of September 19, in a small restaurant owned by her at Gladys avenue and East Fifth street. Then he attempted to commit suicide but was prevented from doing so by an officer.

Mrs. Brent is at the Clara Barton Hospital and was not strong enough to appear in court yesterday.

Intent to Kill Charged.

Charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill, Sidney Johnson, proprietor of the Siesta Club at Ninth and Santa Fé streets, is undergoing preliminary examination in Justice Chambers's court.

Charles Scott, the prosecuting witness, is a negro. According to the evidence, he had been warned to keep away from the club and became threatening.

He called Johnson out of the place, and attempted to stab him, it is alleged, and the proprietor fired five shots, each of which entered the negro's body.

BUSY AS BEES.

PLY NEEDLES FOR CHARITY.

HELPFUL GUILD SUPPLIES MANY GARMENTS TO NEEDY.

Section Presidents and Directors Arranging for Annual Collection and Distribution—Merchants Very Generous—Wrappers and Dressing Sacques for Sick Women.

A meeting of the section presidents and directors of the Los Angeles branch of the Needlework Guild of America was held at the Los Angeles Orphans' Home, Alpine and Yale streets, to arrange for the yearly collection and distribution of garments. These are wanted as soon as possible as they must reach their destination not later than October 28.

Owing to the fact that many directors move away from the city each year, many garments are not sent in, as members of the guild wait for the notices from their directors. Mrs. Salisbury, the president, asks that contributions be sent to her at Hotel Ingraham. At least two garments from each member are expected.

The work of the guild is far reaching. Last year 5199 garments were distributed among fifty organized charities. There are now twenty-nine sections of the organization, two of which were formed during the past year, and are in charge of Mrs. Lyman C. Craig and Mrs. O. P. Clark.

Three busy days are spent by the president and directors of the guild before the final distribution. The first day the garments are received, counted, assorted and arranged. The second day a public reception is held, and the third day the garments are apportioned, put into great sacks and carted off to the different institutions which had applied for them.

Mrs. Theodore Eisen, the secretary of the guild, who attends to all the details of correspondence, states that the needlework exhibit will be held at Kramer's Hall on November 2. Most needed are wrappers and dressing sacques for sick women.

The merchants' section of the guild, in charge of Mrs. Salisbury, is one of the most successful, and gives generous help.

The Los Angeles branch was organized in 1896 by Mrs. Rufus Herron, who is its honorary president.

TRUSTED OUT OF JAIL.

Hugh Conway, charged with breaking into the postoffice at West Saticoy, Ventura county, and stealing postage stamps and some currency, was allowed his freedom yesterday by Judge Wellborn on his own recognizance. The young man has been in the County Jail for several months, and, according to the United States District Attorney, it was better to allow him liberty pending the trial, which is set for January.

AFTER 'EM.

GRAND JURY IS NOW DIGGING.

District Attorney Pushing the Investigation.

Woolwine Trying to Get Out Through Quibbles.

Contempt Case Continued, All Facts Coming Out.

While the excited and youthful Mr. Woolwine was making frantic legal quibbles yesterday to show Judge James why he should not be forced to either tell what he knows about graft or confess that he knows nothing, the grand jury was beginning a real investigation of the moral complexion of the municipal government of Los Angeles.

T. Woodwine was not called for; he has been quietly subtracted from the situation—except for charges of contempt against him.

The inquiry is proceeding under the direction of that true, tried and respected officer of the law, District-Attorney Fredericks—as is legal and proper.

The conditions under which the latter has taken charge of the investigation are a guarantee that both the public and accused city officials will be given a fair deal.

It has been publicly stated, on behalf of Capt. Fredericks, that no one will be spared; the testimony will be allowed to hit whom it may. On the other hand, there is every reason to believe that the grand jury will be guided by Fredericks to the extent of following the legal course.

There will be no "indictments" for the sake of satisfying the public lust for excitement; no "indictments" whereby an official is branded for life simply for the sake of scaring him into telling something.

In other words, the inquiry will be conducted on lines that have been considered just and decent in all civilized countries since the awakening from the Dark Ages.

The Code de Heney, with the grand jury acting as a legalized Vigilance Committee and the prosecutor as chief ruffian, will not be followed here.

Ten or twelve witnesses, apparently covering a wide range of inquiry, were called yesterday by Capt. Fredericks.

The jury was in session about half an hour yesterday morning alone; Capt. Fredericks was then admitted. W. C. Petchner, secretary of the Pacific Sugar Corporation of Visalia, in which the Mayor and Commissioner Cole and Sam T. Schenck and others are stockholders, was called as the first witness.

Pitt P. Hand, a former newspaper reporter, followed and emerged from the jury room at noon.

Witnesses of the afternoon were: Charles W. Fuller, the police commissioner who resigned; W. H. Durham, a former police reporter; Eugene Germain, one of the leading lights of the Democratic Club in whose precincts there was a gambling scandal; Albert Searls, a former newspaper reporter and dealer in oil and sugar stocks; J. C. Hurst, the proprietor of a detective agency; Earl Strachan, newspaper reporter; Tim Spellacy, Democratic boss and president of the Mascot Oil Company; R. D. Peck, a newspaper circulator; John Koster and J. J. Lonergan, proprietors of the Imperial Café—a rotten dive.

Alfred Trident, a special detective, and Lanier Bartlett, former associate editor of the Pacific Outlook, were also under subpoena, but were not called into the jury room.

CONTEMPT CASE.

Meanwhile, Mr. Woolwine was answering a citation in Judge James's court, having been summoned to show cause why he should not be compelled to reveal to the grand jury the names of the persons who told him about municipal graft.

Woolwine was represented by Attorney E. O. Edgerton. Deputy District-Attorney C. C. McComas represented the State, and the petitioner against Woolwine.

Tommy's attorney grabbed at many legal technicalities, which he urged as being reasons why Woolwine should not be forced to testify before the grand jury. He said, among other things, that the petition signed by the foreman of the grand jury did not give a fair idea of what actually occurred at the session wherein he refused to tell about graft.

Judge James granted Woolwine permission to file a new statement of the questions he refused to answer.

During the course of the day, Woolwine's attorney filed an addition to the versions of Capt. Fredericks as to the occurrences in the jury room. The additions mainly related to the detective, Hurst, who is said to be the source of Woolwine's graft information.

Questioned by Capt. Fredericks, Woolwine stated that he read to the jury a report made by Hurst; left the report lying on the table in the jury room. Capt. Fredericks took the report to his office.

"And not only that," said Woolwine to Fredericks and the grand jury, "but while in your office, he saw—or rather he told me he saw other reports with relation to other matters."

Fredericks: If he did, he is a sneak. Isn't it a fact that you plied all these papers here, your notes, and everything of that kind, when you declined to take my invitation to take charge of this; that you handed all those papers, one after another, to me at this table in the grand jury room, and I rolled them up and took them to my office?

Answer (by Woolwine:) You can't cover up your conduct in any such way. Those things were read before this grand jury and placed on this table.

Question (by Fredericks:) All right.

A. If you took them over there, you took them of your own volition.

Q. Certainly. You don't suppose they would be left here on the table?

A. You ask me questions. That is what you are here for.

Q. Yes.

A. I will answer your questions.

Q. Isn't it a fact that this man, Hurst, who told you this, told you that he called on me and asked me to employ him as a detective to investigate this matter; that I took the copy of the report which he had made to you, or was alleged to have made to you, and asked him if that was his report, and he read it over and said that that was, in substance, what he reported to you? Isn't it then a fact that I told Mr. Hurst that you were going to take charge of this investigation, and that he should go down and see you, and whatever you said in the matter would be binding? Isn't that what he told you?

A. You ask too long a question, captain. It is impossible for me to answer that in one answer.

Q. Isn't that, or that in substance, what he told you occurred up in my office? You may tell the jury what he did say occurred up there, if they want to hear it. Well, I withdraw the question, if it is too hard to answer. I think that's all, Mr. Woolwine.

RIVER AND MINING.

GOV. GILLETT HAS ACCEPTED.

Becomes Honorary Member of Sierra Madre Club.

Will Aid in Fight on Mining Fakers.

Larry Sullivan Operates in State of Sinaloa.

Gov. Gillett has accepted the invitation of honorary membership extended on behalf of the Sierra Madre Club, the new social organization of mining men and, while Hotel Alexandria yesterday told a representative of The Times that he considers it an honor to be associated with a project founded upon the broad lines outlined by the promoters of the organization.

Speaking of mining matters throughout the State, the Governor said that he believes the work now being done by State Mineralogist Aubury in the exposition of fakers of the utmost importance to the future prosperity of the country. He also says that his administration will lend every possible aid towards the work in hand and that the latter, so long as he conducts the affairs of his department in the same satisfactory manner as has characterized his efforts up to this time, will be supported with all the strength at his command.

With regard to the affairs of the Monterey Oil Company, which has been characterized as a fake by Auditor Nye and which recently appealed to Governor Gillett for protection from his attacks, he says that he is not personally acquainted with the property but that whether there is a coal mine there or not, it is at least certain that misleading statements have been made in the literature put out by the concern. Whatever may be the future developments of the company he believes that the exposure will be of great benefit in a general way and will tend to show promoters that their statements must be well within the mark.

Since the treatment of the Monterey Oil Company's case the Governor received material aid from John Hays Hammond, the eminent engineer, who recently sent a representative to examine the property on his behalf. The report was forwarded to the Governor and shows conclusively that statements had been made which could not be supported in any way by facts.

Larry Prospers.

J. Stuart, a mining engineer who has been throughout most of the mining camps of the Southwest and Mexico has recently returned from a trip to Sinaloa and says that Larry M. Sullivan, formerly head of the deeply-involved Sullivan Trust Company of Portland, has secured two excellent properties in the south and bids fair to once more on the wave of prosperity.

The property upon which Sullivan has been concentrating most of his efforts is the Santa Cruz, fifteen miles from San Ignacio, which was formerly owned by the Prefecto of the district. A shaft has been sunk to a depth of 60 feet in a contact between andesite and diorite upon a two foot vein which widened out to four feet at the bottom. Surface values ran from $8 to $10 in gold and it is said that these have increased to $22 across the entire four feet at the lowest depth. Open cuts on the surface have shown up the vein for a distance of 1500 feet with a width ranging from three to six feet. The ore is susceptible to the amalgamation and cyanide process of reduction, tests having effected a recovery of over 95 per cent. A ten-stamp mill has been ordered from San Francisco and Stuart contemplates that it has already been shipped.

The other property which the former Portland broker is developing is what is formerly known as the Mexican group, but which has now been renamed the Timothy D. Sullivan, at Sinaloa, forty-two miles from San Ignacio. Two veins have been exposed on the surface, one six feet wide and the other four and a half feet. The veins are in andesite, the filling being calcite, with values varying from $5 to $16 in gold. Development has reached a vertical depth of 100 feet and sixty feet, while a crosscut has been driven to attain a point 4000 feet below the apex of the mountain which the vein traverses is now being run on the vein.

In both enterprises Sullivan is associated with local capital supplied in part by a Mr. Hayes, Dr. Thorpe and an architect named Watts. W. B. Gillingham, who was formerly in the employ of the Russian government in Manchuria, is also interested in the property and is now engaged as consulting engineer.

New Camp of Sylvanite.

Authentic information regarding the discovery of a new camp in New Mexico, which has been christened Sylvanite, has been received by former Goldfield operators now living in this city and a party including Broker F. M. Dorsey is planning to make an early trip of inspection. The district was discovered last May by Sol Camp and Martin Ish, men of reliability associated with the early development of Goldfield, and is located in the southwest corner of Grant county. Samples of ore exhibited in Goldfield show high values in sylvanite, some of it running at least $10 a pound. The ore is similar in appearance to Cripple Creek high-grade and is found in similar formation. So far no material depth has been attained upon the property but pay ore has been opened up in seven separate places. It is said that three feet of ore now exposed on the Camp and Ish property has given returns of from $300 to $400 a ton. About sixty men are now in camp near the new find.

Movements of Mining Men.

James W. Abbott, mining engineer, who has been visiting in the city for the past few weeks, returned to Pioche last night. He anticipates active times in the old Nevada camp this winter.

Jack Fitzgerald, well known in all mining camps of the West, has recently returned from Oregon, where he went to examine property in the vicinity of Medford. He will leave for Nevada camps within the next week.

R. N. Riblet of Spokane was a guest of the Angelus Hotel yesterday on his way to Clifton, Ariz., on business connected with the installation of an aërial tramway. He is a brother of Byron A. Riblet, patentee of many of the most successful tramway devices now in use and who is associated with the St. Louis firm of Leescher & Sons.

Charles M. Schwab, according to Rhyolite reports, has already received $300,000 of the $500,000 advanced by him to the Montgomery-Shoshone Mining Company and it is expected that the full amount will be repaid before the first of the coming year. The information is said to be received from reports rendered up to July 1, and several payments have been made since that date.

F. R. Howards of the newly-organized Publicity Committee of Seven Troughs, is a recent arrival in the city and expects to remain here during a portion of the winter. He says that the camp is enjoying great prosperity and that milling operations have proved the great value of the ore bodies exposed. Between 2000 and 2500 people are distributed between the four towns of the district—Vernon, Mazuma, Seven Troughs and Farrell.

BEAUTY IN DISTRESS.

Handsome Woman Accuses Policeman of Flirting With Her, and Then Becomes Hysterical.

Miss Ida Gibbons, 35 years old and a woman of remarkable beauty, created a disturbance in Chief of Police Kern's office yesterday morning and was locked up in the detention ward of the Receiving Hospital, pending an investigation as to her mental condition.

She complained that policemen had been flirting with her. In the course of a long story, Lyle Pendergast, the Chief's secretary, entered the room and inquired her business. She told him to "get out" and not to speak to her. She then became hysterical and Dr. Bonynge was sent for.

LITERARY WEDDING.

Miss Isabel McReynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George T. McReynolds, of No. 490 Solano street, and Harry Gray were married yesterday by Rev. E. L. Howe, rector of the Church of the Epiphany. The young couple started last evening for El Paso on their wedding trip. Mr. Gray was formerly a newspaper man in this city and at present is employed as one of the engineers on the Los Angeles aqueduct. Mrs. Gray is a Berkeley graduate, and while there made quite a reputation as a writer and actress. Since her graduation she has written stories and has a book in press.

E. E. Bush and Daniel Finn, prominent oil men of Hanford, are registered at the Hollenbeck. They have interests in the oil belt of the section and are here to look after them.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

BIG RESERVOIR NEVER USED.

How Espee Spent Its Money to No Purpose.

The Burrs and Land South of Coalinga.

Company on Kern's Edge; Associated Land.

On section 7 at Coalinga is the old reservoir of 500,000 barrels capacity, built by the Southern Pacific's oil department years ago, when that corporation imagined it could develop sufficient oil for storage, and also that the Coalinga product could be profitably kept in earthern reservoirs, just as Kern River's is. The mistake was soon found, and today the great reservoir is abandoned, dismantled, and open on a side, standing as a monument to somebody's blunder. It cost the railroad thousands of dollars, it never repaid one cent, and never held a gill of oil. The only possible use one can think of for it would be to turn it into a circus or boxing arena.

The fact is that the earthern reservoir is hardly a success for permanent storage except with the combination of Kern River oil and soil and at Sunset. The Standard has used it for some 14,000,000 barrels, and says it is very satisfactory. The Associated, too, has used it to a much less extent, but undoubtedly the best storage is underground if others are not pumping it too fast. With the present market, producers have little use for storage. There is none, and has been none at Coalinga for years past, all the output going right to market.

The Kern Trading and Oil Company (Espee) owns all the south half and about sixty acres of the north half of this section. All this is undeveloped but the section 7, Coalinga Pacific, and the Nathan lease on the northwest quarter and part of the east half of the northeast quarter, have wells pumping and development under way. The section is on the flat east of the line followed by the old development. Drilling is deeper here. Still east on the southwest quarter of eight, the M. K. & T. has the deepest in the field, on which work has been going on for years.

Burrs Were Warned.

The Times has a letter from Burr Bros. of New York, protesting against the article in these columns in reference to the People's Associated Oil Company, the concern with a borrowed name which they have launched on a wildcat tract at Coalinga. They inclose two letters from banks, which say, in general terms, that the land is in the district looked upon as good, and that wells are being drilled in the south of Coalinga field, facts which The Times knew well enough long ago.

The bankers do not, however, answer, or attempt to answer, the specific assertions of this journal as to the nature of section 32, where this company has located. Since then it has been learned that the Burrs were warned against this land when they bought it, but it was, of course, cheaper than better. The territory is very broken, and does not look good to oil men. The general trend of the southern development is several miles east. The old John A. Bunting well, on section 24 (now the California Diamond), is four miles east and a mile north. This was never completed, but has such indications that the Associated bought the adjoining section. The Blair well on fourteen is from three to four miles northeast, the wells on the famous section 6 are between four and five miles north, and the El Cerrito well (in course of drilling and wildcat, though well spoken of generally) is many miles southeast and in Kings county.

The Burrs, who are anxious for every one to understand that they are now incorporated, and that as a corporation—or at least their present corporation—had nothing to do with the Chicago-New York Air Line, say that that concern is still alive, and to prove it they inclose a report of a committee that tells about a trip over its intended line, talk in glowing terms about the wonderful plant of the steel trust at Gary, Ind., and other things and wind up with an appeal for more funds.

The company with the borrowed name is now advertising that it will buy proven oil lands. It needs them if it is to do business.

More West Edge Development.

Harry W. Thomas and L. P. St. Clair have leased the east half of the northeast quarter of 26-28-27 at Kern River from the estate of the late Thomas Malovan of Erie, Pa., and will form a company to develop. This is just west of the Hanford-Fresno, the Clarence, and the Associated Queen Esther property. At the northeast and southeast corners it touches the corners of the two Green and Whittier properties, now Associated, on 30 and 31-28-28. There are two wells, one at the north and the other at the south end of the tract, right on the section line, that were drilled years ago by the Hart Crude Oil Company that retired from business during the depression. On section 23, just north, is the row of wells belonging to several small companies, some of which are being operated again after years of suspension. This section was never divided before.

The western edge development calls renewed attention to the Associated's large undeveloped area in the west of Kern River. It owns the entire west half, and half of the east half of 30 and 280 acres on 31, besides a controlling interest in the 100 acres belonging to the Sterling. Excepting the last-named, nine-tenths of this area is almost wholly undeveloped. The Green and Whittier is scarcely drilled at all except on the east edge of the southwest quarter of 31. The total surface of these properties, exclusive of the Sterling is 760 acres.

The Associated has large pieces of undeveloped land on section 32, chiefly on the Kern, in the center of the field, and a good portion of the Reed Crude and Comet on 28, in the northeast, whither much attention is directed of late by the activities of small independent companies. Of course, some of this land will hardly be as valuable as that in the central and southern parts. On the other hand, the southern end is not all as valuable as it once was, and some other parts are increasing. On 34-28-28 on the extreme east, too, the Associated owns 300 acres, formerly the Reed Crude's, the value of much of which is more or less problematical. The low price of oil in the past has caused the Associated to buy rather than to push production on its own land.

MIX FOR RHEUMATISM

The following is a never-failing remedy for rheumatism, and if followed up it will effect a complete cure of the very worst cases: "Mix one half pint of good whiskey with one ounce of Toris Compound and add one ounce Syrup Sarsaparilla Compound. Take in tablespoonful doses before each meal and at bed time." The ingredients can be procured at any drug store and easily mixed at home.

Editorial Pen Points

This week and another and then that awful, sickening thud at Lincoln, Neb.

Perhaps the reason it has not been a hot race is that both the candidates are fat men.

"Life's final star is Brotherhood," sings Edwin Markham. And there are so many stars, too.

"Prosperity week in Los Angeles"—what it really means is prosperity strong in Los Angeles.

As far as the Bryan ginger is concerned there is a suspicion that somebody poured ashes in it.

It would prove a great advantage to Mr. Bryan if he could put the magic of his voice into cold type.

An Indiana author calls his new book "The Little Brown Jug." Still, it may be a very dry book for all that.

It may be just as well to wait until the campaign is concluded before saying there has been no money in it.

An eastern editor advises people not to keep a diary. Doubtless it would prove more profitable to keep a dairy.

Unhappily "Muggsy" McGraw's statement that no man can make money by betting on the races, will not be heeded.

It is fortunate for the election that it is only two weeks distant; otherwise people might be liable to forget about it.

As the election approaches the politicians will take off their coats in order to show what they have had up their sleeves.

The baseball season having closed in the East, the people of that part of the country can turn to the other national game.

The fact that there will not be a general European war will doubtless prove disappointing to more than one European general.

CONSTITUTION OR CODE?

The constitution of the State of California is nearly thirty years old. It was adopted in 1879; and the new constitution of that date has become the old one of our time.

But its age is not the only grave defect in this organic law. It was adopted in the midst of a period of unrest. Times were very bad, and as too often the case, the popular mind was wildly groping for legal enactments that might make hard times impossible and general prosperity sure to all.

California Legislatures had been corrupt and legislators incompetent. They have been so since in many instances, and will be so to a greater or less degree.

Grangerism, a new fad, was rampant in the State. Government by party was blamed for dull times, faulty legislation, corrupt legislators and for incompetency and corruption on the part of other officeholders. The "People's party" swept the State, and men elected by this party had a loud voice and many votes in the constitutional convention. The body as a whole was radical, with the exception of a few whose influence was set at naught by an army of New Lights inspired with a new evangel destined to usher in the millennium.

The purpose in the minds of these radical reformers was to cinch the people of future generations into a forced acquiescence with the notions of the convention. This was to be done by making the instrument, to come from their hands, a code of laws rather than an organic system in conformity to which laws were to be made by the Legislatures from time to time. So for thirty years the State has been struggling along under the burden of a system of law socialistic in many of its features and difficult to change because of the details wrought into what was to be a constitution.

A body chosen by an electorate, claiming to be most democratic, to be the superlative absolute of popular, this convention proceeded to rivet its crude views on all future generations. This convention, boasting of its popular sympathy and democratic impulses, manifested the greatest distrust of the people ever known. The consequence has been a perpetual struggle on the part of the people to get out of the net into which this convention wove them so tightly. And the only way out of the web is by weaving new strands to the net and thus paradoxically speaking to enmesh those who come after us more helplessly than we find ourselves.

Two weeks from today a national election will take place in which a President and a Congress are to be chosen. These grave issues are more or less complicated by the submission to the people of more than thirty amendments to the State constitution. Some of these proposed changes are of no great importance, but some are so important that they might well be reserved for a special election, at which no other issue would come up, an election which should take place after long and exhaustive discussion on the "stump" and in the press.

The fundamental fact is that these matters should not be submitted to popular vote at all. They should not be part of the State constitution, but should be left to legislative enactment, to be passed by a deliberative body where due time and attention might be given to elucidating the various points involved and where after extended debate amendments might be made from time to time. Broad, general provisions should be in the organic law, and the act in detail should merely conform to these.

This long-tried method of handling such propositions in no way eliminates the will of the people. Legislatures would be selected on these issues. The subject would have quite as much popular discussion as now. A single act of the elector in depositing his ballot would not be irrevocable. He would have time to consider. When the matter came up in the Legislature and was under debate, all the points would come out in detail. The voter would still be in touch with the matter and could reach the Senator and the Assemblyman from his district, instructing them of his views and wishes. The legal department of the State government, the executive and judiciary, would be consulted at every step. Then when the specific law was passed it would be much better calculated to meet the demands of the people than if enacted by direct legislation, as now proposed.

Here we have these thirty-odd amendments to the constitution to be acted upon by the voters two weeks from today. They are not organic laws, but specific acts, dealing with the subject matter in elaborate detail. These several measures have emanated from sources not generally clearly understood. A college professor stands sponsor for one of the most important of them. We refer to the amendment known as "Senate Amendment No. 1." This aims at a radical change in our system of taxation. By its provisions corporations are to be relieved from all tax burdens for the support of county and municipal governments. A State tax, specific and fixed, is to be levied against them. No matter what tax must be levied to support the State, a fixed per cent. of income is to be paid by these corporations. If there is a deficit, the property not held by corporations must meet that. If business is bad in a given year, the corporations escape part of the tax levy. If crops are bad ten years in succession the farmer must meet the tax collector's demands in full. The corporations will escape all the burdens of present bonded indebtedness of cities and counties, and the portion they would pay under our present system must fall on the small property holder, the retail merchant, the farmer, the laboring man who owns his little home, the widow's mite and the orphan's inheritance.

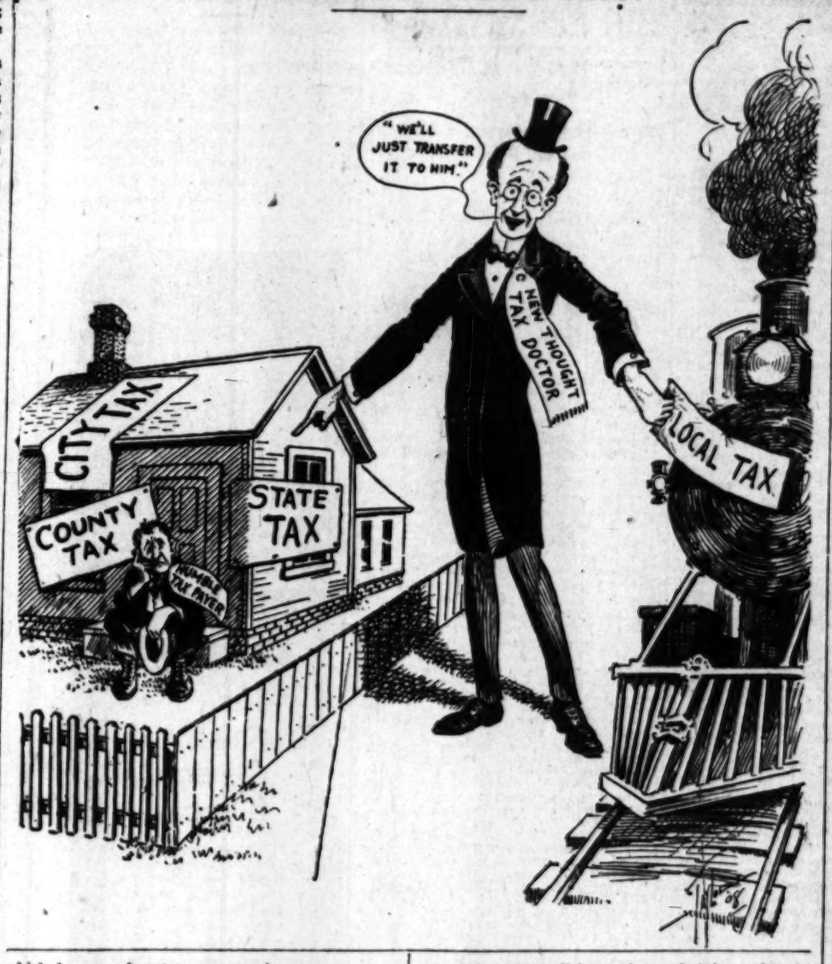
Who stands in the background behind this proposed amendment? The people? Not so far as any voice from that quarter reaches this office. How many of the people understand the question? Very few, so far as we can ascertain. Are experts in the matter of taxation agreed upon it? Not anywhere in the State. Whenever they speak they are at sixes and sevens upon the merits of this radical measure.

This is only one out of more than thirty which the people are to vote on November 3. Another known as "Senate Amendment No. 26" is an attempt to disrupt the meshes woven around the people in the constitution passed in 1879, relating to taxing mortgages. The people were led to vote for the so-called organic law passed by the Kearneyites, by being told that lenders would pay the taxes on mortgages, and that interest rates would not be any higher than if the borrower paid the tax. That such a proposition should be taken as sound shows how incompetent the great body of voters are to deal with these matters in detail. This absurd proposition has kept millions of foreign capital from being loaned on California property all these thirty years, and has maintained a higher rate of interest on money than would have prevailed under the old system. The law has been evaded in one way and another, but always to the advantage of the lender. After thirty years' experience, thousands of voters are not prepared to vote intelligently on the measure today.

This whole business of submitting direct legislation to the people, in all its bearings illustrates the evils of direct legislation, and makes manifest the wisdom of the old plan, devised by those great statesmen who formed for us a representative republican form of government wherein truly representative men, better equipped than the average voter, and in deliberative assemblies after exhaustive debate, pass laws under the Constitution, which by amendment upon amendment may prove workable and just.

And such laws may be repealed in toto, or amended in part, at each biennial session of the legislative bodies, without the costly and bungling method of constitutional amendments, voted upon by people largely unprepared to pass on their merits, and even where so prepared, not able to propose modifications for the reason that the whole proposition goes or fails at one fiat of the electorate.

SOMEBODY MUST PAY.



BRYAN NOT POSSIBLE.

Any careful analysis made of the political situation results in the conviction that the election of Mr. Bryan is almost impossible. The Times has set out from day to day careful estimates, all of which show Judge Taft a winner by a large majority. The editor-in-chief of this journal, now sojourning at the East and in touch with many sources of information of the highest importance, has sent several dispatches which have been given to the public. All these go to the same point, where Mr. Taft plainly stands as the choice of the American people.

The writer has just returned from the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress where nearly 1000 delegates, business men from a score of States west of the big rivers, assembled, and excepting the Louisiana, Texas, and Arkansas men, all were confident or at least very hopeful that their States would go Republican. The Middle West representatives laugh at the suggestion that any of these States are doubtful, excepting Missouri. Republicans in that State are far from giving up hope. Recognizing the fact that Mr. Bryan carried the State in 1896 and again in 1900, and that Mr. Roosevelt carried it against Mr. Parker, they say conditions have changed, and that there are more Republicans and fewer Democrats in the State than ever before.

In the Mountain States the hopes of Republicans generally rise to confidence. Both the church people and the gentiles in Utah say the State is sure for Judge Taft. Even the Montana delegates expressed the greatest confidence that the State will again give its vote to the Republican candidate. The Idaho people are as confident, and those from Colorado as much so as those from either of the other States. The same confidence is expressed by men from the Dakotas and those from Wyoming.

Nevada seems to be fairly debatable ground. The State may go Democratic on its local ticket. Senator Newlands is a candidate to succeed himself in the United States Senate, and he is a combination all in himself hard to beat. But Republicans will not abandon the fight on the national ticket. They say Mr. Bryan has no claims on them. The State, always Republican until 1896, led by its two Republican Senators, John P. Jones and William M. Stewart, went to Bryan on the silver issue. Mr. Bryan stands mute on this issue now, and the Nevada people see no reason for clinging to him. Railroad regulation is the issue there, and the people have more confidence in getting action from the party likely to control all the branches of the government than from one which will be incompetent to pass legislation.

When it comes to the Coast States, no intelligent Democrat expresses, when talking man to man, the least hope.

There is where the Far West stands today. West of the Mississippi and outside the solid South are a dozen States sure to be Republican and three doubtful. To be sure, in 1896 these States gave Bryan sixty-two votes. In 1900 they gave him only twenty-one. In 1904 the Democratic candidate received not one electoral vote out of all these States, including Missouri. The sixty-two votes Mr. Bryan got in 1896 did not elect him. He will not get more than six votes in these States this year excluding Missouri, and he may not get one, including Missouri.

The weakest point about the Bryan cause is the lukewarm support of his own people. At the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress it was significant that nearly all the delegates excepting those from the solid South were Republicans. That was a gathering of business men. That they should have been nearly all Republicans was remarkable. These men are in close touch with other business men, some of whom are Democrats. These whisper in confidence to their business associates that while staying in their party as "regulars" for the sake of standing well in the future, they do not desire to see Mr. Bryan elected. They say, sub rosa, that if their vote could determine the result they would cast it for Judge Taft; that if their State appears on election day to be really very close they will quietly vote in such a way as to keep Mr. Bryan at his desk editing the Commoner.

Democrats all over the country wish to see Mr. Bryan badly beaten in order to eliminate him from party politics. They like him personally, but distrust him politically. They realize his inability to grasp great policies and to administer the national government. They realize that in any event the Senate will bar legislative action under a Democratic administration and that no progress is possible. They see, too, that if Mr. Bryan is elected he will make up a Supreme Court of men like himself and that this will prove revolutionary. These Democrats concede the defeat of their candidate and see in that defeat the hope of the future: W. J. Bryan will be a "dead issue," and a real Democratic party will follow.

DEMOCRATIC AND REPUBLICAN CONDITIONS—1896-1907.

BY WALTER J. BALLARD.

In 1896 (Democratic) the deposits in the savings banks of the United States were $1,935,000,000, but in 1907 (Republican) they were $3,495,000,000, a gain of $1,560,000,000.

In 1896 (Democratic) our total bank deposits were $4,945,000,000, but in 1907 (Republican) they were $13,099,000,000, a gain of $8,154,000,000.

In 1896 (Democratic) our bank clearings were $51,935,000,000, but in 1907 (Republican) they were $154,622,000,000, a gain of $102,687,000,000.

In 1896 (Democratic) the annual charge for interest on our public debt was $34,000,000, but in 1907 (Republican) it was only $21,000,000, a saving of $13,000,000 a year, reducing the per capita from 49 cents to 25 cents.

In 1896 (Democratic) our United States Treasury receipts were $326,000,000, but in 1907 (Republican) they were $663,000,000, a gain of $337,000,000, without direct taxation.

In 1896 (Democratic) the money in circulation totaled $1,506,000,000, but in 1907 (Republican) it was $2,773,000,000, a gain of $1,267,000,000, and a per capita increase of $10.81 in spite of 15,600,000 increase in our population.

In 1896 (Democratic) the outstanding banking accommodation was $1,971,000,000, but in 1907 (Republican) it was $4,631,000,000, an increased assistance to American business of $2,660,000,000.

In 1896 (Democratic) the total life insurance in force was $5,943,000,000, but in 1907 (Republican) it was $13,706,000,000, or $7,763,000,000 more provision for those dependent upon us—$1,565,000,000 of this increase was in industrial life insurance.

In 1896 (Democratic) our exports were of the value of $882,000,000, but in 1907 (Republican) they totaled $1,880,000,000 (only $20,000,000 less in 1908 fiscal year,) an increase of $998,000,000 to the benefit of the American farm, the American factory, the American mine, and all branches of American business.

In 1896 (Democratic) the excess of our exports over imports was $102,000,000, but in 1907 (Republican) the excess was $446,000,000, a gain of nearly $1,000,000 a day, Sundays and holidays included.

In 1896 (Democratic) our exports of manufactures were worth $258,000,000 of foreign gold, but in 1907 (Republican) they brought us $740,000,000 (a gain of $482,000,000) or nearly $2,500,000 a day for each of the 300 working days of the year, of which fully 40 per cent. went to American factory wage-earners.

In 1896 (Democratic) the animals on our farms were worth $1,728,000,000, but in 1907 (Republican) their value was $4,424,000,000, a gain of $2,696,000,000.

In 1907 (Republican) our corn crop brought $846,000,000 more than in 1896 (Democratic;) our wheat crop $244,000,000 more; our crop of oats, $302,000,000 more; our hay, $355,000,000 more; our potatoes, $112,000,000 more; our wool, $46,000,000 more, and our cotton, $309,000,000 more.

In 1896 (Democratic) our beet-sugar production was 20,000 tons, but in 1907 (Republican) it was, under the protective tariff, 432,000 tons, a gain of 403,000 tons.

In 1896 (Democratic) our total mineral production was of the value of $640,000,000, but in 1907 (Republican) it was worth $1,902,000,000, a gain of $1,262,000,000.

In 1896 (Democratic) our postal receipts amounted to $82,000,000, but in 1907 (Republican) they reached $183,000,000, an increase of $101,000,000.

In 1896 (Democratic) our steel production was 5,281,000 tons, but in 1907 (Republican) it was 23,398,000 tons, an increase of 18,117,000 tons, or nearly fourfold.

In 1896 (Democratic) our production of pig iron was 8,623,000 tons, but in 1907 (Republican) it was 25,781,000, a nearly three-fold increase.

In 1896 (Democratic) we manufactured 359,000,000 pounds of tin plate, but in 1907 (Republican) our tariff-protected factories turned out 1,293,000,000 pounds, a gain of 934,000,000 pounds under protection.

In 1896 (Democratic) our American cotton mills used 2,505,000 bales of cotton, but in 1907 (Republican) they consumed 5,005,000 bales, an increased use, producing work and wages, also under protection, of 2,500,000 bales.

In 1896 (Democratic) our silk factories imported 9,000,000 pounds of raw silk, but in 1907 (Republican) they called for nearly 19,000,000 pounds, giving the wage-earners in those factories more than double the quantity of work and more than twice the volume of wages—also under the present protective tariff.

In 1896 (Democratic) the original homestead entries covered 4,830,000 acres, but in 1907 (Republican) the covering was 14,754,000 acres, increase of nearly 10,000,000 acres.

In 1896 (Democratic) we built in the United States 1654 miles of steam railways, but in 1907 (Republican) the new railway construction 5294 miles, an increase of 3640 miles.

In 1896 (Democratic) 17,000,000 tons of freight passed through the "Soo" canals, but in 1907 Republican increased American business called for passage of 44,000,000 tons, an increase of 27,000,000 tons.

President Roosevelt has said: "The welfare of the country is indissolubly bound up with the welfare of the farmer and the wage-worker; of the man who tills the soil, and of the man who works the handicraftsman, the laborer. If we can secure the prosperity (and we can and do as above) of these two classes we need not trouble ourselves about prosperity of the rest, for that will follow as a matter of course." That was said in 1901, and it is equally true and applicable under Republican policies and control.

And Mr. Taft, knowing these details of Republican prosperity, closed his speech of acceptance by saying: "We Republicans go to the country asking the support not only of those who have acted with us heretofore, but of our fellow-citizens who, regardless of past differences, unite in the desire to maintain policies, perpetuate the blessings, and make the achievements of a greater America."

EXAMINING CHILDREN.

Catholic school pupils are undergoing examinations to determine physical defects, one similar to that of the public schools which is conducted under the supervision of the city health department. The examining physician is Dr. Arnold Burkelman, who reports good progress in the course of two weeks' work, in which he has investigated the physical condition of the pupils of St. Michael's and Sacred Heart parochial schools. Dr. Burkelman also reports excellent progress in the dispensary work at the Sisters' Hospital where he has charge of one of the clinics.

There is real economy in wearing silk waists when they wear three months or more and cost only five dollars.

This guarantee throws all the risks on the makers:

Should this waist, bearing the trade-mark "S. H. & M.," crack or split within three months from date of purchase, return it with this coupon to your dealer. He will replace it with a new one, provided the damage has not been caused by tearing, perspiration or rubbing of corset bones.

Oriental Rugs
Priced Absurdly Low

$10, $14.75 and $25 for Daghestan, Shirvan and Mosoul rugs, in sizes ranging from 3 to 4½ ft. wide by 4 to 5½ ft. long.

But that statement means little until you see the rugs themselves. THEN, if you know anything at all about Oriental rugs you will realize that the prices are only half what rugs of like size and value usually bring. We have made reckless reductions all through the line so as to clear the way for the tremendous supply now on the way from Turkey.

FANCY PONGEE SUITINGS

A certain very pretty line of 24-inch pongee suitings, in stripes and Oriental figures—very stylish—we propose to close out at 25c to 50c a yard less than we have asked all season; $1.25 and $1.50 qualities for..... $1 yd

Autumn Suits for Misses

Girls have every right to be exactly as particular as their mothers in the choosing of suits for street and school wear. These suits were selected particularly for their smart lines, their good material and their reasonableness of prices.

Handsome worsted suitings, serges, etc., in plain green, navy, catawba and brown, and in handsome suiting stripes—exact counterparts of the patterns and materials that are being made up into the finest of women's suits this fall; twenty-seven-inch half-fitting coats, pleated, plain or gored skirts with button trimmings; $15 and higher; for girls of twelve, fourteen and sixteen.

New Robe Blankets

Already people with an eye to the near approach of the holidays are selecting eminently sensible gifts from among these stocks, now complete in every detail:

Jacquard blankets for making up into lounging robes or bath robes, are here in many refined and tasteful patterns—these made of the finest wool; Indian blankets for use in one's library or den make very acceptable gifts; and of steamer and auto rugs, carriage robes, silk comfort, plain or fancy plaid blankets there is hardly an end.

$30 Ostermoor Mattresses $25

A special offer of the sixty-pound Ostermoor mattress which is retailed regularly at $30—with art ticking cover, French roll edge and round corners, we can sell for.....$25.00
And the regular $16.50 Ostermoor we can sell at $15.00

Tailored Waists Are Stylish

The woman who wishes to be really smart is wearing, this year, strictly tailored waists. To supply the demand we've gathered the widest assortment of these garments we ever showed, embracing a number of prices.

Some waists are made with wide tucks down the front, others have the narrower tucks, some are perfectly plain, with a patch pocket; all have stiff cuffs and linen collars, some of them embroidered. Linen and madras are the materials most in favor among plain white waists; hairline stripes and fancy shirtings are also much employed. You'll be anxious to see these smart styles, and to make your selection before the size ranges become broken.

Handsome Wide Ribbons 25c

Home milliners will be especially interested in these extra good ribbon values, as well of mothers of school girls who have to have ribbons for hair bows, etc.

Plain taffetas and faille finish ribbons of softer body, for millinery, hair bows, etc., full five and five and a half inches wide, in practically every shade 25c

Rheumatism, Stomach Trouble and All Forms of Chronic Nervous Diseases Permanently Cured

The force which keeps the heart pulsing, the stomach digesting, the kidneys operating, the body moving and the brain scheming is ELECTRICITY. Your vitality, energy and power depend entirely upon the amount of ELECTRICITY the tissues and nerves contain. Nerve weakness and worry are the hotbeds in which Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Headache, Kidney Trouble, Backache, Weak Heart and Liver Trouble all grow and thrive, and the only means of curing these diseases is to rebuild the nerves and charge the body with new vitality and power, which can be done through a continuous mild and soothing flow of electricity from day to day, giving the blood, tissues and nerves time to absorb it. We have absolutely cured case after case that we can refer you to, many that were given up as incurable. We have the finest offices and equipment in the city. Chronic cases solicited. Consultation and diagnosis free. Terms reasonable.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

A DELIGHTFUL dinner party had as hostess, last evening, Mrs. Hugh Livingston Macneil. It was the second of a series of dinners at her beautiful home, at No. 2408 South Figueroa street, in compliment to her daughter, Miss Marion. The appointments, which were most artistic, were carried out in yellow, large chrysanthemums being used. An interesting musical programme was presented by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clifford Lott. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Clark, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Utley, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Denis, Miss Alberta Denis, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Drake, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Chandler, Lieut.-Gen. and Mrs. Adna R. Chaffee, Miss Annis Van Nuys, Miss Kate Van Nuys, Benton Van Nuys, Gurney Newlin, Maynard McFie, James Page, Dr. Bertrand Smith and James Slauson.

Mrs. Horace G. Hamilton,

Twentieth Anniversary.

Another interesting function of last evening was the dinner party given at Hotel Lankershim by Mr. and Mrs. Horace Granville Hamilton in celebration of their twentieth wedding anniversary. A handsome centerpiece of cream and white roses ornamented the table and places were marked with cards in the shape of wedding bells and adorned with water-color sketches of orange blossoms. Those present were Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Locke, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fischer, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Parmelee, Mr. and Mrs. John N. Metcalf, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Kimball, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus L. Godfrey, Dr. and Mrs. Henry W. Brodbeck, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Cronemiller, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin F. Mickley, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Fayram, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Wannop, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Burch, Dr. Raphael B. Durfee, Miss Opal McClary, Mrs. F. R. Warner and Mrs. George W. McClary. A feature of the evening was the playing of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" as the guests entered the dining-room. The hostess wore a beautiful gown of cream taffeta, made princess, with yoke and sleeves of imported lace.

En Route.

Mrs. John Williams and her son and daughter, Dorsey and Julia, who have been visiting relatives and friends in this city, left last evening for their home in Springfield, Mo. En route they will stop at Santa Barbara. Miss Gertrude Nler will accompany them to that city and be their guest during their sojourn there.

At Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde O. Dick of No. 1128 Linwood avenue have returned after a two weeks' vacation in San Francisco.

Noon Wedding.

Yesterday at noon took place the wedding of Miss Elsa Fuhrer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Fuhrer of South Flower street, to Frank F. Duquette, a young business man of this city. The service was read at St. Vibiana's Cathedral in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends. The bride, who is winsome and vivacious, wore a gown of white messaline satin and a veil. The couple left on the evening train for Oakland and San Francisco, and upon their return will reside at the Melrose, where they will receive after November 1.

Card Club.

Mrs. Rollo Snell of No. 407 Avenue 52 entertained members of the "As You Like It" Card Club recently at an "autumnal luncheon" and whist party. Place cards were in the shape of leaves and were the clever brush work of the hostess. A profusion of autumn leaves ornamented the rooms and dainty acorn on oak bark were given as souvenirs. Prizes were captured by Miss Emma Harvey, Miss Ellen Wheeler, Mrs. H. O. Meyer and Mrs. Frances Prescott. Other guests included Mrs. Forest Allen, Mrs. Lester Mennett, Mrs. Nathaniel Black, Mrs. Harry Hazard, Mrs. Clarence H. Pease, Mrs. J. F. Giles, Mrs. R. C. P. Smith, Mrs. William English, Mrs. Mark Turnbull, Mrs. C. B. McCollum, Mrs. L. M. Pye, Mrs. M. M. Symmes and Mrs. E. I. Harvey. Mrs. Symmes will entertain the club at luncheon and cards on the afternoon of October 30 at her home at No. 1428 South Union avenue.

In Colorado.

The Misses Grace and Edith Young of Garfield Place, Hollywood, have gone to Colorado, where they will spend the holiday season with relatives and friends.

Fiftieth Anniversary.

One of the happy events of Saturday evening was the celebration of the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Martin of No. 3418 South Hope street. At 8 o'clock a large number of their friends gathered to wish them congratulations and the excellent musical programme was presented. Mr. and Mrs. Martin have lived in this city for seventeen years. They formerly resided in Topeka, Kan. Mr. Martin is a Grand Army man and a member of Santon Post.

Home Again.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Washburn of No. 4000 Pasadena avenue have returned after a months' outing at Ocean Park.

After Year's Absence.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Howland and son, Adelbert, have returned to their home after an absence of one year. Mrs. Howland will receive her friends the second and fourth Wednesdays.

House Guest.

Mrs. Lloyd A. Green of the Doria apartments is entertaining Miss Nan J. Blair of Minneapolis. Mrs. Green is planning several pretty affairs for her guest, among them being an elaborately appointed dinner party.

Mrs. Seeley Hostess.

Mrs. Leah J. Seeley of South Figueroa street entertained recently with a delightful luncheon, appointments for which were carried out entirely in red carnations. Music was furnished by an orchestra and the following guests were bidden: Mrs. Alexander Hamilton, Mrs. William Beal Eysenmeyer, Mrs. W. S. Cross, Mrs. M. W. Everhardy, Mrs. J. C. Ferrell, Mrs. T. Newman, Mrs. T. Newell, Mrs. Charles Howland, Mrs. John Cline, Mrs. G. A. Pounder, Mrs. Fred Hooker Jones, Mrs. C. M. Seeley, and Mrs. Lewis Clark Carlisle.

BRAIN STORM.

HARD TO PICK BEST SLOGAN.

STILL IN DOUBT AFTER SIXTY HOURS' DELIBERATION.

Publicity Committee Hopes to Make Decision Today—Banner Across Broadway Will Announce Prize Phrase—Industrial Parade Promises to Be Miles Long.

After sixty hours of deliberation, the Publicity Committee of the Chamber of Commerce is still unable to decide which one of the 2000 "slogans" submitted for "Prosperity Week" is best for use on the 100,000 buttons and street banners. The winning one probably will be determined upon at the meeting of the committee at noon today, and it will be announced immediately by Chairman Arthur W. Kinney.

Great interest is displayed in the parade, which will be the most extensive and impressive "industrial pageant" ever seen in the West, it is declared. Indications are that there will be miles of wagons, floats, cars and automobiles, and tens of thousands of tons of manufactured goods and products.

Chairman F. J. Zeehandelaar of the Parade Committee has been hard at work arranging details, and his committee will meet tomorrow at 10 o'clock at the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association's headquarters. The best day for the parade is in doubt, and manufacturers are invited to express their preferences at once.

The Finance Committee, of which Roland T. Bishop is chairman, met yesterday with the Publicity Committee, and it was decided to proceed with the posting of street banners and distribution of literature on a mammoth scale as soon as the official "slogan" is determined upon. This will be announced to the public by a huge banner, stretched across Broadway in front of the Chamber of Commerce building.

The committee in charge of "factory visiting day," of which H. J. Brainerd is chairman, yesterday formed plans for the opening of all of the big workshops of the city and environs for public inspection, but the date is yet to be set.

Special efforts are to be made to have "the show part" of the entire business community make one combined assault on the eyes of the public throughout "Prosperity Week"—in other words, to have every show window in town contain an attractive display of "home products," and home products only. It is possible that a substantial prize will be offered to the retail dealer who makes the best display.

From Fresno to Coachella Valley the people have taken up the "Prosperity Week" idea. Yesterday Secretary Wiggins received this letter from Charles B. Jones of Coachella:

"'Prosperity Week' should receive the heartiest indorsement of every loyal Southern Californian. If carried out to the letter as planned, it cannot fail to accomplish great things in the way of hastening the return of good times to this section of the State. Southern State Association Board's First Meeting.

Plans for Representation at Next Legislature.

Highway Commission Advised With Wide Scope.

The first meeting of the board of directors of the California Good Roads Association since its organization in Stockton on June 2, was held yesterday afternoon in the directors' room of the Chamber of Commerce. President Charles D. Daggett of Pasadena was in the chair and J. M. Eddy of Stockton acted as secretary. Others present were P. E. Holt, Stockton; G. M. Cooley, San Bernardino; S. P. Elliott, Stockton; S. A. Butler, Los Angeles; Nathaniel Ellery, Sacramento, and P. J. Beverage, Hollywood. Messrs. Eddy and Beverage were put on the board after the resignation of W. L. Greene of Pasadena and W. M. Bunker of San Francisco.

The board indorsed the following resolution:

"Whereas: The public highways of the United States, in their construction, maintenance and administration, have not kept pace with other facilities for transportation in this progressive age, therefore, be it

"Resolved, by the Trans-Mississippi Congress at its nineteenth annual session, that the enormous cost involved in the transportation of farm products and other materials over imperfect roadways, warrants the investment of large sums of the national and State governments to encourage the construction and aid in the maintenance of improved highways to reduce that cost; and

"Resolved, That this congress demands such attention and appropriations by the Congress of the United States, and by the Legislatures of the various trans-Mississippi States, as to induce the construction, and guarantee the maintenance of permanent thoroughfares, and such legislation as to compel scientific and specialized engineering, economic administration, strict accounting, and faithful service in this very important public utility."

FEES DETERMINED UPON.

It was decided that each affiliating good roads organization pay to the State association a fee of $5 for each 100 members or less, and $2 for each additional hundred members or less. Life memberships in the State association were fixed at $10; honorary memberships at $1.

The matter of representation at the next Legislature was considered, and it was determined that there should be one delegate for each affiliated good roads organization, and one delegate additional for each 100 membership in each over the first hundred. Each Board of Supervisors is entitled to one delegate, and County Highway Commissioners will have three. Each life member was awarded a vote.

After discussing at considerable length the advantage of changing the present inadequate State highways laws, it was agreed to leave the drafting of the proposed new laws to Messrs. Daggett, Ellery and Eddy.

It is proposed to have created a State highway commission of not less than three members, which will control State highways and have advisory supervision over all others. The endeavor will also be made to work out a uniform plan of highway engineering.

It will be through the proposed commission that State aid will be obtained, when needed.

ENFORCEMENT OF LAWS.

The commission will also, it is planned, bring about strict enforcement of all highway laws, especially a convenient form of highway accounting.

"All the vouchers are paid," said Secretary Eddy, "but nobody can tell the details of cost without long personal labor in the records. This is not as it should be. The highway system of accounting should be such that a glance will show citizens the relatives cost of each detail of the work."

Mr. Eddy, speaking of the good roads movement at Stockton, said that on fourteen county roads entering that city the traffic at a busy season was 185.75 vehicles per hour. At this rate, if each vehicle paid a 2-cent postage stamp as a tax for forty years, the life of the bonds, there would be created a fund that would not only retire the bonds, but would leave $1,000,000 in the county treasury.

"If the tax were made the price of a glass of beer, or 5 cents, the surplus, after retiring the bonds, would be $1,750,000."

"ALL WOOLEN"

Is Our Slogan

In selecting our Fall and Winter lines of men's clothing, we have been careful to avoid every fabric that contained a thread of cotton. A suit made from an absolutely "all woolen" fabric will look better, wear better, and hold its shape better than any cotton mixed fabric, no matter how beautiful the pattern may be.

Though the clothes we sell are produced by Eastern tailors, we select our own fabrics, our own linings, and dictate how the garments shall be made.

Fall Suits $15, $20, $25 Why Pay More?

Remember, "All woolen," no matter how low the price you pay. If you buy one of our $15 or $17.50 or $20 suits, you get absolutely "all woolen" and hand tailoring.

BACK FROM BOARDWALK.

Atlantic City Has Lost Mrs. Frank Wiggins.

Leading Woman Manager of Exhibits at Home.

Will Work at Alaska-Yukon Exposition.

Mrs. Frank Wiggins, who has been away from Los Angeles since last April, is again at her home at Ocean Park. She has just returned from Atlantic City, N. J., where she had charge of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce exhibit, and with five assistants, kept up enthusiasm for the city she so ably represented.

Mrs. Wiggins was responsible for an exhibit that was a miniature reproduction of the large permanent one, here. It was located on the famous "Board walk," at Atlantic City, and covers 1800 square feet. The exhibit was, of course, small, but was large enough to attract world-wide attention from the cosmopolitan population of Atlantic City.

During the past six months, Mrs. Wiggins distributed books, pamphlets and other advertising material to 600,000 callers. She was very busy from morning to night, telling of the glories of this city;—and much of the tourist business this winter may undoubtedly be traced to her activity.

She also took special pains to entertain all the higher officials of the various national conventions that met at Atlantic City. There were from one to six important gatherings of this kind each week.

HER PUBLICITY WORK.

Mrs. Wiggins, who may justly be reputed as the nation's leading woman superintendent of civic exhibitions, has been engaged in this difficult sort of publicity work for a number of years. She gained valuable experience at Chicago, Buffalo, St. Louis, Jamestown, and at other large expositions, east and west. At Jamestown, she entertained such national leaders as J. Pierpont Morgan, President Roosevelt, and others.

She was one of the lady managers for California at the World's Fair; was assistant hostess from California at the St. Louis Exposition, and was one of the State hostesses at Portland.

In all these responsible positions, Mrs. Wiggins's genial humor, her kindly ways, her genuine enthusiasm for California, and especially for Los Angeles, added to her tact as a hostess, have won for her an enviable position among women civic leaders of the United States.

She will remain in Los Angeles this winter and spring; but will again take up her civic work, with her husband, at the Alaska-Yukon Exposition, Seattle, which opens next June.

HER HELPFULNESS.

Mrs. Wiggins has at all times been a right-hand co-worker with her energetic husband, secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. It is not too much to say that her wise counsels assisted him materially in securing the unique position which has come to him in recognition as the foremost civic publicity manager in America.

Mrs. Wiggins has a spontaneous way of entertaining. Always thoughtful of others' feelings, she is ever ready to do a good turn to one in need of a disinterested friend. Her helpfulness has been felt by many young men and women in search of employment.

Mrs. Wiggins is a member of the Friday Morning Club and is also prominent in society. Some years ago she was an important factor in the consolidation of Woman's Clubs of America; and in other social and organized circles her influence has long been felt.

The important fact, in her public life, is that at all times she has reached that high standard which has been a boon to American womanhood. She has honored the offices that have fallen to her choice. Mrs. Wiggins possesses a keen intellect and has an unusual faculty for detail. She can take hold of a large exhibit, arrange it to its best advantage, look after all the details, meet unexpected difficulties—and then entertain visitors of commanding importance. By her tact, hospitality and sociability, Mrs. Frank Wiggins has won golden opinions for Los Angeles.

ANOTHER OPTIMIST HERE.

Wealthy New Yorker Predicts Best Tourist Year in History of Los Angeles.

"Within the next six weeks it will be almost impossible to secure accommodations at any of the big downtown hotels," said F. J. Mitchell, a hotel and cafe operator of New York and St. Paul, who arrived yesterday at the Angelus.

"Two days after the election, 2500 people will leave New York for Los Angeles. Some are owners of strings of theaters, but the majority will be the regular winter tourists who have been coming to the Coast earlier than usual.

"I hear that London hotels are already crowded, and this means that Americans are not going abroad. Hotel men here know that when the foreign travel in Los Angeles. Every one will get a share of it in the East, and business is looking brighter, and manufacturing and professional men want a change. I will take it by coming to Angeles. I fully believe that Los Angeles will have one of the best tourist seasons in its history."

Mr. Mitchell, who is accompanied by his wife, comes to purchase a home in this city.

A year ago, when he was here, he was introduced to Mrs. M. F. Tozer, widow of a lumber king of Minnesota. They fell in love with each other, and were married in the summer.

BLIND INDIAN WAS LOST.

Alejandro, a blind Indian from the Pala reservation in San Diego county, came into the Federal court, yesterday, to appear as a witness in some land case before the grand jury. When he left the Tajo building he lost his way and wandered helplessly around until found by Ralph Dominguez, court crier. He took the Indian to a suitable lodging and told him that he would receive every attention during his return to the reservation. Dominguez was very grateful and told Dominguez in Spanish that he knew that the "White Father in Washington would look after him and that was why he ventured from his tepee to the big city.

GAME BY TRAIN.

Two Chinese, Ah Bow and Ah Foy, claiming to be illegally in this country, were arraigned in the Federal court yesterday and in default of bail were locked up in the County Jail. They were arrested on board a train in this city, by immigration officers.

Woman "Booster" of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Frank Wiggins, wife of the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who has just returned from Atlantic City, N. J., where she had charge of the local exhibit on the board walk.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Senator Frank P. Flint spoke before members of the Ebell Club yesterday afternoon on "Our Natural Resources" and was given a rising vote of thanks.

In the course of his address, he said he is opposed to allowing the natural resources of the country to be used in a manner that would destroy them, or to pass into the hands of private corporations. The great water power of the rivers is being acquired by big companies here in California and eventually these may consolidate and control the power and lighting of the cities asking exorbitant prices.

The Owens River project, the Senator said, is one of the greatest instances of the conservation of natural resources in the country. He urged better regulations for conserving coal, oil and the metals. In concluding he paid a glowing tribute to the Deep Waterways Commission, and the Trans-Mississippi and Irrigation congress's work, and the Reclamation Service's operations.

Senator Flint is an honorary member of Ebell Club, and an informal reception was tendered him after the lecture.

November Programme.

The November programme for Ebell Club will include a reading of his play, "Chivalry," by Alfred Allen, which is scheduled for November 2 at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

On the afternoon of November 9 there will be a lecture by Charles Keeler on "Man, the Creative Artist, In His Relation to Nature."

On the afternoon of November 16 there is to be a recital, by the well-known tenor, Charles F. Bulotti of San Francisco.

"The Bible of Literature" will be the subject of an address by Mrs. James B. Hume, president of the California Federation of Women's Clubs.

On the last Monday of November there will be a lecture by Homer Lea on "The Vermillion Pencil:" This will be the first time he will speak in public on his book. He is an authority on the inner life of China, having served as a general of the imperial army.

Opposes Change.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Congress of Mothers yesterday afternoon it went on record as opposing any change in the State Constitution with regard to educational matters. The board consists of officers of the State board of the congress and the chairwomen of standing committees.

"Current Events."

There will be an important meeting of the California Business Women's Association this evening at 8 o'clock at No. 209 West Third street. Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, president of the Los Angeles Federation of Women's Clubs, will speak on "Current Events."

"Dutch Market."

The ladies of Immanuel Church will hold their annual bazaar the first Friday and Saturday of December. It will be called a "Dutch Market," and will take place at Ebell Clubhouse.

WELL REPRESENTED.

Southern California Masons Hold High Office in Grand Lodge. Funds for Home.

United States Marshal Leo Youngworth returned yesterday, from San Francisco, where he went to deliver up a prisoner to the government authorities. Incidentally he was made Grand Marshal by the Grand Lodge of Masons then in session. He expressed his pleasure at the election of Oscar Lawler as Grand Master.

"This city is well represented in the Grand Lodge," he remarked. "We have the Grand Master and Dana R. Weller was made Junior Grand Warden. M. H. Flint and W. P. Jeffries were placed on important committees. This speaks well for the strength of the Masons in Southern California. I was glad to learn that an appropriation of $1500 was made for the current expenses of our Masonic Home at San Gabriel. As it fills up the running expenses will probably be covered by the board paid by the Masons who live there, but at present, the expenses are in excess of the receipts."

Marshal Youngworth said that even the most conservative politicians estimated Taft's victory in this State by over 25,000 votes.

LONG AND SHORT OF IT.

For instance the analysis of Amalgamated Copper shows that, according to Dorr's accounts, his customers were long 845 shares of that stock. But Dorr's account with New York showed that he was 185 shares short, a difference of 1030 shares. In Union Pacific Dorr's customers were shown 3880 shares long, but Dorr's account with New York showed him long with only 3280 shares or 2600 less than he should have had. The differences meant hundreds of thousands of dollars in Dorr's favor, with his eastern correspondents.

Dorr claims that all settlements should be based on the prices prevailing July 29, the day he was suspended in New York. The receiver, Carroll Allen, bases them on the prices prevailing August 12. Dorr has figured the difference between the dates and finds that, because of the sharp rise in stocks after July 29, his liabilities calculated on the earlier date will shrink $42,000 on the stock and $12,000 on the grain liabilities. The difference in dates is a legal question that may delay the settlement. Dorr also claims some of his assets have not been valued high enough.

Dorr is to make an offer to settle with his creditors, but may not submit it at today's meeting. He also talks of suing those who instituted criminal prosecutions against him for malicious prosecution. He will be present at the hearing today, as under the law the creditors have a right to interrogate him.

REJOICES OVER ITS SUCCESS.

FEDERATION CLUB HAS FUNDS FOR NEW QUARTERS.

Celebrates With Luncheon, at Which Many Cheerful Addresses Are Made—Twelve Thousand Dollars Raised in Ten Days—Campaign for New Members.

The Federation Club held a "let us rejoice" luncheon at the Hotel Westminster, yesterday, to celebrate its success in raising $12,000 for the furnishing of its new quarters on the top floor of the Wright and Callender building.

The money was secured in ten days through the efforts of L. B. Mumma, a financial secretary of the Y.M.C.A., who came here for the purpose.

About two weeks ago, seventy members of the club attended a "let us get busy" luncheon, at which Mumma was introduced. He was assisted in his campaign for contributions by a committee composed of O. T. Johnson, E. P. Clark, Thomas A. Gable, John A. Merrit, E. P. Ryland, Judge Albert M. Stevens and A. J. Wallace.

A clever chart aided in the money-getting. When shown to those who attended yesterday's luncheon, it at first appeared as though only ten men had contributed $500 each, the word "contributors" appearing over their names. But another leaf was turned, at the top of which was the word "roll" and a request for $250 subscriptions. This went on until the entire sentence appeared: "Contributors Roll Federation Club Fund for Quarters." The subscriptions varied from $500 to $25 and were made by more than 100 persons.

The luncheon was preceded by a prayer by Rev. Samuel T. Montgomery and later, an address was made by Rev. William Horace Day, followed by brief talks by O. T. Johnson, T. A. Gable, Nathan Newby, A. Pomeroy, T. E. Gibbon, H. W. Brundage, Boas Duncan, E. P. Ryland and A. J. Wallace.

A campaign for new members is to be instituted at once.

"My daughter began her college course this Fall," said one of our Depositors to an Officer of this Bank recently.

This depositor was personally known to us as a man in moderate circumstances.

He has a large family to support and is also paying for his home in monthly installments.

"You must have had a windfall," we said to him.

Such was not the case, however. This is the story he told us.

"When my girl was a youngster; her mother and I planned to educate her.

"My wages were small and we had little or nothing. But we determined to put away five dollars every month, good times or bad, towards the daughter's college fund.

"It's been hard sometimes, but we have done it, regardless of our own needs.

"The money has been earning four per cent, here, yearly. Interest has compounded, and the sum has grown rapidly.

"Now that she's ready for it, the money is ready for her—and enough, I believe, to see her through."

Many parents are depositing money in their children's names in this Bank.

It's the best way for people in moderate circumstances to build up an education fund for their children.

Good Pianos at Small Prices

¶ So great has been the advance in methods of manufacture, so remarkable the improvements in mechanical devices for the production of piano parts, so increased and enlarged the output in good medium-priced pianos, that it is no longer necessary for the buyer of moderate means to consider the expenditure of $400 or $500 as necessary to the purchase of a good piano.

¶ Good, honestly built, beautifully finished and elegantly toned pianos of the most modern designs are being shown and sold daily at the various stores of our house at prices which are from $75 to $100 less than pianos of the same character and grade have ever been offered in Los Angeles or on the coast. Behind every low-priced piano is our unqualified guarantee as to its quality, durability and worth, while that guarantee is backed by every resource of a house that has for more than thirty years been the standard for honest dealing and dependable pianos.

¶ Our easy payment plan of piano selling has many advantages which are of decided interest to intending purchasers. Investigate it today.

PASADENA.

FOUR BURIED AMID DEBRIS.

Part of Pacific Electric Car Barns Collapses.

Employees Fall Thirty Feet Into the Ruins.

Office of The Times, No. 36 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, Oct. 20.—The Fair Oaks entrance to the Pacific Electric Railway Company's car barns in this city is a complete wreck this morning, and four men are nursing bruises and cuts which they received from being buried in the débris. The rear end of a two-car train jumped the track and knocked out the middle support of the barns, causing the front thirty feet of the building to cave in. Men who were in the offices on the second story dropped nearly thirty feet to the ground amid tons of brick and timbers, but escaped with cuts and bruises.

LONG EXPECTED.

An accident of this kind has been long expected by employés of the company. Shortly after 6 o'clock last night, Motorman Large was entering the barn with a two-car train, when the rear truck of the last section took another track and the car swung in parallel with the entrance, smashing through the steel girder which supported the center of the building. Employés on the ground floor heard the crash and all dashed for the opposite side of the street. All those on that floor escaped, with the exception of Edward Simpson, a negro, who lives at No. 1429 Lincoln avenue. He was severely cut about the head, and his body was bruised all over by the bricks which fell on him. At Pasadena Hospital late last night he was said to be resting easily, with every chance of recovery.

STAIRS COLLAPSE UNDER HIM.

R. F. Turner, assistant manager of the northern division, was on the top steps to the offices over the Fair Oaks entrance. He heard the crash and rushed to safety below, landing uninjured, although the stairs collapsed under his feet. He was soon aiding in the resumption of traffic, which was restored in half an hour. Carl Roberts, train dispatcher, was in his office on the second floor and did not have time to get out. He came down with the building, but was only bruised. For a time he was missing and had just been given up as severely hurt or dead, when he came walking over the roof of the building, pipe in mouth, calmly smoking. He was unable to tell last night how he worked his way, uninjured, out of the maze of timbers and live trolley wires. He also went at once to work and dispatched his cars until early this morning.

FALLS FORTY FEET.

Conductor Brandenburg was the only other man in the rooms upstairs. Six o'clock is a busy time and, fortunately, most of the men were on the road, instead of in the waiting room upstairs. Brandenburg had a hard fall of nearly forty feet and was much shaken up. He recovered sufficiently to work his way out and was taken to his home. He is not seriously injured.

At the time of the accident, a heavy set man and a slightly built woman, whose names are not known, were in the front car. The woman screamed and threw her arms around the fat man's neck and he dragged her through the door after the crash. Both were mortified, but were thankful to get out alive. Motorman Large was not injured as the front end of the car was well in the barn and the walls and roof fell toward the street.

FIRE BREAKS OUT.

Fire broke out in the débris from the heating stove which was in the upstairs office. Within two minutes after the collapse the fire department was notified and Chief Clifford and the men with the chemical engine hurried to the scene of disaster. The flames were put out before they could gain a foothold and the wires breaking the circuit as they fell did not allow any chance of fire through electricity.

Sergt. George Longley of the police department was notified and detailed men who soon had the wreckage roped off so that there was no trouble from the large crowd which gathered.

On the arrival of Acting Manager Little of Los Angeles, the clearing of the wreckage was begun.

Superintendent Rowray of the north division, said last night that the damage would be comparatively small as the barn was not an expensive structure. Contractors estimated the damage at between $4000 and $5000.

Officials of the company last night refused to give out the reason for the accident but it is believed that the switchman let the chain loose before the last trucks had passed over the dividing rail.

Chief of Police Favour and Engineer Pillsbury had a row late last night over the clearing of the débris. The Chief wished the refuse taken away at once in order that it might be definitely settled that nobody was among the ruins. The Pacific Electric Railway officials, being convinced that every one had escaped, desired to leave the work till daylight.

"You must have the stuff cleaned up right away," said the Chief.

"Oh, to h— with you," was the response of Pillsbury.

Favour threatened to have city workmen do the job so finally the company's officials gave in and by this morning the débris was pretty well cleaned up.

CHARITY WOULD SUFFER.

Dr. E. L. Conger, president of the Pasadena Humane Society, is in receipt of a letter from Lewis M. Seaver, secretary of the National Humane Alliance, which carries a political significance unusually pertinent at this time. The letter is in reply to a petition for a fountain for the people of San José. Several of these, costing $1000 or more apiece, are given away each year by the organization. The letter says:

"We will, if desired by the San José people, book their application for further consideration and in that case they had better send us a little drawing of the proposed location. We shall not, however, be able to give any further applications consideration until after the installation of the new national administration, and we see how it effects the price of marketable securities."

Although Dr. Conger is ill, he considers the letter so important as to demand immediate attention. He points out that this is only one of the many instances visible today in which the financial interests of the country depend upon the coming election. "A Republican administration seems the only sure course for the further welfare of the country," said Dr. Conger, "and not only does the prosperity of the country depend upon this termination of the present campaign, but, as shown in the letter, the charities of the country are also at stake."

MONEY COMING IN.

City Treasurer Munson is well pleased with the way in which the property owners are coming in with the city taxes. Yesterday over $2338.91 was received, which swells the total for this year to $12,647.29, just $445.76 short of what was collected up to this time last year.

SAD ENDING TO VACATION.

Miss Flora Banbury, daughter of Thomas Banbury, is reported to have been drowned in Lake Washington, while visiting her brother, George, in Seattle. She was out rowing and lost an oar, and while leaning over to secure it the boat upset. As soon as the remains are recovered they will be brought here for burial.

Miss Banbury was the only daughter of one of the oldest families in the city.

WILL HOLD MEETING.

Directors of the Tournament of Roses Association will hold a special meeting this morning to consider plans for the improvement of Tournament Park. Frank V. Rider, head of the Finance Committee, will report on the amount of money received for the purpose of improving the grounds.

SHOWS GRIT.

With an arm and a rib broken, Glen Dilce, a driver for the Raab Dairy Company, hung to the reins of a runaway team yesterday until the horses were stopped. Then he fainted and was carried to the emergency hospital, where his injuries were treated.

DIRECTOIRE HAT, SHEATH GOWN.

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 19.—Miss Ysabel Wilhelmine Katherine Wolfskill, aged 29 years, of Los Angeles and Henry G. Weyse, aged 45 years, of Santa Monica, were married at the Old Mission, Santa Barbara, by a Mission father at 11 o'clock this morning. The bride wore a pale pink crêpe de chine sheath gown and a directoire hat. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Rose Sabichi of Los Angeles, who was gowned in pale green. Herbert Wolfskill, brother of the bride, was best man. After the wedding, the party went to the Potter Hotel for several days' stay.

News of the marriage of the wealthy Los Angeles-Santa Monica attorney to Miss Wolfskill, came as a surprise to his many friends, as well as to those of the bride, who is a member of the well-known Los Angeles pioneer family of that name. Mr. Weyse, who has been a widower for a number of years, maintains a home in the fashionable Ocean avenue section of the city by the sea, and slipped away to Santa Barbara Sunday, where the prospective bride had gone to await his arrival. The culmination of the romance was planned as a surprise. The parties to the contract have known each other for several years, but even their nearest friends had never entertained any suspicions that the relations existing between the couple had progressed beyond those of simple friendship.

ENTHUSIASTIC FOR RUSH.

MONROVIA, Oct. 19.—One thousand loyal Democrats turned out tonight, with plenty of noise, to welcome Judson Rush, the Democratic candidate for Congress, and now a noted lawyer in Los Angeles. Rush is a former resident of this town, and was in the real estate business here twenty years ago. Several of the old boys of his time were out to meet him, and the operahouse was packed to the doors.

He devoted the larger part of his speech to San Pedro harbor matters; the dredging of the inner harbor, fortifications, and the establishment of a military reservation. Mr. Rush said that the fortifications are absolutely necessary, although he denied that he was making a Hobson war talk. The speaker also touched on protection for the citrus fruit industry and graft among office holders.

The enthusiasm was pronounced, and many of those present, regardless of their political beliefs, said that they would vote for Jud Rush, anyhow, because they know him, and know that he is able, aggressive and alert, and well informed on the needs of Southern California.

KNOTTED.

IS TIED TO BEDPOST AND LEFT TO STARVE.

REDONDO, Oct. 19.—George W. Vanness, who was recently held up and robbed on his way between this city and his home, two and one-half miles southwest, was again held up, this time at his home, shortly after 12 o'clock today, by two highwaymen. After being robbed of all the cash he had with him, he was tied securely to a bedpost and left to get loose, or to starve.

Vanness lives alone on his farm, which is considerably out of the way. If he had not been able to get loose he might have lain there until he died. Fortunately, however, he was able to turn over and so bring his hands to the knot of the rope with which he was tied. It was an hour before he got loose, there being about fifty knots.

When he did free himself he came at once to Redondo and reported the affair to the officers. The highwaymen got only two English sovereigns.

O. L. Chadwick, proprietor of the poolroom at the old pavilion, was arrested on the complaint of E. W. Thaxter of Hermosa Beach for permitting the latter's minor son to play pool in his place of business. Chadwick asked for a jury trial, and the jury, believing that the boy was large enough to take care of himself, found a verdict of not guilty.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Hinman and Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Venable left this evening for San Francisco to attend the session of the Grand Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star. Mrs. Hinman is the worthy Matron of the local chapter.

POMONA HELPS BREAK STRIKE.

ICE COMPANY SENDS SUMMER DRIVERS TO CITY.

Superintendent Also Goes to Los Angeles to Become Head of Delivery System—Prominent Republicans Will Speak at Rally This Evening—Business Lot Sold.

POMONA, Oct. 19.—Frank W. Johnson, who has been superintendent of the Pomona Valley Ice Company since its organization, has resigned his position here and gone to Los Angeles to take a responsible position as head of the delivery system of the Los Angeles Ice and Cold Storage Company. Mr. Johnson did not expect to leave here until tomorrow, but owing to the "walkout" of drivers of the delivery wagons of the Ice and Cold Storage Company in the city, he went to Los Angeles, the last of the week and commenced work at once.

In order to help the Ice and Cold Storage Company out, during the strike of its drivers, the Pomona Valley Ice Company sent half a dozen of its summer drivers to the city with Mr. Johnson. The latter's position as Superintendent at the Pomona Valley plant will be taken by Fred R. Lewis, who has been doing the office work of the company for a year and a half, since he severed his connection with the Pomona Implement Company, of which he was vice-president. During the fall and winter the Pomona Valley Ice Company will only manufacture enough to supply its "all-the-year" customers, but will commence running at its full capacity as soon as the precooling season begins at the Pomona Fruit Growers' Exchange packing house, east of the ice factory. The company is now receiving ice for cold storage about 100 tons of apples from the Chino country and is also storing a large quantity of table grapes for the holiday trade.

LANDSCAPE ASSET.

That the people of this city are at last beginning to appreciate what a wonderful scenic landscape asset, Ganesha Park is becoming to Pomona, is evidenced by the large crowds that frequent the locality, particularly on Sundays. Yesterday there were fully 500 people in the park and on the summit of the highest hill viewing the beauties of the snow-capped mountains and green low-lying valleys after the rain.

REPUBLICAN RALLY.

Messrs. Dole, Fleming, Lee, Armour, Joos, Tinsley, Phillips and Wheelan, who have been planning for the Republican rally to be held at the Fraternal Aid Theater tomorrow evening, have arrangements completed for a rousing meeting and ratification. President George A. Gates of Pomona College will act as chairman and the principal speaker will be Senator Flint of Los Angeles and John L. McNabb of Ukiah. The Seventh Regiment Band will play upon Second street before the meeting and will give a musical programme in the theater.

GOES TO TEXAS.

Rev. W. A. Youngman, who has been pastor of the local Methodist Church South, has upon his own request, been transferred to the Western Texas conference and is busy packing his goods preparatory to his departure for Texas. The new minister appointed to come to the Pomona church at the recent conference at Redlands is Rev. J. T. Milliken of Marion, Ill.

ATTEND RECEPTION.

Mrs. C. A. Lorbeer and Mrs. S. C. W. Bowen went to Los Angeles this morning to attend a reception at the home of Mrs. S. S. Cling of Waterloo street, in honor of the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Lorbeer of this city. Mmes. Lorbeer, Bowen and Cling were classmates at Lowville Seminary, New York, in 1853-54.

SELLS BUSINESS LOT.

R. N. Loucks has sold his vacant lot, 45x100 feet, located north of the Consolidated Water Company's office on Main street, between Second and Third streets, to Mrs. Francisco de Viejar, who purchases the property as an investment.

P. R. Garthside, Walter A. Lewis and W. A. Vandegrift have returned from San Francisco where they represented Pomona Lodge F. and A. M., at the sessions of the Grand Lodge. Mr. Lewis also journeyed as far north as Seattle.

Preston J. Tarr and W. H. Rickenrich are away on a hunting and pleasure trip in the Elsinore country.

LARGE FORCE AT WORK.

Loud and Gerling, who have been operating several dried fruit yards in different localities this season, have a large force at work in their local packing-house. They are shipping dried apricots, prunes, peaches and raisins and will soon begin to handle walnuts.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Sacre, who were married in Los Angeles on Friday, have returned here after a short honeymoon trip and are at home on East Fourth street. Mrs. Sacre was formerly Miss Lulu Crabb.

HEAR PEPPER.

John L. Pepper, of Memphis, Tenn., chairman of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, addressed a large audience at the First Presbyterian Church this evening. Mr. Pepper is a speaker of international reputation and one of the most prominent laymen in the Methodist Church, South. He attended the conference of his denomination just held at Redlands.

"PSYCHOTHERAPY."

Rev. George Edmond Soper began a series of addresses upon "The New Testament and the Healing Arts," at the vesper service at Pilgrim Congregational Church yesterday afternoon. The first discourse considered "Psychotherapy and the Church," and included a brief history of the new "Emmanuel" movement, to which so much attention is now being given.

Miss Grace Johnston has been elected president of the Philathea class of Trinity Methodist Church to succeed Mrs. J. Ransome Casey, who has resigned.

BARACA OFFICERS.

The Junior Baraca class of the First Methodist Church has elected Elmer Sawyer, president; Nelson King, vice-president; George Ullom, secretary; Allister Cumming, treasurer. The class has a membership of twenty and E. E. King is the teacher.

Robert H. Orr is the newly-elected captain of Company C., of the Boy's Brigade of the Christian Church and C. O. Baushman is first lieutenant.

STILL IN ASCENDANT.

Starr, of Water Motor Fame, Still Twinkles in Redondo Sky—New System to Be Installed.

REDONDO, Oct. 19.—A local stockholder of the Starr Wave Power and Electric Company is in receipt of information from San Francisco to the effect that not only has J. H. Bacon, formerly secretary-treasurer, been deposed from autocratic control of the company's affairs and a thorough reorganization had, but the necessary funds have been secured to meet the expense of installing an entirely new system of power transmission to take the place of the defective gearing. The time necessary to effect the change will be several months, and the local plant will perhaps not be in working order until next spring.

Notwithstanding the fact that the relations between Starr, the inventor, and Bacon, the business manager of the parent company, have been somewhat strained, and there was a disposition on the part of each to charge the other with responsibility for existing defects in the local plant, it is said the meeting in San Francisco was harmonious. Both Bacon and Starr voluntarily canceled a large amount of claims against the company for salary and commissions, and when this was done it was found that the company's liabilities did not exceed $300, and that there was plenty of money in the treasury to pay the same.

ANNUAL CLEAN-UP.

Hardly a Street Is Overlooked by Sierra Madre's Rake, Shovel and Pick Brigade.

SIERRA MADRE, Oct. 19.—Although the weather proved to be stormy day before yesterday, the squad of citizens who turned out to clean up the town, with hoes, rakes, shovels and picks, did not falter and before night hardly a street had been overlooked. The wagons engaged to haul away the weeds were kept busy all day. When luncheon time arrived a hungry horde besieged the tables set by the Woman's Club. Many a housewife was saved her noontime meal by the bountiful spread prepared by this organization. The programme arranged for was carried out to the letter, and the town has once more had its annual cleaning day. The Board of Trade is being congratulated on its successful management of men with hoes.

It is reported that the El Reposa Hotel is to be converted into a large sanatorium and that a company is being capitalized for $75,000. This is an ideal spot for such an undertaking, situated on the outskirts of the town, far from any built-up section, and with vast grounds surrounding the premises. The El Reposa is an old landmark and many notables have stopped there. Judge Smith passed his last days there.

WON'T SAY WHO SHOT HIM.

Youth Injured at Ivy Park Refuses to Divulge the Name of His Assailant.

PALMS, Oct. 19.—A Mexican boy of about 17 years of age, who refuses to give his name, was treated by Dr. W. S. Mortensen this morning for a pistol wound in his right shoulder.

The wound was inflicted about 9:30 o'clock last night in, as far as can be learned, one of the numerous "blind pigs" said to flourish in the vicinity of Ivy Park, on the Redondo branch of the Los Angeles-Pacific Railway, but the boy will not divulge the name either of the place or of his assailant.

He is a laborer on the Los Angeles-Pacific Railway, and lives at the cholo camp at Ivy Park.

Dr. Mortensen extracted the bullet this morning and considers the injury insignificant.

SPENDS NIGHT ON BEACH.

Woman Tourist, Lost on Catalina Island, Is Rescued in Exhausted Condition.

AVALON, Oct. 19.—[Direct Dispatch to The Times via Pacific Wireless.] Mrs. Margaret Olsen, aged 35 years, of Brooklyn, was lost in a cañon five miles from here last evening and was forced to spend the night on Moonstone Beach. This morning she hailed the launch Zeus and was taken aboard in an exhausted condition.

Her experience so overwrought her that she will be confined to her room at Hotel Del Mar for several days.

SOUTH PASADENA.

SOUTH PASADENA, Oct. 19.—A meeting will be held at the home of A. A. Armstrong, No. 1625 Monterey Road, tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. The object is to form an improvement association for the betterment of the city on this side.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Beck, of No. 1023 Brent avenue, have returned from Redlands.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. McKinney, No. 1215 Lyndon street, who have been on an extended tour through the southern States, started for home the latter part of last week.

The boys of the St. James League met Saturday night at the parish house and elected the following officers: Leon Axtman, president; Will Eichoff, vice-president; Franklin Payden, secretary; Carleton Gilbert, treasurer.

SAN PEDRO.

SAN PEDRO, Oct. 19.—G. Wells, employed by the Union Oil Company at Terminal, had a narrow escape from death yesterday afternoon. While making repairs to a large steel tank he slipped and fell a distance of thirty feet, landing on the hard metal bottom. Both ankles were sprained, his body bruised and a deep gash cut in his forehead. While seriously injured it is believed Wells will recover.

BANNING ASKS FOR FRANCHISES.

OUTLINES IMPORTANT PLANS TO SAN PEDRO TRUSTEES.

Desires to Build Railroad Connecting Mormon Island Tract With Espee at Wilmington, and Also With Pacific Electric—Board Will Think It Over.

SAN PEDRO, Oct. 19.—Attorney Frank Cerr, representing William Banning of the Banning Company, made an application tonight for a franchise for a steam railroad, connecting the present Southern Pacific road at Wilmington, with the Mormon Island tract by two double tracks running to the peninsula, which is proposed to be developed by the Banning Company. He also applied for a franchise connecting the Pacific Electric tracks at Wilmington and running down C street south across lands to be reclaimed by the city to the Mormon Island tract. The tract claimed by the city is eighty-five acres; Mormon Island is fifteen acres.

In his message to the Trustees, William Banning states that he wants to improve this 100 acres for terminal purposes, and if the city grants this franchise he will dig a channel from the turning bases in the inner harbor of San Pedro, southerly and easterly of Mormon Island and northerly to Water street in Wilmington, 6000 feet long, 100 feet wide and eighteen feet at low tide; will begin work forty-five days after the granting of the franchise and complete it in one year. He stated that this would enable the city of Wilmington to reclaim fifteen acres at this time and save from $1000 to $2000 on the recent issue of $100,000 worth of bonds recently voted and issued for that purpose. He promised to dedicate the extension of E street from the present ending to south city limits to water front 2500 feet.

The length of the franchise is to be fifty years. The franchise also states that the present channel leading to Wilmington, north of Mormon Island, will not be obstructed until the new channel south of Mormon Island is completed, the land to be bulk-headed and reclaimed.

The Trustees have decided to think the matter over and it is believed some sort of an understanding can be reached.

TO SUBMIT IT TO PEOPLE.

Long Beach City Council Will Put Municipal Water Problem Up to the Voters.

LONG BEACH, Oct. 19.—The City Council advanced another step today in the matter of municipal ownership of water. Consulting Engineer Sonderegger submitted his report on the two local water plants, with an inventory of the physical holdings of each, such as realty, wells, pumping plants, reservoirs and distributing systems, and an estimate of the bond issue required for the purchase of each and also a combined price. His figures are $499,400 for the Long Beach Water Company's plant, $251,000 for the Alamitos plant, or $750,000 for both combined. City Attorney Long ruled that the Council could not consider a proposition to vote bonds for the combined plants as no such offer had been made by the companies. Long was authorized to prepare resolutions reciting that a municipal water plant is necessary for the public welfare and submitting to a vote of the people two propositions; one to acquire the Alamitos plant for $250,000, the other to purchase the Long Beach plant for $497,000, and authorizing a bond issue. These will be presented to the Council for action next Monday.

MAY CANCEL LICENSES.

Referring to the conviction last week of two local druggists for violation of the liquor ordinance, Councilman Hoag called attention to section 12 which makes it mandatory to revoke the druggist's permit and collect the bond. Accordingly the City Clerk was instructed to notify J. L. Hover and Wolff & Adams to appear before the Council next Monday and show cause why the licenses shall not be canceled and their bonds forfeited. This is the first time this provision of the liquor ordinance has ever been sought to be enforced.

Mrs. Maude Hubbell Burtt of North Raymond avenue, Pasadena, who has spent seven months with her mother in this city, was taken with a chill last night and died an hour later. Heart trouble is given as the cause of death. Her mother became hysterical and for several hours her life was despaired of. The deceased was a native of Ohio and was 35 years of age. The body will be taken to Pasadena for burial.

The suction dredger of the Los Angeles Dock and Terminal Company tonight completed the work of dredging the new Salt Lake cut-off which connects the Long Beach Harbor with Cerritos Slough and shortens the route to San Pedro and Wilmington. The new channel is 100 feet wide and eight feet at low tide. The dredger will now work towards the ocean entrance of the harbor.

David B. Stigner, a prominent realty operator, dropped dead of heart failure at his home on East Second street this afternoon. Deceased was a native of Indiana and 57 years of age. He had lived here six years. He leaves a widow.

CIVIL STRIFE.

SCRAPPING ITS STRONG POINT.

BELMONT HEIGHTS WARS OVER SITE FOR OFFICES.

Virtual Slap Administered to Jotham Bixby—Offer of Lots in Northern Section Rejected and "Big Three" Vote for Municipal Home in Southern End.

BELMONT HEIGHTS, Oct. 19.—Although only a week old, this city of the sixth class is developing a fondness for "scraping" that dispels any hope of the brethren of the north and south sections dwelling together in peace.

Tonight the Trustees made history by administering a virtual slap to Jotham Bixby, head of the Alamitos Land Company, which has done so much in developing this part of the country and which has spent $150,000 in improvements.

As a result Trustees Bassett and Vandeventer, from the south side, characterizing this as "work," moved to adjourn, and President Green declared the motion lost, put on their hats and left.

The three Trustees remaining were also "hot under the collar" and moved to punish their departed colleagues, but were advised by the City Attorney that, as no rules had been adopted covering this breach of board decorum they could do nothing. Little business was transacted after this episode.

After adjournment the rebels met in the south end and came back in a red-hot discussion ensued in which President Green was studiously ignored by his neighbors.

George M. Spicer had been appointed City Attorney at $50 monthly salary, but declined to serve because the vote was not unanimous and the board tonight appointed S. G. Barnes at a salary of $30.

An ordinance fixing the salaries of the Clerk and Marshal at $30 monthly each was adopted, whereupon Chief Higby presented his resignation on the plea that he was not a millionaire and would not take the job at such a figure. Then the Trustees reconsidered the matter and held it over for a month.

charged that Trustee Green, in order for the votes of Brown and Ray, who elected him president of the board, went squarely back on his own record and constituents, and voted to establish the city offices in a 12x20 real estate office at Zaferia.

While the vote on this question was pending, Frank E. Shaw, a realty operator, and agent for the Alamitos Land Company, secured the floor and stated that he had been authorized to offer the Trustees two large lots, fronting well streets, and overlooking the ocean, as a site for a city hall—the gift of Jotham Bixby—and four other lots donated by the Alamitos Land Company, to be sold for the benefit of a building fund. This offer was greeted with cheers by the lobby, but Ray, with Brown, owns the real estate office at Zaferia, remarked that property were cheap, and that he preferred to see the deeds on the table before he voted.

Shaw resented this attack on the word of Mr. Bixby, and challenged Green to defer action on the location until Tuesday night, when, he said, he would have the deeds ready. Ray replied and he, Green and Brown voted for the Zaferia location.

Bassett and Vandeventer, from the south side, characterizing this as "rot work," moved to adjourn, and President Green declared the motion lost, put on their hats and left.

The three Trustees remaining were also "hot under the collar" and moved to punish their departed colleagues, but were advised by the City Attorney that, as no rules had been adopted covering this breach of board decorum they could do nothing. Little business was transacted after this episode.

Bassett and Vandeventer, from the south side, characterizing this as "rot work," moved to adjourn, and when President Green declared the motion lost, put on their hats and left.

The three Trustees remaining were also "hot under the collar" and refused to punish their departed colleagues, but were advised by the City Attorney that, as no rules had been adopted covering this breach of board decorum, they could do nothing. Little business was transacted after this episode.

After adjournment the rebels from the south end came back in and a red-hot discussion ensued in which President Green was studiously ignored by his neighbors.

George M. Spicer had been appointed City Attorney at $50 monthly salary, but declined to serve because the vote was not unanimous and the board tonight appointed S. G. Barker at a salary of $30.

An ordinance fixing the salaries of the Clerk and Marshal at $30 monthly each was adopted, whereupon Clerk Higby presented his resignation on the plea that he was not a millionaire and would not take the job at such a figure. Then the Trustees reconsidered the matter and held it over for one month.

LUMBER TRADE GETS NEW LIFE.

INDUSTRY AT SAN JACINTO MEANS MUCH TO TOWN.

Boxes of Barns Being Erected by Farmers to Meet Demand for Increased Storage Room Show That Productiveness of Land Is Larger Than Ever.

SAN JACINTO, Oct. 19.—The first load of lumber from the San Jacinto Lumber and Box Company was hauled from last week from the mills in the mountains. This marks the revival of a business that formerly meant a great deal to this town and section. For the past ten years no native lumber has been sawed in the San Jacinto Mountains, but with the formation of the just-named company, together with the starting of the mill owned by Postmaster Hanson, the lumbering industry has taken on a new life and promises to surpass in importance the business in the line of former years.

CARLOAD OF CASABAS.

Col. J. T. Ritchey has just shipped the first carload of casabas from San Jacinto. The melons were grown on one-half acre of land on the Schoba Little Springs property. The car contained about 1900 melons, which should wholesale in the city at 10 cents apiece, making $200 for the car. Mr. Ritchey reports that this carload represents only about one-half of the output from the half-acre field. This being so, the total income from the patch should be $400, or an average of $800 per acre. Casaba growing in San Jacinto would prove a fortune-making occupation if a market could be found for an unlimited output.

NEW OFFICE BUILDING.

Work was begun last week for a new office building for the San Jacinto Register. The structure will be erected by A. G. Munn on a lot on Central avenue adjoining the postoffice block. Work will be rushed as rapidly as possible and the building made ready for occupancy by the first of December.

E. B. Collins of Redlands has purchased a twenty-acre tract on North Central avenue from William Vosberg, consideration $1200. Mr. Collins has settled with his family and is temporarily located in the Oswald Hotel, address on Main street.

BIG BEEF CONTRACT.

C. C. Tripp, a prominent stockman of this place, has closed the deal with the firm of wholesale butchers of Riverside for a consignment of several thousand dollars' worth of beef cattle. The beeves will be delivered at stated intervals during the coming season. The first delivery of some cattle worth was made this week.

Lyman Darling has begun the erection of a house on his property on Second avenue.

A. M. Kumler, who recently purchased the Ruby Schain property for $1400, has bought the brick schoolhouse at Bowers of the San Jacinto School District. The building will be remodeled and fitted up for a dwelling.

CHAPTER DELEGATE.

Mrs. H. P. Sager left Saturday for Los Angeles to join today's special excursion of the Order of Eastern Star to San Francisco. She is a delegate to the Grand Chapter from La Victoria chapter.

Mrs. J. T. Ritchey has returned home from a month's visit at the home of her parents in Columbia, Tenn.

Prof. B. R. Shrader of Los Angeles spent last week in San Jacinto, the guest of his brother, W. W. Shrader.

NEW BARNS MEAN WEALTH.

R. J. Logsdon is building a large barn on his ranch northeast of town. Austin McClish has finished a barn on his place on Central avenue, and A. M. Kumler is also erecting a barn on his property on Hewitt street. The increased production, as a result of the installation of numerous pumping plants in and about San Jacinto during the past two years, has made it necessary for the ranchers to build scores of barns to accommodate the demand for increased storage room.

DAMAGE BY RAIN.

Rain in San Jacinto during the last week amounted to one inch. This precipitation wrought some damage to crops in the field and stockmen fear there will be considerable with the first early rains ruin the dry feed, while the moisture is not sufficient to start green feed. Cattlemen report that stock on the ranges will lose in weight because of the shortage suffered by the recent rain.

WELL COMPLETED.

The first one of the cluster of three wells to be sunk by the government on the Soboba Indian reservation has been completed and a test run of the pumping plant showed that a supply of forty-five inches of water was obtained. Work on the second well will be begun this week. The government expert from Los Angeles, who visited the reservation, stated that at the time the test was made a supply of that at least 150 inches of water could be obtained from the three wells.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES.

The case of Joseph Wallace of this city against the Gregory Fruit Company was heard in the Superior Court at Riverside Mr. and Mrs. Wallace and Public Administrator Thornburgh were witnesses. Wallace is suing for alleged damages caused by packing inferior fruit under his label.

TO START WORK ON LEVEE.

The trustees of the San Jacinto levee district will begin work at once on the plan to protect lands lying adjacent to the San Jacinto River from overflow. A special tax of $2000 has been levied by the County Board of Supervisors for work in the district during the coming year. One-half of the sum will be obtainable from the first installment of taxes is due, the second half next spring when the second installment is paid.

WELCOME HOME.

CRUISERS EXPECTED NEXT WEEK AT SAN DIEGO.

When Swinburne's Vessels Join the Torpedo Boats Now in Harbor There Will Be Twenty-five War Craft in the Bay—Rains Damage Raisin Crop.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 18.—Notwithstanding contradictory dispatches and reports emanating from other sources the ships of Rear-Admiral Swinburne's fleet will cast anchor off Coronado Beach on the 27th inst. Word to this effect has been received by three of San Diego's largest wholesalers, Charles S. Hardy, the Simon Levi Company and the Julian Produce Company, each of which has a big contract for supplies which have been bought and prepared to be delivered to the boats. If the ships do not come, these firms will have some big bills against the government. The Julian company will supply potatoes and other vegetables to the amount of $13,000. Hardy's meat bill is said to be in excess of that.

The torpedo boats now in the harbor here will make an attempt to secure target-practice grounds near the Coronado Islands tomorrow when two of the boats will sail for that place. These, the Rowan, Farragut, Goldsborough and Davis, will remain here until the fleet arrives from Honolulu. A total of twenty-five war vessels will be here then.

RAISINS DAMAGED.

Considerable apprehension is felt here among vineyardists for the raisin crop. It is believed considerable damage was done the crops by the rain of the past two days. Several large growers were caught unprepared. A big shower fell early Sunday morning, but the clouds passed away, leaving the sky clear. The farmers, thinking the storm over for good, left the raisin trays out and as a result they were soaked early last night by a dashing rain. A vivid electrical display and loud claps of thunder made the storm more noticeable.

Investigation by the Coroner and his jury this morning led to the identity of the bones found in an isolated cañon near Point Loma as the skeleton of Charles Wellington, a former occupant of a house at Second and E streets. The verdict was suicide, as a revolver with two empty chambers was found near the bones. Wellington left his home six months ago. Several clothiers identified his clothing.

Identification of the remains found in Chollas Valley has not been established.

HAVE WAVES CAUGHT HIM?

Ventura Man Who Started to Walk to San Pedro Three Weeks Ago Unheard of Since.

VENTURA, Oct. 19.—William Livesyan, a stone-cutter of this city, aged 78 years and quite deaf, started out three weeks ago to walk to San Pedro by way of the ocean shore. He is quite well-to-do and owns considerable property in this county, near Los Angeles and near San Diego. The route along the ocean is at times very dangerous and the friends of the old man feel uneasy at his long absence. He has no relatives here, and lived alone in a little shack at his marble-yard.

SECOND DIVIDEND.

It is stated that there will be a second dividend by the Collins bank early in November. There has been one dividend of 20 per cent. since it closed in November last.

BRYAN MEANS CHEAP BEANS.

Ernest Case of Fillmore, a prominent bean grower, has 2000 sacks of beans which he is holding for sale until after election. He says, however, that the purchaser must agree now to pay 4 cents for them if Taft is elected, and that if Bryan is elected he will only have to pay 2 cents per pound. The market price of limas is 4 cents.

James A. Day, a well-known pioneer, is quite ill at his home here.

David Warfield to Speak at Friday Morning Club.

Mr. David Warfield will give an address before the Friday Morning Club Wednesday afternoon, October 21, at 3 o'clock, after which a reception will be given by the club in honor of Mr. Warfield. Members will have the privilege of inviting one guest each.

HEART FAILS.

SWIFT DEATH, SUDDEN SHOCK.

FORMER ANGELENO'S DEMISE IS UNEXPECTED.

With Only One Negative Vote, Taxpayers Indorse Proposition to Issue Bonds for Sewer System. Interscholastic Athletic League Formed—Imperial Valley Notes.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL CENTRO, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Thomas Oliver, aged 72 years, died suddenly of heart failure yesterday morning. He was formerly of Los Angeles, and leaves a son and daughter there, Thomas Oliver and Mrs. Frank Wilson.

ATHLETIC LEAGUE.

The Imperial Valley Interscholastic Athletic League was formed yesterday through the efforts of representatives of various valley schools. The president of the league is Prof. B. C. Nichols, principal of the Central Union High School here; vice-president, Mr. Evans of the Brawley Union High School; secretary, John S. Shepherd, of the Imperial High School; treasurer, Wayne Wilsie, of the Imperial Valley Collegiate Institute, Heber. All grammar schools of the valley which maintain ninth grades are to be allowed to join this league. A schedule of athletic events for the fall and winter will be made by a special committee appointed yesterday.

SCHOOLS ARE GROWING.

Imperial county now has twenty-five school districts and fifty-two teachers. Two new districts are to be formed at the next meeting of the County Board of Supervisors. They will have no school money available from the public funds, but have planned to conduct their institutions at private expense for the present.

VALLEY BRIEFS.

Robert P. Moore of El Centro has been appointed assistant superintendent of the Holton Interurban Railroad and the Holton Power Company.

The Ministerial Union of Imperial Valley has arranged for a lecture and entertainment course to be given during the winter in all of the Imperial Valley towns.

The Board of Supervisors of Imperial county has again postponed action in fixing the water rates for the county until December 7.

El Centro voters indorsed the proposition to issue $40,000 bonds for a sewer system by a vote of 169 to 1.

PASADENA BOY MASQUERADES.

FLOURISHES OFFICER'S STAR AND IS LOCKED UP.

Santa Barbara Police Suspect Him of Being Connected With Alleged Larcenies—Fire Started by Careless Campers Threatens Much Damage—Teachers Meet.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Thomas Borman, aged 18 years, of Pasadena, is in serious trouble here over alleged larcenies of bicycles. For some time wheels have been stolen from various places down town and the police were at their wit's end to locate the thief.

One day last week the proprietors of Miramar, in Montecito, asked the authorities to chase away a youth who claimed to be a Pasadena detective. He flashed a regular Pasadena police badge, numbered two. When the police arrived the youth was gone.

Jeweler Conant's wheel was stolen day before yesterday, and sold to a local dealer. This afternoon a wheel was taken from a local shoe store. Police Capt. Wylie traced the sale of Conant's wheel to a youth who said he lived on Bath street. He arrested R. L. Hamlin, aged 18 years. At the bank where the check for Conant's wheel was cashed, the teller declared Hamlin was the man who cashed it. This afternoon Policeman Howe arrested Borman at a rooming-house. When sweated by Chief Ross, the youth admitted he was masquerading as a Pasadena officer and produced the shield. He was locked up on a charge of larceny and the Pasadena authorities notified. He will have a hearing tomorrow.

BIG BRUSH BLAZE.

Started, probably by the carelessness of campers, a brush fire is raging near Naples tonight, and threatens much damage. It was begun at the Barkley Hasard ranch this morning and is advancing toward Santa Barbara. The country is covered with wild oats, mustard, and sagebrush, which is burning fiercely, and may occasion great damage. Forest rangers, aided by farmers, are battling fiercely against the flames to prevent them reaching a populated area.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

With an attendance of 300, the Santa Barbara County Teachers' Institute opened this morning, and will continue through the week. Dr. Margaret Schallenberger of the San Jose Normal School delivered the principal address on the "Function of the School in Training For Right Conduct."

DEATH ACCIDENTAL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BRAWLEY, Oct. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Deputy Coroner Jennings held an inquest today over the remains of Bayard Hubbard, aged 20 years, a member of the surveying corps of the California Development Company. The young man was killed instantly yesterday afternoon at Rockwood, in the northern part of Imperial Valley, by the discharge from a shotgun striking him in the abdomen as a companion, Roy Van Wagnen, attempted to pull Hubbard out of quicksand.

The verdict of the jury was that death was due to an accidental gunshot wound, with exoneration for Van Wagnen, who had been placed under arrest.

The body will be shipped to Los Angeles tomorrow morning. The parents live at Ocean Park. Hubbard had been in the valley a year, as an employé of the California Development Company.

PENNED.

SNOW HOLDS THEM CAPTIVE.

Many Hundred Cattle Caught in High Valleys.

San Bernardino Stockmen Fear Much Loss.

Roads Through Passes Can't Be Traveled.

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 19.—Many hundred head of stock have been penned in the valleys among the interior sections of the San Bernardino Mountains, and fears are expressed for their safety. Heavy snow mantles the entire region, in many places being from three to four feet in depth, and roads through the passes are in some instances blocked by snow to a depth of six feet.

Two weeks ago the stockmen commenced to get the animals out of these higher valleys, owing to a snowstorm which at that time caused some alarm. Had this not been so, thousands of head would have been caught, and many probably perished.

Cattle drivers started into the mountains from this valley yesterday morning, but were forced to abandon the trip by this route and have been getting in by way of Hesperia and Victorville. It will take them probably three days to push on to where the stock is held captive, and unless the storm which now threatens holds off a few days longer, there seems little likelihood of saving all the cattle.

Word reached here yesterday that the feed has been covered completely, and the cattle have difficulty in finding sufficient forage, but since the cowboy bringing the news left there many of the southern exposed slopes have melted, and a picking can probably thus be obtained.

The temperature has gone below freezing every night for over a week. The country for miles toward Hesperia and the Mojave River section is frozen over, but once the stock reaches Doble, there will be little difficulty in getting them through to the river, provided there is no further snowfall.

A mantle of snow completely covers the crest of the San Bernardino Mountain range. It is four inches in depth at Skyland, and over a foot deep at Bear Valley. The presence of the immense sheet has sent the temperature quite low, but there is no danger to citrus trees or fruit as yet.

LIGHT-HEARTED "LADIES."

Miss Laura Huntington and Miss Ethel Case, two light-hearted Redlands young ladies, came to town day before yesterday, and before they had been here many hours they were painting the old city a bright vermillion. Firewater soon tangled their tongues and legs until they shocked good folks and finally landed behind the walls of the City Hall, where they were detained all night.

The girls are not unknown to fame hereabouts. About a year ago they went on a rampage, broke into the residence of a clergyman of Redlands, got to his wine cellar and were found in an intoxicated condition, clinging to bottles of the holy man's "oh be joyful." They were given County Jail sentences, and their experience was supposed to have straightened them out.

MALE "SCHOOLMARMS."

The San Bernardino County Schoolmasters' Club, regarded by the feminine members of the county school family as a combination of male "schoolmarms" organized for the purpose of grabbing onto all the soft snaps and big salaries in the school circles, met Saturday afternoon and elected the following officers: George M. Green, Colton, president; Principal Andrews, San Bernardino, vice-president; C. H. Covell, Redlands, secretary-treasurer; A. N. Wheellock and A. S. McPherson, Redlands, Executive Committee.

DRINKING HIS MONEY.

Rudolph Ruze, the Bryn Mawr merchant who disappeared two months ago from Redlands with $1200, the proceeds from the sale of his store, was found yesterday by officers at Amboy, on the desert, where he has been for some time drinking up his money. He declares that he will return to Bryn Mawr when his money is gone and start the accumulation of another "whisky stake," as "life is only worth the enjoyment one gets out of it," he says.

WHERE IS GEORGE?

John M. Watson of No. 706 Federal building, Chicago, has written a pathetic letter to the local officers requesting them to assist in the search for his brother, George W. Watson, who has been missing since October, 1903. The closing years of the father and mother are being hastened by sorrow because of the son's disappearance. Watson deserted from Co. K, Thirteenth United States Infantry, five years ago, at San Francisco, and since then has been lost to his relatives. It is believed he was in this city some weeks ago, and may now be employed on one of the ranches near here.

SANTA ANA RALLY.

SANTA ANA, Oct. 19.—Tomorrow will be the biggest day of the campaign for the Republicans of Orange county. Several score county men in automobiles will escort Gov. Gillett, United States Senator Flint, Congressman Smith, Miguel Estudillo, candidate for State Senator; Richard Melrose, candidate for Assembly; Z. B. West, candidate for Superior Judge and Samuel Shortridge of San Francisco.

The automobile-round-the-county trip will commence at 9:45 a.m., at Fullerton, reach Anaheim at 10:45, Orange 11:45, Tustin 1, Huntington Beach, 2:30. At the latter place a barbecue will be served. Gillett and Flint will speak at these points. At 8 o'clock in the evening the Republicans will hold their biggest rally at Spurgeon's Hall here. Samuel Shortridge and Congressman Smith will be the principal speakers.

DISBARMENT PROCEEDINGS.

Bar Association Will Act on Charges Against Attorney Danford Made by Client.

United States District Attorney Lawler refused yesterday to discuss the case of Attorney W. J. Danford, who is accused of queer dealings in connection with the case of a client, Mrs. C. E. Smith. "The matter has been presented to the Grievance Committee of the Bar Association, and there it rests," stated Mr. Lawler. "I am willing to appear as a witness at the proceedings, and tell what I know, but at this time it would be manifestly improper to make any further statement."

It is said that the prosecutor will be Deputy District Attorney North. The disbarment proceedings will be taken up in the customary manner, and the accused will be given every opportunity to vindicate his alleged unprofessional actions.

Danford appeared in the Supreme Court yesterday as counsel in an appealed case, and he states that he has several important cases pending in the Superior Court. His application for admission to practice in the United States Court was turned down upon the recommendation of Mr. Lawler.

FEDERATION MEETING.

The federation of Christian Temperance Unions will hold an all-day meeting tomorrow in South Park Presbyterian Church, at which business will be disposed of in the forenoon, and in the afternoon Miss Gleeson Will, field secretary of the Anti-Saloon League, will speak on "Making the State Dry."

Sunday Pattern Section.

Each subscriber and purchaser of the Sunday Times will hereafter receive a four-page TRANSFER PATTERN SECTION. It is a unique, exclusive, attractive feature of particular interest and value to women. ATTACKS THE AMENDMENT.

The Council Smites Pardee's Pet Tax Scheme.

Attorney Declares the Thing Is Unconstitutional.

"New Thought" Would Cost City Millions.

Proposed constitutional amendment No. 1, exempting certain corporations from payment of city and county taxes, is faring badly in Los Angeles. By a unanimous vote yesterday the City Council passed resolutions condemning the amendment on six counts, as a menace to Los Angeles' municipal interests.

County Assessor Hopkins says that he has read the figures prepared by former Gov. Pardee's "new thought" commission, but he sees nothing in them to change his expressed convictions that the amendment would prove a highly expensive experiment for the taxpayers of Los Angeles.

City Assessor Mallard assisted the Council yesterday in preparing the resolution asking the taxpayers of the city to oppose the new scheme.

Attorney W. I. Foley, one of the well-known lawyers of Southern California, has submitted to The Times a copy of a recent decision of the United States Supreme Court, in which it held that a gross earnings tax on a Texas railroad is unconstitutional. The language of the court is as follows:

"We are of the opinion that the statute levying this tax does amount to an attempt to regulate commerce among the States."

The United States Court has held repeatedly that no State has jurisdiction to regulate commerce among the States and this point alone was considered sufficient to invalidate the statute.

WOULD BE UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

Attorney Foley says that the wording of that statute is almost the exact language used in the proposed amendment. "If the amendment should carry," said Attorney Foley, "it would only mean that as soon as a corporation found the tax unsatisfactory it would decline to pay and would attack the constitutionality of the amendment. The result would be a long-drawn suit and during all the time the State would be in a bad way for tax receipts.

"There is little necessity for discussing the good and bad points of the amendment until it can be shown that it is not in violation of the Constitution of the United States.

"In my opinion, the amendment, as it is drawn, is unconstitutional."

The decision to which Attorney Foley refers is: No. 207, October Terms, 1907. The Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio Railway Company vs. the State of Texas.

The Texas statute is entitled, "An act imposing a tax upon railroad corporations . . . and other persons . . . owning . . . or controlling any line of railroad in this State . . . equal to 1 per cent. of their gross receipts."

It proceeds to impose upon such railroads "an annual tax for 1905 and for each calendar year thereafter equal to 1 per cent. of its gross receipts."

In discussing the merits of the statute the opinion refers to a former decision in a similar case as follows:

"The railroads contend that the case is governed by Philadelphia and Southern Main Steamship Co. vs. Pennsylvania. In this case it was decided that a tax on the gross receipts of a steamship corporation of the State, when such receipts were derived from commerce between the States and with foreign countries, was unconstitutional. We regard this decision as unshaken and as stating the established law."

This decision of the Supreme Court seems to apply directly to the proposed tax on railroads in this State which extend into other States.

Prof. Plehn says that he does not consider that the Texas decision invalidates the gross receipts tax proposed in the proposed California amendment. He says that there is a distinction between the two taxes; the Texas statute was an attempt to tax the gross receipts in addition to local tax on the railroad property. But the language of the opinion of the Supreme Court does not apear to bear out Prof. Plehn's contention.

The Council has been stirred to action by a realization that if the amendment is adopted it will remove about $40,000,000 of corporation property from the city assessment roll and will necessitate an increase in the $1 tax rate limit named in the charter. Prof. Plehn's experts estimate that it will cut off but $35,000,000 while some of the accountants working for the city place the amount at more than $48,000,000.

COUNCIL'S RESOLUTION.

Here is the resolution adopted by the Council yesterday afternoon:

"(1.) The property of corporations would not be subject to assessment by either the city or the county. The individual taxpayers would therefore be compelled to pay the entire cost and expense of both city and county governments. The local tax rate would be correspondingly higher.

"(2.) The city charter provides that the tax rate for general municipal expenses shall not exceed $1 on each $100 valuation. That rate, based upon present valuations, would not yield a sufficient amount to maintain the city government in case of the ratification of said amendment. In order to provide a sufficient amount it would be necessary to make a large increase in the assessed valuation of all property in the city.

"(3.) The corporations would not pay any part of the bonded indebtedness of the city or of the county.

"(4.) They would not pay any portion of the expense of maintaining the city or the county government.

"(5.) By reason of the reduction in the assessed valuation of property within the city, the city's bonding capacity would be reduced, and the credit of the city would be to that extent impaired.

"(6.) That the taxes of the corporations would be lessened, while the taxes of individuals would be greatly increased.

"(7.) That it is proposed by the said amendment to provide for a special class of taxpayers, and to make an unfair and unwarranted distinction between corporate and individual taxpayers."

There is a wide difference of opinion between the assessors and Gov. Pardee's Tax Commission as to whether the amendment will increase the taxes paid by the corporations in the aggregate sufficient to be worth while. Most of the assessors assert that the corporations will escape with less tax than they are paying now.

FROM PROF. PLEHN.

In one of his personal campaign documents Prof. Plehn gives the following details of the alleged increase:

"The amendment proposes to take in round numbers $4,250,000 per annum in taxes, now unjustly imposed, off the owner of real estate, and to add that amount to the taxes of the now undertaxed railroads, including street railways, telegraph and telephone companies, express companies, car companies like the Pullman company, light, heat and power companies and commercial banks. If it goes into effect it will nearly double the taxes of steam railroads, turning into the public treasuries $1,250,000 more from this source than was paid before this reform was proposed. It will treble the taxes of car and express companies, double those of the light, heat and power companies, and raise those of the national banks fivefold. The street-car companies have, in the past, been more heavily taxed than other classes of public-service corporations, because they afforded the local assessors an unusually fine opportunity to advertise their zeal. But under this amendment their taxes will be still further increased, in most cases doubled, and in the most moderate instances raised one seventh."

This statement was evidently issued at a time when Prof. Plehn was unfamiliar with his own figures. To a representative of The Times, last Saturday, Prof. Plehn said:

"The tax on the railroads will not be materially increased. The fact is that the State board took cognizance more than two years ago of what we were doing, and it based its assessment of the railroads on a 4-per-cent. earning basis. This increased the taxes on the railroads very materially, and takes away a part of the showing of increase we could have made but for this use of a part of our plan."

Then how about the $1,250,000 increase?

CITY'S LOSSES ON ELECTRICS.

Property of the Pacific Electric Railway in the city of Los Angeles equal to $5,000,000 will be exempted. This means a loss to the city roll of $82,500. From the county roll $7,500,000 will be taken (these are the figures of Plehn's experts.) This means a loss of $90,000 for the county or a total for the county and for Los Angeles city of $152,000. To this there must be added at least $10,000 for the exemptions in other cities of the county, making a grand total of $162,000. The Pacific Electric Railway, through its Auditor, makes to the city a sworn statement that its receipts for the year ending June 17 were $2,900,000. Its tax on the 4 per cent. basis would be $114,000. The company on this showing would save $48,000 a year.

The experts exempt $6,385,530 of the property of the Los Angeles Railway Company on the county roll and $7,-154,655 on the city roll. The total exemptions in taxes and licenses aggregate $180,000. This company makes a statement of gross receipts amounting to $3,500,000. Its State tax would be $140,000 or a saving to the company of $40,000.

Somewhere the sun must be shining on the corporations with dazzling brilliancy, if they are now taxed so low that the new plan will increase the rate sufficiently to make up for the exemptions there and for the deficits in Los Angeles county, too.

Prof. Plehn is apparently certain that the corporations will pay all the State tax right from the start. But this optimism is not shared by some of the other tax experts even among those favoring the amendment.

The consensus of opinion of those who have followed the course of the campaign for the amendment seems to be that it will be beaten. But its defeat does not mean an abandonment of plans for tax reform. Prof. Plehn has done excellent work in setting the assessors and the taxpayers to studying tax laws. He has exposed interests that are almost wholly escaping taxation. The present proposed amendment is likely to be the forerunner of others that will equalize taxation over the State without requiring the sacrifices of the plain people that appear to be embodied in the provisions of the present plan.

SOME LATE.

IS TWO YEARS REACHING HIM.

WOMAN'S LETTER TO MURDERER FOUND AT LAST.

Prisoner in County Jail Claims Delayed Evidence Would Have Proved His Innocence, and Charges Former Jailer With Holding It Up. Confesses as to Jail Break.

The finding of a letter that has been withheld from him for two years, unsealed the indignant lips of Anton Besold, the convicted wife-murderer, yesterday.

He made some hard charges against the former management of the jail; against a local firm of attorneys; but, on the other hand, naively admitted his share in planning a jailbreak for which he has always had the credit of stopping.

Besold is the German ex-soldier found guilty of murdering the woman found in a lonely cañon near Santa Monica. He was convicted solely by circumstantial evidence, but claims that the letter, tardily delivered to him yesterday, would have proved his innocence.

The letter, he says, was written by a woman named Anna Clark, who lives in San Antonio, Tex., and who wrote that she had important evidence to offer him, tending to show that Claudie Besold had committed suicide.

Besold states that the letter was received in the County Jail about the time he was brought there from Washington, D. C., but was withheld from him by the man who was then jailor, Capt. White.

A few days ago Besold's appeal to the Supreme Court was denied. He is now making preparations for his removal to San Quentin, where he will serve a life sentence. In the course of these preparations, he asked for the articles taken from him in the County Jail when he was searched. Among them, he says, he found the undelivered letter.

Besold also makes the charge against the former jail officials that he was not permitted to employ the attorney he asked for; but was compelled to take one suggested to him by the jailors. He says that he even tried to speak to the lawyer he wanted, when the latter happened one day to be in jail, but was forcibly prevented by the officers.

He declares his willingness to substantiate these charges (which constitute a crime) before the grand jury, and adds that he will take oath before the grand jury as to certain other grave charges relating to some of his attorneys.

Besold made no accusations against the present jailor, Tom Murphy; but made the jailbreak confession to him.

He sought permission to go to a dentist, giving as a reason that some of his teeth had been injured during a fight among the prisoners regarding the jailbreak.

The murderer, Stackpole, says Besold, suggested to him that they break out of jail. He at first agreed, but finally demurred because Stackpole wanted to murder Turnkey Gallagher in the get-away. Gallagher had been kind to the prisoners and Besold says that he refused to take part if Gallagher was to be killed. There was a quarrel and Stackpole struck him in the mouth, injuring two or three of his teeth.

Besold then informed the officers of the contemplated break and it was headed off. On this statement, he was allowed to go to a dentist yesterday.

Upon his return he asked to see a Times reporter, and poured forth his bitter story of woe and reiterated his innocence.

WORK IS HONORABLE.

The Man Who Does His Best Is Sure to Realize the Most Happiness.

When a man goes grudgingly to a task he lacks the spirit that gives vim to his arm and cunning to his hand. Consequently he cannot bring to bear upon it the necessary requisites to completeness or perfection. A work to be successful must be undertaken with interest and desire to bring it to the best conclusion possible. No individual masterpiece of hand or brain has been produced by any one who had not a concentration of all his forces in the work in which he engaged. Phidias, Praxiteles, and Angelo put heart and soul into their statues, and Titian, Raphael, and Rembrandt endowed their canvases with the breathing realism of their own living existence.

It is the same in every field of thought and endeavor. To be truly great at one thing we must devote every energy to it.

The man who imagines that the world owes him a living, that he is its creditor instead of its debtor, and who looks to Providence to solve the bread and butter problem without any effort on his part, takes a twisted view of life, his ideas are distorted, and he never will be able to do much good for himself or his kind.

The man who will not work that he may win sufficiency for his own needs without dependence on the toil of others is, as Charles Mackay says, "a clog upon the wheels of time."

No necessary employment is commonplace and no honest work can be disgraceful. The cobbler is as good as the king in his own place. Boots and shoes are as necessary as statesmanship. If you are a farmer, learn the rotation of your crops and the nature of your soil so that you may obtain the greatest from your labors. No matter what the work is, do it in the spirit of an artist.—[Dr. Madison C. Peters.

Slaughtering Made Humane.

In the slaughter-house at Dunfermline, Scotland, a new instrument for killing has been introduced. The weapon is about a foot in length, barrel is rifled and the muzzle is like the mouth of a bell and is fixed in order to adapt itself to the head of a bullock's head. By the pressure of the opposite end from the muzzle a cartridge may be inserted. The bullock has been firmly drawn into operator places the bell end with the forehead and with a sharp blow a mallet all is over, the beast instantly falling down without a struggle. If the bullet has been properly directed its path should be along the spinal cord, completely severing it. If the instrument has not been well directed death is a little longer in coming, but in any case there is no pain to the animal.
